

Male Impersonator

Miss Lillyn "Elbrown" Brown, one of the few successful male impersonators on the stage today. She is to be seen with the Thomas Quintette which plays regularly on the R. K. O. Circuit. Despite the fact that Miss Brown fits very well into male roles on the stage she has a striking feminine beauty all her own and could quite charmingly play the heroine as well as the villain. And she has plenty of "it" too.

Gruesome Revenge of the Rich "Bull-Frog Catcher" word was good. But as far as Poindexter penetrated the swamp, he avoided the place where he had dropped Hugh Harber with a bullet.

He hated Eben Harber, but money has a powerful effect on some men. Therefore, when Eben put in an appearance at his cabin and told him he had caught the frog and had it in the swamp, and expressed a desire to have him go along and see it, he without hesitation, consented. He envied the other man but just the same he was anxious to see the giant frog.

"It's the biggest in the world," Eben announced, "and it'll make me a rich and famous man."

They entered the swamp together. It was dark, with no stars shining overhead; and Eben led Poindexter straight to the spot where he had found his son's body.

"Here's where the giant frog is," he declared. "Look. See hit thar on the ground? Right thar . . ."

Poindexter was nervous already, his limbs shook, his hands trembled. A shudder ran through him. Something beat at his brain. He peered closer.

"Do you see what I—what I see?" he croaked, his voice hoarse and heavy. "Do you see—"

"I see the frog I caught this afternoon in that thar chicken coop," Eben told him calmly. "Nothin' else."

Closer than ever Poindexter bent to the soggy ground.

"That—thar ain't no coop thar. Thar ain't no coop nor no frog—"

He choked. Then: "Hit's—"

He stopped short.

The darkness closed in on them, inky black, impenetrable. Eben's flashlight made a white circle, and in this showed the dark bulk against the earth.

Suddenly Poindexter let out a screech. "Hit's him! hit's him!" he cried. "I thought they had moved him. Hit's Hugh!" Then wilder than ever before: "I done hit! I done hit! I killed him—"

He fled screaming through the slush and over the rotten snags as fast as he could run. But he fell and Eben caught up with him.

"You done hit," he exclaimed. "I wanted to make shore. Now you're goin' t' swing."

Later on, Eben Harber returned to the swamp and removed the scarecrow he had borrowed from a neighbor's cornfield.

Needs a Vacation

The Good Hardware Magazine tells of a tramp who claimed to have the easiest job in the city.

"You know the fellow that goes along-side the train and taps the axles to see if everything's all right?" he queried. "Well, I help him listen."

COFFEE COOKIES

Cookies and tarts are always nice to have in the pantry for a snack between meals or for an emergency dessert. Here are two recipes using coffee as a flavoring which are quickly made and are most delicious.

Coffee Tarts

1 cup coffee

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup butter
½ cup walnuts
½ cup raisins

Cream the butter and sugar, add the eggs well beaten, the coffee, chopped walnuts and raisins. Line tart tins with pastry, fill with the mixture and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) for 45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream on top, using ½ cup of strained coffee mixed in the cream.

Mocha Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
½ cup coffee
4½ cups flour
2 eggs
2 teaspoons soda
3 teaspoons cinnamon
1½ teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar. Add well-beaten eggs, and coffee mixed with soda and molasses. Sift all spices with flour and add to mixture, making a soft dough. Drop on cookie pan, a tablespoonful for each cookie.

Orange Muffins

2 cups special cake flour, sifted
2 tablespoons baking powder
2 tablespoons butter or other shortening
2-3 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup orange juice

Grated rind 1 orange
1 cup grape-nuts

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift again. Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, then flour, alternately with orange juice and rind, a small amount at a time. Fold in grape-nuts. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.
