OUR OPPORTUNITY

Those of our group who are planning on leaving Oregon, Portland in particular, with the thought of a better opportunity for development we would advise them to remain right here, for Portland affords a better opportunity for the industrious, honest, upright colored man than any other place of its size in the country.

The greatest handicap to our progress here is the lack of confidence, co-operation and race patronage. These three things put into practice with good commonsense and directed wisely will make us independent as to race needs and factors that cannot be dispensed with in the nation. This thing of fretting, complaining and pulling up and going elsewhere, will never get us anything save disrespect, loss of confidence and loss of money. We must stop trying to destroy each other, but direct our efforts toward lifting each other up; quit falling out and fussing about the non-essentials.

We must begin to pool our money and open up places of business so that our children, after obtaining an education can find something that is more in keeping with their training. We must stop talking about the white people because they don't always give us a job and talk to them, pointing out the unfairness of discrimination.

If we will heed these suggestions we can improve and make our opportunities a great deal better where we are.

THE CHURCH AND THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Most churches are serious in their objectives, and they are kept very busy with the routine work and special tasks. The problems of the church for the most part are complex. But all of this cannot excuse the church from giving serious attention to the problems of its young people.

This problem can be attacked without thought of what the young folks are in comparison with what they used to be. It is clearly and primarily a question of what is the best program the church can put on and carry on to get and hold its young people and conserve their best interests. An intelligent and impartial study of the life of the young people, their relation to the church, the obligation of the church to them is the first step in the attack upon this problem. A sane, feasible program based on this survey and study is the second step. The faithful execution of the program, making such modifications and adjustments as conditions, experience, and good sense suggest, is the third step.

The church does not wash its hands of this young people's problem by adverse criticism of the youth of today. Conditions always have their causes, and it is the world's experience that a knowledge of causes is necessary to the discovery of the proper remedy.

The home must have its program too. The more castigation of young people indulged in by the church, the less serious the thinking being done. Three things are essential to the salvation of our boys and girls by the church: thought, money, and service.

There are certain unquestionable pleasures which appeal to the youth of today. Worldly agencies have discovered them, taken them over, and capitalized them. The church is asleep on its job. It has permitted these secular agencies to outwit and outdo it. Purely harmless recreations which young people like could be conducted by the church for its youth, and no other institution could do this as well, as decently, and as profitably as the church.

Beginnings of amusements supervised by the church have been made here and there, and the experiments have been extremely satisfying. The church has no larger and more pressing obligation than to plan to interest, entertain, satisfy, hold, and properly develop its young people.

Complaining and criticising will not do it.

BUYING A HALL

The Old Rose club is just one of the many our city can boast of, however, so far, is the only one to our knowledge which has undertaken for its program the acquisition of a hall. Such is badly needed by our group in Portland: a hall owned and controlled by colored people.

One of the greatest reasons why we have not such a piece of property is because of the lack of unity and co-operation and leadership.

Now that this club which numbers amongst its members and leaders some of the best and most thoughtful of our women, has lead out to realize this most needed interprise, we hope that all will help them in every way possible. They will succeed if all of us co-operate with them.

HITTING IN THE PINCHES

The failure of Babe Ruth and Muesel, leading batters of the Yanks base-ball team, to hit in the pinch might well serve as a splendid lesson to our group. The failure of the two and others of the team, to hit in the pinch in the world series was the cause of their defeat at the hands of the Cardinals.

One of the reasons for the poor showing that we are making in the economic and business world, we have no pinch hitters. The reason for that is we are living too fast and extravagantly, and stepping so hard on the gas, that it bodes ill for the pinch hitting of our group along business and other pursuits.

There seems to be a striking out and breaking down of our home life and our society, while the church preaches too much about the golden gates and little about how to live and how to save.

Too many of us are trying to ape the habits of the rich with our modest wages and salaries. We too often out dress and out entertain those who pay us our meagre salaries instead of trying to accumulate, co-operate and establish places of business like other races of people do.

We spend too much of our time and means in having a "good time". No race of people on God's green earth talks more about race pride and complains more about discrimination and other injustices of the whites, yet does less to show that pride and to prevent the injustices complained of, than our own.

In our mad and feverish efforts to keep up with the other fellow and make ourselves appear what we are not, many will resort to all kind of schemes to keep in "society" or run with the "bunch."

What is worse sometimes our batters knock the old ball for a home run, the ball is tossed to a player of the other team and our man is called out. And all of our efforts go for naught.

We as a race must get back to earth once more; stop striking out in the pinches and slow down on the gas. We must unite our forces and direct our efforts toward improvement of our social, economic and political life. We must learn to hit in the pinches.

