A FINE NEW HOME

One of the most attractive and modern homes to be found in the city among colored people, and the equal of many of the rich of the white race, is the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson, located on a corner lot, at 795 E. 9th St., North.

A recent visitor to Portland remarked that the colored people in Portland had fewer businesses than any other place of its size that he had visited in the country.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING NEEDED

Much of the feeling between the races could be avoided if there was just a little more understanding between them. This has been put in such an appropriate way by Editor Dabney of the Cincinnati Union, that it compels reproduction:

Let us remember, that while justice loving white citizens are trying to lessen the prejudice against colored people, justice loving colored people should be trying to lessen the prejudice against white people.

Some of us make a specialty of abusing everything "white," while at the same time benefitting by the bounty of those we condemn. Let us remember, that the white people here can at present get on very nicely without us, but that we cannot get on nicely without them.

Let us learn to think more and talk less.

DE PRIEST PRAISES DEMOCRAT MAYOR

Oscar DePriest, the only colored man in the United States Congress is a Republican but not a narrow minded one. He is broad enough to recognize our friends in the Democratic party. Mr. DePriest recently delivered an address in Zoston to more than five hundred people in which he congratulated the Democratic Mayor as being a true American.

Wilbur Henderson, a well known attorney, has entered the race for Republican party's nomination for District Attorney.

Judge J. U. Campbell, of Oregon City, has made it known that he is a candidate for a seat in the State Supreme Court bench.

Judge Woodley who was appointed Judge of the District Court by Governor Patterson is a candidate for election. A prominent attorney by the name of Scott is his opponent.

Bert Haney, one of the most prominent Democrats in the State is ours for his party's nomination for Governor.

Floyd Cook, according to newspaper reports, has been appointed to manage Henry L. Corbett's campaign for governor outside of the city. Cook formerly resided in Southern Oregon and is well and favorably known and will no doubt be of great help to Mr. Corbett's chances for nomination.
