O.S.C. Co-ed Debaters Argue That Science Is Aid to Faith in God

gon State college debaters.

The moot question of science and religion which has enlivened discussions in all manner of groups from the "hot-stove council" to state legislatures and high courts, has now come in for consideration by college co-ed debaters.

Arguing the negative of the question, "Resolved, that modern cience tends to destroy theistic faith," two members of the Oregon State college co-ed debate squad have just invaded California and met teams there from the College of the Pacific at Stockton, University of California at Berkeley and Mills college at Oakland.

Mamie Erickson of Bend, and Opal Smith of Monmouth are the two Oregon girls who maintain that science and faith in God are not in conflict but actually helpful one to the other. Science without faith, they say, obviously would become a curse, but science dominated by the spirit of religion is the key to progress and the hope of the future.

The Oregon team quoted Mi-chael Pupin, the noted physicist as saying, "My beliefs as a scientist do not contradict a single element of the religious beliefs which my mother and the people of her na-tive village held when I was a boy. Science has simply brought me to a higher, broader view of the Creator. Wherever science has explored the universe, the Oregon girls said, it has found unchangeable order and law. This, they said, leaves no escape from the conclusion that back of everything there is a definite guiding principle. Either this law and order is the result of haphazard happenings or it is the re-sult of divine intelligence. The Mamie Erickson, Bend, (above) most distinguished scientists them-and Opal Smith, Monmouth, Ore- selves accept the latter as far more

Little Rock, Ark., April 4-ANPthe fleetness of foot of Edward Barnes proved his own undoing here Saturday night when in the attempt to escape from Detective Sergeant Davenport, Edwkard over-ran himself and overtook the officer.

Edward, a 19-year-old youuth, had been sent to the Boys Industrial School two years ago for robbing some forty families. Recently he was paroled from the reform school and returned to his old haunts. Saturday night a womean called the police station and advised them "that a man Is why, no doubt many did not send was trying to break into a house" out

The above is really significant as far as the thing goes: It is indicating very forceful and interesting speaker to the women of the United States and is much sought after by college that Mr. Bok thinks that the apostle of do nothingism is good enough for the women. Such doctrines as he people at their meeting at Temple preaches are fatal to the growth of any one's mind, or to progress, just as you may choose to put it. Nothing that he did during his term of leadership of the Nation, reacted to the benefit of the people. It was always in favor of the predatory interests. And now his theories are to be inflicted on the women of the country. This gives the liberals another influence to conteract. "Get the women' is one of the slogans of the exploiters of our national life. Remember how the public utilities corporations "Got" the General Federation of Women
