She's A Darling In "Daddy Long Legs"

(By B. H. C.)

Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor, co-stars in "Daddy Long Legs," now n its third week at the Fox Broadway Theatre. I had the pleasure of witnessing it one evening this week and it was such an exquisitely darling picture that I want to see it all over again. Handsome Mr. Baxter and the petite, charming Miss Gaynor were never seen to better advantage. Grownups and the kiddies enjoy it alike It is one of the few pictures I have viewed this year that simply charms.

Just to prove that a good fashion has no end to what can be done with it, note the very clever and graceful manner in which the bolero theme is applied to this frock. It is found in the cut of the front of the bodice where the upper-fronts fall in graceful jabot effect over a vestee. The pointed line of the circular skirt is carried out in the bodice with seaming at back as well as front. This is ing at back as well as front. This is the type of frock which is at its best in flat crèpe and is particularly lovely in the new browns, soft raspberry shades, wood green and the darker blues and, of course, black.
