Economic Boosters

The Advocate takes the liberty to warn our group against believing or boasting that our people are better off economically than they really are.

We have far to go, we have much to do. That we have done well, goes without saying. To have exaggerated ideas of what we have done is very dangerous.

Congressman Oscar DePriest spoke in Knoxville, Tennessee two weeks ago, and pleaded for political recognition, civil rights and economic justice.

The Advocate congratulates Bethel A. M. E. church upon its recent success in raising enough funds to pay off the indebtedness on the church.

Edward H. Wright, prominent Chicago politician, has made a fool of himself by his uncalled for attack on Congressman DePriest.

As usual about this time of the year in most of our fraternal organizations, fights are being staged among the members for some office in which pay is involved or a bit of empty honor.

The Rioting Garveyites

The bloody spectacle staged Sunday afternoon at Liberty Hall by the frenzied followers of Marcus Garvey reveals the danger of misdirected mass movements.

The Advocate congratulates both Dr. Moton for deserving and Harvard University for conferring his honorary degree.

At Brooklyn, Ill. last week the Elks held a monster state association annual meeting. Peace and harmony prevailed until the time for election of officers and endorsements of the grand officers for reelection, namely G. E. R., grand treasurer.

Leave It to the Youth

The colored Boy Scouts in Philadelphia are possessed of more race pride than many of the older ones of our group. The boys demonstrated that fact when their white comrades attempted to segregate them in their annual camping outing.