CANDIDATES QUIZZED

The Advocate heartily endorses the advice of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that all colored voters of the country, interview their respective candidates for United States Senator as well as for Representatives in Congress, as to their stand on the Dyer-McKinley anti-lynching bill, segregation of the races in government employ in Washington, jim-crow cars and the disfranchisement of colored people in the south. If they favor, and will work for equal rights for all citizens, for the enactment of laws which will give all the protection in the enjoyment of their rights, they are the men to support. It is better not to vote at all than to vote for any other kind.

On the November ballot will appear a measure to repeal Section 35 of Article 1 of the constitution of Oregon which takes away citizenship rights of free Negroes if it were not for its abrogation by the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. It is merely to dispose of a dead horse that the people are asked to vote for this measure.

We urge Portland ministry especially to make plain the meaning of this measure to their congregations and advise them to do their christian duty and vote for the passage of this measure.

St. Olivet Baptist church, will within a few days launch a great drive to clear itself of indebtedness. The progressive pastor, Rev. E. C. Dyer is back from a well earned vacation and fresh for the big jobbed mapped out. The Advocate will try to do its bit towards helping this fine church and membership and friends reach their goal and we hope all other organizations and individuals will do likewise. It is a deserving institution which plays an important part in our civic and religious life.

POLITICAL FREEDOM

"I do not want the colored people to be entirely of one party. I wish that both the tradition of the solid Democratic South and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up. Neither political sectionalism nor any system of rigid grouping of the people, will, in the long run, prosper our country. I want to see the time come when black men will regard themselves as full partakers of the benefits and duties of American citizenship; when they will vote for democratic candidates; when they prefer the democratic policy on tariff, taxation or foreign relations, or whatnot; and when they will vote the Republican ticket for like reasons. We cannot go on as we have gone on for more than half a century." —From speech of the late Pres. Harding, 1921.

The colored voters will find it to their advantage political and civic, when they in a practical way realize the great truth of this utterance of our late president. When we do this, we will find that we will be sought after by both parties and that we will gain greater political recognition for our race.

MAN'S LEG COLLAPSES BRINGS SUIT FOR $10000

Charlotte, N. C. Oct. 14—His leg broken, Ward Edwards, of the Greenville section, lived, worked and walked around for three years without knowing his injury, discovering the condition only when his leg suddenly collapsed one day, according to preliminary papers in a suit for $10,000 against the City of Charlotte, which were filed Tuesday by Edwards in the Mecklenburg Superior court.

Edwards will tell the jury, J. Cliff Newell, his attorney said, that four years ago he was laying sewer pipe for the city in a deep ditch, when the walls caved in on him. He was rescued and, while continuing to suffer to some extent, was able to go to work again in a few days. Last February, it was said, Edwards was crossing Independence Square and stepped aside to let a white woman pass. He fell down and was unable to rise, his leg being broken above the knee.

It was said, investigation revealed, it is said, that the bone had long been broken and had been held together by a thin splinter of bone. Between the broken ends was a pad of cartilage, supposed to have grown there owing to the bone not having been set. He was given medical attention, it was said and has a chance that his leg eventually will regain its strength.

NEGRO MADE FOOTBALL CAPTAIN OF BATES COLLEGE
New York, N. Y. Oct. 14—To a Negro football star, Charles R. Ray, who weighs only 150 pounds has gone the distinction of being the first colored man ever elected as Captain of the Bates College football team. For two years Mr. Ray has been chosen unanimously to the "al-Maine" college football team. He is a versatile player being starred not only for kicking but for forward passing and carrying the ball. Ray is popular in college, playing center field on the college baseball team. He came to Bates college from West Chester, Pa.

Other Negroes who have been football stars at American colleges include: William H. Lewis of Amherst and Harvard; Drew of Amherst; Matthews and Mashal of Harvard; Pollard of Brown, and Robeson of Rutgers.

Mrs. John Jones has gone to Pasadena to bring back her children who have been visiting their grand mother.

REFLECTING CURRENT PARIS STYLES
Paris uses one fabric this season as successfully as she combines two materials. To the smartness of the kinetic silhouette she adds dainty pockets, in the model to the left. The collar is cut in one with the tie-strings and attached to the edge of the neck in back. The front of the dress is in two sections, the lower featuring the circular effect. Sleeves are one-piece and close-fitting. Medium size requires 3 1/4 yards 40-inch material.

Paris clings to kasha as one of the most effective mediums for expressing the chic of sports frocks. To the right is a two-piece model with blouse featuring a U-shaped front. A turn-down collar trims the vestee, and the four-in-hand is of dotted silk. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch material, with 1 1/2 yard lining for the underbody to which the skirt is attached.

First Model: Pictorial Review Printed Pattern No. 3356. Sizes, 14 to 18 years and 34 to 42 bust, 45 cents.
Second Model: Printed Pattern No. 3377. Sizes, 14 to 18 years and 34 to 44 bust, 45 cents.
