"Legal Light" BY J. H. JAMISON, LL. B. ELECTIONS

Between thirty and forty days before the day fixed by law for the primary nominating election, the County Clerk of each County shall arrange in the manner provided by law for the arrangement of the names and other information concerning all the candidates and the parties named in the valid petitions for nominations which have been filed with him and those which have been certified to him, by the secretary of state, or city or town officer in accordance with the provisions of law, and he shall forthwith certify the same under the seal of the County Court, or the official of his office, file the same in his office and keep the petition posted until after the primary nomination has taken place.

All of the official ballots designed to be voted at the primary nominating election shall be printed for the republican party in black ink upon a good quality of white paper; for the Democratic party, in black ink upon a good quality of blue paper, and for any third party, in black ink upon a good quality of yellow paper and for any additional party, or for other separate ballots, upon paper of different color selected by the County Clerk, commencing with the number 1 in each precinct for each series or separate ballot, and both sides of the same ballot shall bear the same number. Any person desiring to vote shall give his name and his residence and political party to the first election clerk, which clerk shall be of the same political party as the chairman who shall then announce the name and residence and party distinctly, and shall write opposite the electors name in the poll book kept by him, the number of the ballot to be given to such party in the column for ballot number and the word "state" or state and district if he is qualified to vote for such office only; and if proper, the word "State or State and District" will be written in ink upon the back of the voter's political party official ballot. The second election clerk shall make a similar record on the poll book kept by him, and shall tear off one stub of the ballot and shall then deliver the ballot with the remaining stub still attached to the selector. The same clerk shall give the selector one of the said political party's official ballots, and one only, and said clerk shall retain said stub in his possession. The first election shall be given ballot number 1 of his respective party and the second election voting in the said precinct shall receive ballot number 2 of that party, and so on.

YOUNG MISS PASSES

Miss Alma L. Bushnell, the third daughter of Earl F. Bushnell, died at the family residence April 2 on heart trouble. She was a student at the Girls Polytechnic school. Miss Bushnell had been ill for several months but her condition was not known to her many friends to have been so serious and hence her death came as a severe shock to the younger set in which she was popular.

ON SICK LIST

Among those remaining ill are Mrs. Robert W. Roberts, Mrs. David Haslam and Mrs. Peathers. It was necessary to make blood transfusions for Mrs. Peathers and a number of friends submitted themselves for the purpose.

A GALA FETE

An interesting and gala event of the season was the Spring Musical Tea given last Sunday afternoon for the benefit of the Bethel financial drive. It was sponsored by Mrs. Ruby Hardin, ably assisted by Mrs. George Scott, at the home of the former, 1908 East Yamhill street. Assisting in pouring were the following: Mesdames Lena Bowers, Ethel Reese, E. Rutherford, Bette Blackburn, Lela Gragg, Fannie Cosby, George Scott, and Miss Gwendolyn Hooker. A center-piece of snap-dragons adorned the table and gorgeous cut flowers, ferns and greenery were artistically arranged about the rooms. A delightful program of music and readings was contributed by the following: Piano numbers: Miss Julia Mae Blanchard, Florence Cantrell, Mrs. Jesse Flowers; Vocal solos: Miss Julia Mae Blanchard, Mrs. Jesse Grayson, Mrs. Mollie Thomas, Mrs. Mable Henderson, Mrs. Delly Paris, Mrs. Mable Sheppard, Mrs. Roberta Martin and readings were given by Miss Gwendolyn Hooker and Miss Jane Bryant. An interesting piano solo was played by Miss Louise Randolph with vocal and violin obbligato by Miss Violet Hooker and Julius Gary, respectively. The affair was both a financial and social success.

Mesdames Russa Mae Kirk C. F. Cantrell and Octavia Truett assisted about the rooms and little Ruby Irene Kirk admitted the guests.

MISS MAXWELL HONORED

Miss Chrysalis Maxwell, for a several years, prominent in the work of The Older Girls Conference, was elected second vice-president of the girls at the close of a three-day session last week at the Westminster Presbyterian church East 17th & Schuyler streets. This is the first time such honor has been accorded a Negro girl, although Miss Sumi Yamamoto, a young Japanese girl enjoyed the distinction of being their president for a year. Mrs. Franklin, editor of The Advocate interested Portland girls first in attending the conference several years ago when it convened at Coosalem at that time and joined the party of Portland girls who were chaperoned by Mesdames Franklin Moreland. The next year, Miss Maxwell had the distinction of being the first Negro girl to attend summer training camp in Colorado. A committee, headed by Mrs. J. J. Handsaker and Mrs. Jerry Turner, raised funds to supplement the fund to finance her trip to camp. Miss Maxwell is active in the Williams Avenue branch Y.

A GRACIOUS HOSTESS

Mrs. W. H. Myles was hostess at a delicious two-course old-fashioned southern breakfast for the pleasure of Mrs. Peck-Hill, the mother of Rev. D. C. Hill, just prior to her departure for California. Covers were placed for eight. DRIVE LAUNCHED Mrs. Jesse Grayson, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and chairman of the membership committee, has launched a drive for new members.

Violinist Will Head Hampton Music School

CLARENCE CAMERON WHITE, NOW IN PARIS, SUCCEEDS NATHANIEL DETT

Hampton Institute, Va., April 7—An announcement of supreme interest, not only to the alumni and friends of Hampton Institute, but to all those interested in the development of the Negro musician, was made today by President Arthur Howe when he stated that the new head of Hampton Institute's School of Music is to be Clarence Cameron White, noted Negro violinist and composer. He is at present studying in Paris on a Rosenwald fellowship and will return to the United States in the summer to begin his new duties on September first.

Brilliant Musical Career

Mr. White first attracted attention as a gifted violinist while a student at the Oberlin, Ohio, Conservatory of Music. He then spent several years abroad as a private pupil of M. Zacharewitsch, one of Russia's most famous violinists and studied composition with Coleridge-Taylor, noted Negro composer. On his return from Europe he settled in Boston, where he became one of the leading musicians of that city, both as concert soloist and as teacher.

Since then he has gained an enviable reputation in this country both as soloist and composer, being acknowledged the most finished violinist of his race as produced in America. For distinguished achievement as a violinist and composer, he was awarded a first prize and a gold medal by Harmon Foundation of New York, and Atlanta University conferred upon him the Master of Arts degree.

Radio Artist

Mr. White is not only famous as a professional violinist. His appointment as director of Hampton Institute's School of Music is important for an additional reason for he has already proved his ability as teacher and administrator. For six years he was director of music at West Virginia State College. During his work there the Young Men's Glee Club under his direction made eight records for the Brunswick Phonograph Company and gave several radio broadcasts from New York and Philadelphia. He also directed performances of Coleridge-Taylor's cantata, "Hiawatha" and of Handel's "Messiah."

Mr. White is a member of the American Society of Authors, Composers, and Publishers, and a former president of the National Association of Negro Musicians. Note: Portlanders will recall that Mr. White has played several concerts in Portland at the Little Theatre and Masonic Temple under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Franklin in her artist's series and once under the auspices of Mrs. B. J. Fuller's club at Bethel church.
