

Interracial Romance Culminates

PRINCE MONOLULU, racing tipster, who is known on every race course in Great Britain, where he advises rich white society women how to place their bets on horses, started the world recently when he was married to Miss Nellie Amelia Adkins, 22-year-old English beauty. The two were married at the St. Pancras Register office in London.

Elks' Girl Orator Will Enter Howard University

PHILADELPHIA—Mildred Roland, a tiny brown skinned girl, from Michigan, held an audience spell bound here during the Elks' Convention as she won the seventh annual National Oratorical Contest of the B. O. Elks of the World.

The girl gained a total of $500 in cash and a scholarship of $1,000 in any school she chooses. Although only fifteen years of age, she has gained the desire of her lifetime. She was born in Atlanta, Ga., in 1915, two months after her father died. Her mother, Mrs. Gussie Roland, toiled alone for the past fourteen years to give her daughter the best education her means could afford. The family moved from Atlanta when the child was seven years of age and made their home in Detroit. The girl yet has two years of study in the Cass Technical High School, after which she hopes to study at Howard University, where she hopes to study for a career as a social service worker.

FORGOT CONTEST

The little brown girl took the topic of "Citizenship," and in a manner more befitting a statesman, or politician engaged in a terrific battle, bitterly assailed the discriminations against the Negro so very prevalent in America.

Pleading more for a call to arms, the little orator spoke with an earnestness which showed a complete forgetfulness of her position as a contestant for an oratory prize. Her

Health Means Clear Skin

"I used to be so nervous, the least thing would drive me into a panic. I had dizzy spells and had to lie down often. Since I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I feel better than I have at any time since I was married. My skin used to be a sight but now it is clear. My friends hardly know me because I look so much better." — Mrs. Rosa Tipton, 1128 N. Blvd., Oak Park, Illinois.

Queens of Sepia Beauty

WINNERS IN THE NATIONAL BATHING BEAUTY CONTEST, in which thirty-one entrants from as many cities competed. They are shown in the New York Savoy Ballroom shortly after the contest, August 29th. Misses Emma Smith, Kansas City, Mo., third; Billie Bow, Key West, Fla., first, "Miss America;" and Dolores Blaine, Charleston, W.Va., second.

speech was delivered to the audience for the worth it contained rather than for its oratorical brilliance.

She urged the use of the ballot; she stressed the importance of the vote; she assailed the jim-crowism of the South; she denounced the murderous lynchings throughout the country; she attacked the lack of cooperation of colored leaders as a whole; she pleaded for more consistency in educational fields, and proper emphasis on rights.

Miss Roland took the audience by storm, and judged by material value, her oration was worth more than all of the other five well-delivered speeches put together.

Bubbling over with happiness, and almost in tears from superlative joy over her victory the little girl announced that she would enter Howard when she finished her courses at Cass Tech. Her mother, equally as happy, was all smiles, and looked at her rough-wrinkled hands, hardened by the strain of work done to keep the little girl in school.

"This Bleaching Cream Certainly Gives Results"

Says Mrs. Bessye Bearden, Newspaper Woman, Educationalist and Society Leader.

"Genuine Black and White Bleaching Cream gives such marvelous results because it is 'double strength.' It lightens and whitens the skin quicker than any bleaching cream I've ever seen."

Ordinary Bleaches Don't Have the "DOUBLE STRENGTH" Feature — It is EXCLUSIVE with BLACK and WHITE Bleaching Cream

Science now knows that skin lightening and brightening is regulated in the fourth layer of your skin. Unless your bleaching cream is strong enough to penetrate to that point, it is too weak to give you the result you want. That is why ordinary bleaches do not hold their popularity.

Genuine Black and White Bleaching Cream has the exclusive double strength feature, instantly
