SOUTHERNERS WOULD TAR COLORED AUTHOR LYNCHINGS FIGURES SHOW DECIDED DECREASE

WALTER WHITE'S 'ROPE & FAGGOT' DRAWS IRE

MAGAZINE ASSAILED FOR FAVOURABLE REVIEW

New York, July 12.—Following the publication by Time, The Weekly News-magazine of a lengthy and favorable review of Walter White's study of lynching, "Rope and Faggot: A Biography of Judge Lynch," a number of denunciatory letters to the editors have been received from Southern whites, several of them being published in the July 8 issue of Time.

One Robert E. Lee of Greenville, S. C. declares that "if anyone ever needed a coat of tar and feathers its the author of 'Judge Lynch'." Eldon O. Haldane of Atlanta, Ga., brazenly defends lynching, declaring that "the well-balanced Southerner hopes that lynching of Negroes will increase rather than decrease, that Cracker fiendishness and cruelty... will never diminish, that persecution, prosection and fury against the Negro will prevail until their numbers are eliminated or substantially reduced, and preferably exterminated." This writer goes in to urge Congressional legislation against the Negro and declares that "down here we don't care if all the Negroes are lynched, or even burned or slit open with knives."

In a reply to the threats made because of his expose of lynching Walter White pointed out in a letter to Time that such reactions as those of Messrs. Lee and Haldane proved one of the main contentions of "Rope and Faggot" as to the inherent lawlessness which lynching has engendered. Mr. White also requested those who are eager to give him a coat of tar and feathers that they wait until cooler weather. "tar being so sticky and messy."

SINGS FOR MILLIONAIRES

Thomas Johnson, tenor, of Boston, has been engaged to sing at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church of Falmouth, Mass., during July and August. St. Barnabas is known as "the millionaires church" because of the large number of wealthy folk who worship there. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. He plans to continue his studies in Europe this fall.

The fact that I was a woman and he a man in no way prevented him from driving the hardest possible bargain in his attempt to get all that I might have to give for the least possible amount of expenditure. Nor did the fact that he was paying for an expensive dinner flatter me beyond the assurance that he did consider my services worth bargaining for. A hasty glance at my watch! Too late now for the 12 o'clock train! Well, only one thing was essential—namely, that I be in my studio at the college at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning! Finally, the last threads of the discussion being com-

Fifty-One Branches Pay Apportionment In Full.

New York, July 12.—Fifty-one Branches of the N.A.A.C.P. have paid their apportionments in full and contributions to the N.A.A.C.P. 20th Anniversary Fund for $200,000 have totaled $23,000, it was learned here today. Most of the Branches whose reports have been made are located in smaller communities and the results thus far observed indicate a nation-wide response to the appeal of the Association for greater support in its work. It is believed that when results from the large towns and cities are received, the N.A.A.C.P. will be enabled to expand its activities which in turn will profoundly affect the lot of the Negro in the United States.

White and Colored Join In Showering Honors on Happy Couple

By Mrs. E. D. Cannady.

Tall baskets filled with white lilies, blue delphiniums and pink gladioli, arranged against a background of palms, formed the sacred altar in First Methodist Episcopal Church at Salem, Oregon, Sunday where Miss El Rae Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maxwell of Salem, and Ulysses S. Griggs of Los Angeles, California, were united in holy wedlock. Others in the wedding ceremony were Miss LaVada, maid of honor; Misses Maxine and Chrystalee, bridesmaids and Jeanette, flower girl, all sisters of the bride; Messrs. Earl Morrison, best man and Yancy J. Franklin and Otto Rutherford, ushers.

The ceremony was performed by the light that shone from a score or more of white candles arranged amid the profusion of flowers. These were lit by the ushers just before the bride entered.

The bride was lovely in a chic wedding gown with long sleeves, trimmed with ruffles of georgette crepe, striking with its short even hemline. Her white tulle veil, bordered with dainty lace, was held in place with an elaborate head dress of pearls. White pumps matched the attire. A dainty seed pearl necklace, a Christmas gift, a brilliant white jeweled bracelet, the wedding gift both from her husband and her engagement ring were the only jewels that she wore. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, orange blossoms and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, LaVada Maxwell, wore a gorgeous creation of peach taffeta with pumps and hat to match. Peach horsehair braid was used for the hat which was trimmed in a deeper shade of velvet ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Little Miss Jeanette, the flower girl wore a simple little dress of dainty pink gorette crepe and carried a basket of rose petals which she strew in the bride's pathway.

The bride's maids, Misses Maxine and Chrystalee had orchid chiffon over orchid crepe de chine frocks made alike with picture hats of orchid horsehair braid, trimmed in the same color velvet ribbon. Orchid slippers matched the attire and both carried arm bouquets of sweet peas and roses.

Miss Miller, white, played the wedding music; The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Miss Alberta Mayo of Portland, with Miss Miller at the organ, sang "I Love Thee", Greig and "A Wedding Song", Rosa. Miss Mayo wore a gown of blue organdy print, piped with orange apricot satin with a great satin bow.

Portland Misses Give A Successful Benefit

Avia and Maude Booker, the talented daughters of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Booker, who are visiting their grand parents at Yakima, gave a recital there last week—the funds from which were used on the local church indebtedness. Over $12 was taken in as door receipts, with an admission of 25c, which means they had a real representative audience considering the few people at Yakima. Avia gave several dialect readings. Maude sang, and the two gave an original dialogue among the other numbers on the program. They were very heartily received and are considered very brilliant little misses.

SEES DANGER IN THROTTLING OF FREE SPEECH

THINKS LOVERS OUGHT TO OPPOSE EXPERIMENTING ON THE MOON.

I guess I'll have to be careful about what I say in this column on the subject of judges hereafter. I'll be sent to jail for contempt of court. I notice in last Thursday's Oregonian an account of a Cleveland judge sending two editors to jail because they criticized an injunction issued by him in their paper—the Cleveland Press—as "monstrous and ridiculous." Now here is the funny part of the proceeding: The judge against whom the criticism was written, tried the men, over-ruled the case, and pronounced sentence. I suppose that may be a legal proceeding, but to my feminine judgment, it smacks strongly of a perversion of justice for the man whose nose is bloodied to sit on the judges' bench and try the case. Another thing, what about the constitutional right of "free speech, free press," etc.? Looks to me as if the statement that the judges of this country own the country is about true.

Well! well! So the Republican ladies have organized! Politics in Oregon is beginning to warm up. But before they do much blowing of the political camp fire, I want those nice ladies to answer
