TO END COMMUNISM

The committee of congressmen, headed by Congressman Fish, created to investigate and dig into communism in the United States, found out that communism is a cobra-headed monster; that its poisonous venom is spreading and unless it is checked it will destroy free and independent America.

Because of these findings the Fish committee recommends drastic action, to-wit: refuse to recognize communist party as a legitimate political party, deport all communists, prohibit all printed matter favorable to communism. All of which is not worth the paper it is written on.

If the spirit of communism is growing in America, and we believe it is, it is because of the reckless disregard which the ruling class has for the rights of the average citizen. With the general rise of intelligence in America, the bait which once lured the unthinking workers into the trap of the dominating group will fail.

The starving multitudes in the "richest" and "grandest" country in the world take no pleasure and receive no comfort from big buildings, towering palaces and giant mergers. They have a right to expect a square deal. And if the present form of government is unable to give them bread they will turn to something else—even communism. And all the forces of the world will not be able to stop it.

If communism is dangerous, and the Fish committee thinks it is, the way to stop it is not by drastic prohibitory laws, but by an intelligent and fair distribution of profits. When men are hungry and have nowhere to lay their heads they seek change. When suffering becomes general and widespread, men become more interested in bread than they do in forms of government.

To end the communistic movement in America, make that others satisfied by giving them justice.—Ex.

Grants Pass, Ore., has more telephones than all of Paraguay.

It was with regret that business people throughout the nation learned of the failure of the Binga Bank at Chicago, and following closely this comes the sad news that Mr. Binga, its president, is being held in jail charged with embezzling the institution of more than $300,000. It will be a long time before the common people whose small savings were lost will be able to overcome the loss, not only from an economic standpoint but also of faith and confidence in their fellowmen.

Business men are of the opinion that dull times are here to stay a while. It behooves all, especially poor people, to save their small earnings, for the end is not yet.

Were all the Bell telephone employees in the United States to be gathered together they would make two cities as large as Portland, Ore., and San Diego, Cal.

We are not quite a metropolitan daily and so do not have the time and staff to handle all of the news. We have to ask our friends to allow for omissions. The mechanical side of a paper is hardly ever seen by those who ask the most of us.

A motor truck so big that it carries two drivers who have to be connected with one another by telephone is in operation in England.

The Advocate succeeded in placing three persons at work this week. Two for general housework and one cooking.

As unemployment is with us and so obvious, a great deal of editorial matter necessarily deals with it. Until it is solved that will be the condition of things. Though we do not venture the solution, we will state that soup lines, road labor, etc., do NOT solve it.

One good point for our law system is that it makes a criminal out of both the rich and the poor if they sleep out under bridges and in empty buildings. We did not learn that in law school, but a writer, pretty well known, Anatole France, discovered it quite a while ago.

We man not understand all of the workings of the gubernatorial mind, but a lopping of almost a third of the education appropriation seems to us to have been unwise. The whole role of the living generation is to give culture and advancement to the younger. Our whole intricate lives are built up on the framework of improving things for the children. That is the only and final aim we have in living.

Beginning Sunday, Dr. Caston will deliver "The Sermon on the Mount" in six divisions, continuing through next week. The following week there will be Holy Week service, which will close on Easter.

The Olivet Fellowship was entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Geo. Payne.

The Olivet Sewing Circle met with Mrs. Elsie Maney Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Duke entertained the Searchlight Club at their home in Mt. Taber Thursday evening. The tea given by the Searchlight on St. Patrick's Day was a success.

The decorating of the upstairs part of the church is finished. Looks nice. Two attractive and impressive additions in the rostrum are: On the right a pulpit stand with an open Bible and a soft colored light. On the left is a table which will be decorated with flowers from Sunday to Sunday, by members of the church in honor of some loved one who has passed on to the Great Beyond.

There will be a dedication service of the newly renovated building some time after Easter.

The president of the B. Y. P. U., Geraldine Williams, will be in charge Sunday. She has planned a very novel way to conduct the meeting, which will be very impressive. Young people, the meeting is yours. Will you come and make it better if it can be done? Don't forget, 6:45 p. m.

