SCOTTSBORO

(CNP)-Richard B. Moore, nation ally known Negro Labor leader and member of the national committee of the I.L.D., will speak in Portland on July 8 and 9 in behalf of the Scottsboro boys. Moore will visit Portland as part of a national tour under the anspices of the I.L.D. A mass meeting is being planned to be held in Portland for the Scottsboro cases, at which a local LLD, speaker will give a report in the near future. Leaders the National Association for the Adand members of local organizations are asked to get in touch with John Moore, local secretary at 1911/2 Third street, to help in the arrangements for the meeting. The I.L.D. attorney won a change of venue for the hearing on a motion for a new trial this week. Letters and telegrams of protest, demanding a new trial with a jury of white and Negro workers, have been flooding the Alabama governor's of-

Candidates Busy Collecting Early Promises Now - Work Done In the Next Ten Days of Big Votes Will Easily Bring Success to Any Wide-Awake Candidate.

Gritting their teeth with absolute determination, candidates evident than at previous meetings with in The Advocate's $1500 Gift Distribution, are today going at top many stragetic moves on the part of speed to capture the leadership in the race for the handsome big Hudson "8" automobile—beautiful, luxurious—and the purses of the know. "They say" that there is gold coin. The big initiative is big votes, and there are but nine much withholding of votes for a final working days left in the big vote schedule.

Each participant is trying to outdistance his or her rivaland to write up enough subscriptions during these final days of the biggest vote offer to see him of her safely through the period close. Competition is growing more keen as the end of the big vote schedule approaches. No stone is being left unturned by

World's Biggest "PBX" Serves Banking Group

The skyscraper shown at the right, located in downtown New York, is the headquarters of the City Bank-Farmers Trust Company. Fifty-nine stories tall, it is one of four buildings in Manhattan higher than the famous Woolworth building. On the fifteenth floor is the largest telephone private branch exchange ("P. B. X.") installation in the world, serving this bank and affiliated institutions, which include the National City Bank and National City Com-

Enough telephone central office equipment to care for a city of 50,000 is required for this banking group, interconnecting their headquarters and some 40 branches by means of 220 "tie lines," 430 trunk lines, and a present installation of 2,900 telephones. Calls within the organization are dialed direct, as are local city calls. Out-of-town calls, and all incoming calls, are handled at a manual switchboard. A separate teletypewriter system transmits written messages by wire.
