A DIVIDED CAPE
A child's coat, to be correct, must hit a sort of golden mean. It must be simple without being insipid, and smart without seeming to strain for an effect. Good taste, which is merely a sense of appropriateness, demands that it follow easy, natural lines. The model above is really very charming. It adheres to straight lines, a simply tailored notch collar, slot pockets and turn-back cuffs—and then proceeds to introduce a jaunty cape, split in back for the sake of freedom as well as smartness. This would be excellent in flannel in dark or pastel shades, a basket-weave, or in a crepe woolen.

EUROPEAN TOUR MORE THRILLING THAN WEDDING CELEBRATION

By WILLIAM PICKENS (By Courtesy of ANP)

With a few of Mrs. Pickens' numerous friends in New York I was just planning a "Silver Wedding" for August 10, 1930, when we shall have been married twenty-five years. I was thinking that would be one good way of hinting to younger folk how long the thing can last. No bells rang when we got married, twenty-five years ago; but after a real woman manages to stay married to the most ordinary man a quarter century, I think the bells ought to ring. If I were in the legislature, I would try to get a law passed forbidding any wedding celebrations or demonstrations until after the people had STAYED MARRIED for the first twenty-five years. At least such a law would save a lot of money on wedding expenses. If the couples could not have their best man and bridesmaids, their wedding cakes and big "blow-out" until they reached the 25th anniversary, perhaps more of them would stay married that long—for the sake of having the celebration.

At any rate, now the friends in New York, and those whom we had contacted in other parts of the country, will have to call off the beautiful conspiracy in which we were uniting; for Mrs. Pickens, unaware of our designs against her, has fastened her heart on one of the POCONO STUDENT TOURS, under the auspices of Pocono Peoples College and the American University in Europe. This is somewhat more extensive, and more exciting, than a wedding march—and she would always choose "the better part." On this trip Miss Harriet, who graduated from Smith college June 16, will have the enviable privilege of her mother's companionship.

They leave New York City July 26, and will return in the latter part of October. After landing at Liverpool, they will "do" England; then sailing on via Kiel Canal, Germany, they will visit Finland, Lapland, camping and tenting and meeting European student groups, and visiting the cities of Helsingfors, Copenhagen and Christianborg. They will see Hamlet's grave, afterwards sailing to Sweden.

Returning via Copenhagen, they will "do" Berlin—Where I hope they will meet Helga Kalisch—a little five-year-old of Germany, who, so far as I am concerned, is more important than Potsdam.

Leaving Helga, they will see other cities in Germany, and the "Passion Play" at Oberammergau, and then stop

THE BACKLESS SLIP

The season's fitted gowns and low décolletages demand undergarments that will not make themselves obvious under molded lines or peep out distastefully at the shoulders or in back. This delightful slip was designed with all the problems of the new silhouette in mind. A dart-fitted waistline and a gently flared skirt provide an excellent foundation for the tighter waists and fuller skirts and, most important of all, the slip is cut down to the waistline in back and supported by the slenderest of straps—truly perfect for all occasions from tennis to dancing.

PAINFUL CORNS Loosen—Lift Out

A little known Japanese herb, the discovery of an eminent German scientist (Dr. Stickel) instantly soothes the corn, then loosens it so that shortly you can lift it right out. This new discovery called "Corn Fly" excites the white blood corpuscles to action and granulates the corn at its root. "Corn Fly" for corns, 35¢. "Corn Fly Foot Bath Powder" 25¢, and "Corn Fly Bunion Remedy" 50¢, are sold under a positive money-back guarantee by Hi-Gene Co., Newark, N. J., or local druggist.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

In Austria at beautiful Innsbruck. Leaving, they will see Munich, and Switzerland and its Alps. Then on to PARIS—and after Paris it is always time to quit, so they will go to Boulogne and sail for home.

There are other Pocono Student Tours, leaving at other dates earlier and later than this date, and it is hoped that other colored Americans will join Mrs. Pickens and Harriet on this trip or take places in some of the other trips.

Meanwhile, we'll just put that "Silver Wedding" off until the "Golden Wedding." The first twenty-five years usually insures the second 25.

How to become BEAUTIFUL

Any girl can keep her complexion beautiful by regularly using Dr. Fred Palmer's Skin Whitener Ointment.
