Good for the Blood

J. M. Simmons
Fugate, Oregon—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the very best medicine I have ever taken. I got to where I was confined to my bed for six weeks. My blood was bad and my circulation poor. My back hurt and I suffered with pains and aches all over. I was very weak and nervous. I took medicines and doctored but did not improve in health until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time I had taken one bottle I was able to be up and around. I kept on taking it and was soon well and strong. It built up my blood, my nerves were strong, and all the aches and pains disappeared from my back, joints and limbs. Now when I need a tonic or blood medicine, I take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it never fails.—J. M. Simmons, 84 N. Jefferson St.

Wheat Meeting Big Success.
W. J. Spillman, Consulting Director of the Department of Agriculture said that more and better information was presented at the Moro economic conference, February 11-13, than in any other gathering in the United States. Organization of the Eastern Oregon Wheat League was one of the accomplishments of the conference. State inspection officials and the federal supervision service were given a clean bill of health by the farmers, after charges of inefficiency had been made. Every detail of wheat raising, financing, marketing, discounts, cleaning, etc. were taken up.

Motor Cars in France.
According to a statement made by Finance Minister Doumer of France, the number of motor vehicles in use in France in 1924 totaled 572,243. Of these 290,895 were lorries and the remaining 281,348 were passenger cars including 18,890 taxicabs. There were also 24,686 cyclecars, 17,950 sidecars and 1,982 motor-boats in circulation. No statistics for 1925 are yet available but it is estimated that the number of motor conveyances now in use in France is about 600,000.

Big Grain Crops Forecast.
Prospects have seldom been better at the present time of year for big yields of wheat and other grain crops in Oregon and Washington, although much may happen to change conditions between now and harvest time. Wheat in eastern Oregon is in fine condition at present, due to plenty of rain and an open, growing winter.

Like Trading Dollars.
According to government reports the exports of butter from this country for the month of December last totaled 405,423 pounds, while during the same time we imported 159,000 pounds more than we exported.

Growing Seasons Vary
Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri and Indiana have a growing season of from 150 to 180 days. In the New England states the season is from 120 to 160 days long.

Tax on Windows
In early days of England there was a tax on windows and the influence of that restriction shows in the fortress-like architecture of the ancient Tudor castles.

Disgruntled
'I can't tie a bow tie and I can't stick my hair back,' says Prof. Magnum Opus. 'Some times I wonder if I have a right to call myself an educated man.'—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Deplorable Fire Loss
National wealth on farms decreases $20,000,000 through fires alone. Every seven minutes a farm building burns somewhere in the United States.

Hard to Account For
The approximate age of the earth, according to a German scientist, is between 1,100,000 and 1,200,000 years. And we still have growing pains!

Roman Military Roads
It is estimated that there were about 50,000 miles in the entire Roman road system of main or military roads.

WIDENED HEMLINE IS POPULAR; SLEEVES LEND THE MAGIC TOUCH

ARE you going to get a tailored suit this spring or a tailor-made navy blue flannel coat with gray flannel skirt. An emblem worked with gold braid on the breast pocket with brass buttons for the front fastening impart a military air.

Showing Stitched Down Inverted Plaits.

question resolves itself into 'what kind of a suit? Short coat or long? Sheath-fitting skirt or full? To the former query the answer is 'short,' to the latter 'full at the hemline.' There are more ways than one of carrying out fashion's edict that the hemline of the two-piece tailored skirt be full. There is, for instance the circular skirt, which is the very latest whim for the trotteur of cloth. Then there are plaits, 'kick,' box, knife and otherwise with their placement as you please, at the front, sides, back or all around. The point is that fashion insists, no matter the method, fullness there must be to the smart tailored skirt.

What Detachable Sleeves Will Do.
Successful manipulation of stitched-down inverted plaits. The jacket is of ultra-simple styling. Short-coat types similar to this one are stressed throughout the season's modes. Belts or suggestion of a belt as introduced in this youthful coat are very important in the styling of tailored suits, tweed, covert, oxford cloth, kasha and checks large and small enter in the race for supremacy. Novelty cloths are especially promising this season. The latter are often set off with trimmings of solid color. In regard to short coats, wrinkle-length is favored. A vogue is heralded for their wear with contrasting skirts. Answering this smart and youthful mode is a blazer costume consisting of

PAY-NIGHT
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THERE is dancing tonight at the bow'ry. And the boys and the girls will be there. And the girls will be dressed in the best of their best. And the boys will have grease on their hair. There'll be pink lemonade in the arbor. There'll be things you can buy at the stand— Oh, the world's mighty fine on a pay-night. When you've got a week's work in your hand! Oh, the world's mighty fine on a pay-night. And the street will be full of the crowd. For they'll all be in town, walkin' up, walkin' down. And they'll all be so gay and so proud. For the trees by the road are a-blossom. And the grass mighty sweet with the dew— Oh, the world's mighty fine on a pay-night. For then what's a dollar or two?

But what's that I hear at the window. And who's that who rattled the door? Why, the wind's swung around, and the folks they have found That it won't be so fine any more. Oh, the world's mighty fine on a pay-night. But it gits mighty cold in the fall. And when old Mister Wind comes a-howlin' Then you ask what you done with it all! (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

WHO SAID
'No sword bites so fiercely as an evil tongue.'

THE man who uttered these words of the conspicuous Sir Ralph Sidney, one of the queen's favorite courtiers. Sir Phillip had an intimate knowledge of the workings of the life at the court of the queen's monarch, and he remarked, 'No sword bites so fiercely as an evil tongue,' may well be considered a mature reflection on the meteoric rise and fall of so many favorites of the queen. Sir Phillip had seen many rise to power, prominence and favor in court circles, only to be dashed to oblivion by the wagging of some evil tongue. And when this man compared the biting of an evil tongue to a sword, he knew whereof he spoke—for Sir Phillip Sidney was a warrior as well as a man of letters, and it was on the battlefield that he gave his life for his nation and his queen.

Sir Phillip was born in Kent, England, in 1554. Upon completing his education, he was introduced at court and Queen Elizabeth at once took a fancy to him. As a mark of her favor, she sent him as ambassador to Germany. Upon his return he married Frances, daughter of Sir Francis Walsingham, and the same year (1583) the queen admitted him to the peerage. In the year 1585 he went to the Netherlands. In addition to his fame as a courtier and a soldier, Sir Phillip Sidney is known—best, perhaps—as a man of letters. His best known works are 'The Arcadia,' a medley in prose and verse after the prevalent Italian style of the period; 'Astrophel and Stella,' the first important body of sonnets in English; and 'The Defence of Poesy,' published in 1595.—Wayne D. McMurray. (© by George Matthew Adams)

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says we all should have liked to see Mr. Lloyd George represent England at the conference right from the start, but she doesn't see but what Mr. Wells has been a perfectly good substitute. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Good Roads Facts
It needs small effort to persuade the salesman who travels the rural districts in an automobile that an improvement in the highways he traverses would result in greater earnings for himself. More calls per day, lessened repair bills, greater demand due to easier trips, greater demand to the store, all these would swell his sales.