The YOUNGER SET

(By GENEVA IVEY)

The opening of the Tom Thumb golf course was quite a success Saturday. Rosalie Byrd officiated at the club house.

The young people turned out en masse at the hard times dance, Saturday night. Everyone spent a delightful evening alternating dancing and golfing on the Tom Thumb golf course. Judging by the costumes, one would believe that times were indeed hard.

Estelle Patterson entertained a large number of the young people at her home Sunday night. Just a social gathering to pass away the evening.

Ivan Cannady is enjoying the remnants of his brother's car—what there is left of it. George doesn't need it, anyway. He seems to have gone in hiding for the rest of the spring—working hard.

The Triangle club has turned its regular meeting days over to practicing for the all-city high school's play, "The Mystic Flower."

The G. A. A. club wants to remind everybody that the "Merrikannas" are putting on a dance. Handbills are being distributed about the city giving date, place, music, time and admission charge.

Hand your notes in early and avoid the last-minute rush.

George Cannady won second prize in a singing contest at the Paramount theatre last Saturday night. Three prizes were awarded: First, $10; second, $5; third, $2.50. George says he was nosed out for the first by a pretty girl. But he doesn't mind that. Looks like we're to have another Paul Robeson, eh?

Master Frank Thomas arrived in the city Sunday from Woodburn and will stay with his father, O. S. Thomas.

Miss Cora Franklin has issued pretty hand-painted invitations to a birthday party at her home Saturday night, March 28.

Merriman Maxwell has moved to Portland and is making his home with the Franklin family.

Mrs. Alice Jamison of 1190 Holgate street sponsored a birthday party honoring Mrs. Shelby Golden last Monday.

Mrs. Vicie Simms, of 824 East Pine street, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bird and daughter and Guy Holmes were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Bird's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Slaughter.

A large number of guests called to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carr upon their new home in Montavilla, when Mrs. Winnie Davis, Mr. Carr's mother, sponsored open house for them. Many gave the couple gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Carr are among Portland's most progressive young folk and their friends are happy to see them progress.

Spokane Happ'nings

(By E. H. HOLMES) SPOKANE, WASHINGTON East 2208, So. Crescent Avenue

SPOKANE, Wash.—Much needed rain prevails in Eastern Washington.

The ladies of the Missionary Society A. M. E. Church will serve luncheon all day March 20.

U. S. Senator C. C. Dill, well known for his consistent friendship to the race, returned from Washington, D. C., last Monday night and was welcomed home by all classes.

Ralph Hendricks and Arthur Burch, incumbents, were re-elected city commissioners in last Tuesday's election. A bond issue of $500,000 to build a city auditorium was overwhelmingly defeated.

A. Brothwaite, of Calgary, in the employ of the Canadian Pacific, was in the city last week visiting his family. Brothwaite said it had been reported that sleeping car service between Spokane and Calgary will be resumed June 1.

E. H. Holmes is recovering from an attack of sciatic rheumatism.

Rumor reaches Spokane that the Union Pacific will take off its division superintendents' cars May 1. First the Milwaukee, then the Great Northern, next the Union Pacific, leaving only the Northern Pacific with its division superintendents' cars that has afforded continuous employment to race men for more than a generation.

The jointist charge against Jim Young went to trial last Wednesday in Judge R.U. Webster's court.

Attorney Harry Rosenhaupt went to Olympia last Tuesday night to argue the appeal of Walter Delaney in the supreme court Wednesday, March 11.

Elder Allen, of the A. M. E. church, preached for the White Methodist Episcopal church of Hillyard last Sunday night.

The dinner put on by the Calvary Baptist church to celebrate its 40th anniversary last week was entirely successful.

The Hotel De Gink, that has furnished food and lodging for hundreds of unemployed men, many of them race men, will close April 1.

Tommy Hines is recovering from a touch of flu.

Mrs. G. S. Allen has been indisposed, suffering with an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. Ed Hood, Mrs. Geo. Parker and Sybil Stafford reported ill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davenport have christened their little son, a recent acquisition to the family, John Davenport, Jr., after his father.

The state legislature closed last Wednesday and by the end of the week several of Spokane's residents will be back home.

We trust that the little excursion to the coast has proved beneficial to the boys, physically as well as financially.
