SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

MENTAL INERTIA

IT IS the fine solid sort of man or woman, who by power or will alone can overcome the various lumps or inertias which habitually cross his or her path, or stand on the highway of life like a common bandit and about out: "Stand up and deliver!"

It matters not what course we may be pursuing in business or among professional callings, we are pretty sure at some time or another to come face to face with this form of sluggishness and drag along for days and days under its strange spell in spite of all the energy we can summon or all the good intentions we can muster to help us out of our difficulty. And when we finally emerge from the torpor, we realize that we have been in the clutches of an inertia that had slowed us down and frightened us until we were not our normal selves.

There is always in such a state as this, the nice critical moment of finding our bearings, breaking the heavy fetters and regaining again our old-time vitality and aggressiveness.

From timidity to boldness is but a short jump, but the man or woman who can make the leap, confident in his or her strength, is certain to land on solid ground, ready to fight the way to victory.

Those dull, blunt and passive persons whose mental faculties function slowly from habit can in a little while by well-directed, persistent effort become forcible, active and energetic.

But when they once set their faces toward an active life of usefulness they must not be persuaded to turn back to the old disuse, or they will never get an inch beyond the boundary line that separates success from failure.

In point of fact, mental inertia is one of the most formidable obstructions and destructive forces with which the world has to reckon. It creeps in upon the mind like a thief in the night. It lures its victims to delightful hopes and dangerous illusions and later taunts them for their lifeless incapacity.

Nor does mental inertia preach what it practices, for in its deplorable way it is ever alert in the pursuit of unsuspecting dupes, and never a moment during the fleeting years of time does it discontinue to de throne and destroy.

THE CHILDREN COME

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

TRUTH moves but slowly, but it moves.

It takes a century of thought before the race a thing approves. That in a moment might be wrought. The hearts of women long ago knew war was wrong and war a show. But men have stilled the mother's groan With horns a little louder blown.

But now I hear another tread. Another generation nears. Truth moves but slowly, but ahead. The world is tired of making tears. We thought us wise, yet into war The sad world blundered as before. With grief again the world is dumb. But there is hope: The children come!

SCHOOL DAYS

Your Last Name

IS IT WASHBURNE?

THE Washburne family, which is one of the finest in New England, traces descent to John Washburne who settled in Duxbury, Mass. in 1631. He was a member of an old English family that derived its name from Washbourne, County Worcester. Washburne gave the name to this family and was the seat of the family until 1882. The earliest mention to one of the name dates from the reign of Edward I when a Walter de Wasseburne was mentioned.

There was an Israel Washburne of this family who served valiantly in the Revolution, a Benjamin Washburne, born in 1816, who was secretary of state, and Israel Washburne, his brother, who was governor of Maine. Cadwallader Colden Washburne was a member of congress, major general in the Civil war and later a prominent flour manufacturer. His brother was Elihu Benjamin Washburne, member of congress, secretary of state and minister to France. He was the only foreign representative who remained in Paris through both the siege and commune period.

LORIE—This is a name of French origin. Adolph E. Borie, born in 1809, was the son of John Borie, a Frenchman. RUFFIN—This name is an old name in North Carolina, and was undoubtedly of French origin. In England the name Rufine was introduced by Dr. James Rufine, a student of Leyden in 1671. He went to England because of his Protestant beliefs after the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. He married Elizabeth Young and founded the Rufine family in Suffolk county, England. The founder of the American Rufine family may have been akin to this family whose name is spelled Rufine in England.

Coins of Ancient Rome

Two hoards of coins were brought to light by an expedition excavating on the site of ancient Karanis, in the Fayoum. Both hoards belong to the period of the Roman empire. One was found in an earthen jar which contained 1,185 well-preserved small coins of the sort known as minimi. They date about the end of the Fourth century, and a large number bear the names of Theodosius and Arcadius. The second hoard was found in the sand under a hole in the floor. It comprises 816 coins in exceptionally fine condition. These are dated in the Second and Third centuries, from Marcus Aurelius to Maximinus.—Family Herald.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says her coal dealer seems to be such a nice man and she is sure every ton he sells contains the full 1,500 pounds.

Sacredness of Work.

All true work is sacred; in all true work, were it but true hand-labor, there is something of divineness. Labor, wide as the earth, has its summit in heaven.—Thomas Carlyle.

Real Failure.

I'm proof against that word "failure." I've seen behind it. The only failure a man ought to fear is failure of cleaving to the purpose he sets to be best.—George Eliot.

Emergency Measures.

Dentist's daughter (anxious to explain presence of young man)—"Oh, Robert, darling, here's father coming. Quick! You'll just have to say you've come to have a tooth out."—Boston Transcript.

Skilled.

A great many girls say "No" at first; but like the photographer, they know how to retouch their negatives.—Cornell Widow.

Pendleton Dahlias Win Prizes.

Pendleton, Or. — Two first prizes were won by dahlias entered by Dan P. Smythe of Pendleton at the Spokane fair, according to information the local sheep man has received. The growing of dahlias is a hobby with him. One of his flowers, a Jersey Mammoth, won first prize for the largest and best individual dahlia. A group of dahlias won first prize for the best floral display made by a grower outside of Spokane.

Vanity Characteristic.

Statues made in Crete some 5,000 years ago show slender waists that ladies at that time very likely wore some sort of corsets. The lure of the slender waist haunted the ancient woman from the Far East to the western shores of Europe. References to corsets are found in the writings of the classic Greeks and Romans.

Combinations of Cards.

The accepted formula used to determine in how many ways a number of playing cards may be arranged is as follows: Multiply together all the numbers used in counting the things; thus, the number of ways than ten cards can be arranged is 1x2x3x4x5x6x7x8x9x10 or 3,628,800.

England's First Laureate.

Although many poets from Chaucer's time are regarded as poets-laureate of England, nevertheless the office of laureate was not legally established until 1619, when the honor was conferred on the great Ben Jonson.

Anticipation Hurts.

Sorrow itself is not so hard to bear as the thoughts of sorrow coming. Airy ghosts that work no harm do terrify us more than men in steel with bloody purpose.—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

Need Not Fear Black Snake.

The bite of the black snake is regarded as poisonous. Actually, the bite of a black snake is not as harmful as a cat scratch, because the black snake has no poison sacks and keeps its teeth a great deal cleaner than a cat keeps its claws.

Explanations.

"Police Raid a House Suspected for Two Years"—Well, if it takes them that long to make up their minds it's no wonder burglars and highwaymen make their getaway with ease.—Buffalo Commercial.

Winners in Life's Battles.

The nerve that never relaxes, the thought that never flinches, the thought that never wanders—these are the masters of victory.—Burke.

The Department of Agriculture says that honey is a vegetable product. The fluid is taken directly from the flowers. The bee adds enzymes which have an effect upon the sugar content of the honey, but the final result is still a vegetable.

Wrigley's Juicy Fruit Chewing Gum makes your food do you more good. Note how it relieves that stuffy feeling after heavy eating. Sweetens the breath, removes food particles from the teeth, gives new vigor to tired nerves. Comes to you fresh, clean and full-flavored.
