

who goes in for anointing. Then there is the good Reverend East, who says that he can do almost anything even to advising where doctors have failed.

Many Believe

Contrary to general opinion, there are hundreds, even thousands of people residing right in New York, who are firm believers in "conjuring" and "fixing."

And these spiritualists thrive on their superstitious beliefs. Not so long ago, a noted spiritualist was sentenced to jail for practicing medicine without a license, and issuing medicine to patients.

A very clever policewoman captured this faker. Knowing all the time that he was a faker, she, under the guise of being in serious trouble, paid the chap a visit.

Trouble with Sweetie

He took one look at her and told her she was having real trouble with her sweetheart. This the policewoman admitted. Satisfied that he had hit upon the right track, the spiritualist grew confident. Producing a charm, he gave it to the woman and told her how to use it—just what days it would work best and guaranteed that in a few days she would have the entire affections and love of her sweetheart.

Pocketing the charm, and paying the assessed fee, the policewoman left. But she returned in a few days and told Mr. Spiritualist that his charm didn't work.

Liver Wrong

Something surely was wrong if this didn't work. So, Mr. Spiritualist examined the policewoman carefully—as much as she would let him—which wasn't very much, and decided that the real seat of her trouble was her liver. That was what was wrong. But he could fix that.

Going over to a cabinet, he returned with a four-ounce bottle containing a liquid, in which floated suspicious looking shapes. The price of this marvelous remedy was $5, and the patient had to take it regularly until it was all taken up. The policewoman again paid the fee and marched out triumphantly. She had what she wanted. An analysis of the bottle proved that it contained only snaylings from the bottom of a calloused foot soaking in urine! That was the statement of the chemist making the analysis!

Thousands Lost Yearly

Preying on the superstitious and the credulous, these fakers mingle with those who are members of the recognized church of spiritualism and inveigle thousands of dollars yearly from the pockets of the unwary in all kinds of ways.

Fear of the police interfering does not enter the minds of the practitioners who simply hire a vacant store, apartment or room, close the windows carefully with colored waxed paper, place a sign in the window, advertise in a paper and then sit back and wait for their victims.

Victims will surely come if they have to be steered in by a paid steerer. And all the spiritualist or medium has to do is to strike a responsive chord in the audience, or to guess at some particular thing in which the person is interested and he or she has made a reputation.

In spite of this, there are some actual mediums in Harlem who, according to their followers, are good. Whether they are or not, your correspondent doesn't know.

Started on Elevator

One shining example of what a medium may or may not be is exhibited in the person of one, who first ran an elevator in a department store, later opened a spiritualist church, later played in vaudeville, appeared in an opera troupe, gave song recitals and attempted many other things—a sort of jack of all trades, successful in none.

Truly, Harlem is in the grasp of
