News Briefs

The Advocate is in receipt of an announcement from Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Griggs of Los Angeles, that a baby girl arrived at their home May 19th.

Rev. Daniel G. Hill, Pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church has been elected Secretary-treasurer of the Portland Ministerial Association at a recent meeting held last week.

Beatrice Franklin is in receipt of an autographed copy by the author of "Scottboro Limited" by Langston Hughes, as a gift to her library of Negro Literature. The book arrived Tuesday.

Miss Catherine Franklin suffered injuries to her hand Tuesday when it was accidentally caught in an electric wringer. Dr. Unthank dressed the injury.

According to reports, several fights marred the Decoration Day dance given Monday night by Al Pierre and his Happiness Boys at Hibernia Hall.

L. A. Goodwin, of 1122 E. Salmon street died on Wednesday at his home Mr. Goodwin who is a prominent citizen has been in failing health for several years and had suffered several paralytic strokes. The end was not wholly unexpected by relative and close friends.

Mr. Goodwin was for more than a quarter of a century a waiter at the hotel Portland. He was active in fraternal and social circles in his early life with Negro citizens in Portland, property in the city.

Mrs. A. V. Childress writes the Advocate from Wilbart Springs and asks to be remembered to friends. Her health has improved noticeably since she has been there taking treatments.

Mrs. F. D. Young, of 870 Garfield Ave. had her fingers damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars by heat and water in a recent fire which burned part of the building in which she resided. Mrs. Young, after passing several days with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jamison, moved into the residence at 866 Garfield Ave., one door south of the Jamison house. Much excitement reigned in the neighborhood of the fire which occurred last Saturday night of unknown origin.

Mrs. Alice Martin, 75, was recently committed to Multnomah County home.

J. D. Emery, 54, of 340 Ross street, who has been in failing health for several years, died May 27 at Good Samaritan hospital. Funeral services were held from the Miller and Tracey chapel at 51st. Rev. Daniel G. Hill, officiated and Mrs. Jessie Coles Grayson sang. Interment was had at Lincoln Memorial Park Cemetery.

The deceased who has resided in Portland for many years is survived by his mother, Mrs. Jane Jones, of Marietta, Ga., two sons, Messrs. Wellington and Walter Emery of Minneapolis, Minn., and a daughter of Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Emery for a good many years and up until the time he was compelled to retire on account of poor health was proprietor of a social club on N. ninth street. He also is said to have some property holdings, real and personal.

Wyatt W. Williams is attorney for the estate.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bird and Mrs. Vic Simms and Mrs. Elizabeth Slaughter received the sad news of the death of their cousin, Mrs. Suzie Newbill of Sedalia, Mo., early last week.

Mrs. Beatrice Reed was indisposed the past week.

BOOK REVIEW

"YOUR MONEY'S WORTH"

Reviewed for The Advocate by CLIFFORD C. MITCHELL

(By Stuart Chase and F. J. Schlink) The 1931 edition of "Your Money's Worth," which, due to its wide circulation has been reprinted and reissued more than a dozen times, was sent to me for review, last fall, and it is a compliment to the book when I say that I regret having not read it sooner.

Little, however, has been seen in the colored papers concerning this book, an expose of high-pressure, fraudulent and unscrupulous sales and advertising methods. This book, in one volume, sheds more light on the many fakes and quack products that are being sold to the consumers under highly touted advertising schemes, spurious "guarantees" and propounded efforts, than any treatise I've ever read.

If the colored consumer would thoroughly read, study and take advantage of the facts presented in "Your Money's Worth," it would double the purchasing power of the race, with less money expended and far greater satisfaction in ultimate results.

The book is not replete with inferences or indirect allusions but, specifically names places, concerns, products and methods, and not only records what is wrong with a given product but clearly defines how and why it is wrong. To achieve economic savings in your daily purchases, study the suggestions in this worthwhile book, "Your Money's Worth."

HAITI MINISTER LAUDS DOUGLAS GIVES AID IN INDEPENDENCE WAR

WASHINGTON, May 25—Speaking at a sunrise meeting held by the 23rd Annual Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at the home of Frederick Douglass, Anacosta, Mr. Dantes United States paid tribute to the Negro leader who rose from slavery to be a champion of his race's freedom and eventually represented the United States as Minister to Haiti.

M. Bellegarde drew a parallel between the life of Douglass and the history of the black republic of Haiti which also rose from slavery to become a full-fledged nation. He called attention to the aid which Haiti had given the American colonies during the War for Independence, sending 800 black soldiers to fight on the American side, and also to the help extended to the nations of Spanish America in conquering their freedom.

VIENNA CROWD STIRRED BY APPEAL OF MOTHER

VIENNA, May 25—Viennese crowds were stirred by the impassioned plea made here by Ada Wright, whose two sons are among the eight Negroes sentenced to death at Scottsboro, Ala. She is seeking to arouse European sentiment to save her sons from the electric chair.

JACK BARDE THANKS VOTERS

Jack Barde, republican nominee for state senator from Multnomah county issued a statement in which he thanked the voters for their support. He was particularly grateful to his friends for the work they did in his behalf. Before election Barde was considered a "dark horse," but now was aware of his strength, particularly in the outlying districts. Barde issued the following statement:

"I want to thank the public for the support I received. I am particularly grateful to the Independent Merchants and the Municipal Ownership League which endorsed me, to the neighborhood newspapers who boosted my candidacy, and to the various women's organizations which supported me. If elected in the fall I will continue my efforts for old age pensions, unemployment relief, and 'idle hands for idle people', and for these issues I will dedicate my efforts."

PANAMA CANAL

Do you know that there is no more successful and efficient enterprise in the world today than the publicly-owned Panama Canal?

The Government has its power plants furnishing current at about one-third the rates charged by private ownership plants. There are great machine shops and dry docks for service to the ships of the whole world.

Government farms, hotels, restaurants, cold-storage plants, and great stores of commissaries with vast business, low prices and large profits.

Some people seem unnecessarily alarmed because the City Dads have failed to elect a fifth member of the City Council. They seem to fear that the sun will quit shining and that the moon will give us the cold shoulder.

Do not worry, Brother. The Ship of State will move along merrily on four cylinders until the November election. The sun and moon will do business at the old stand and the business of the municipality will function just as well, thanks to experienced city employees, who are ever on the job. Besides, the city will save a commissioner's salary for five months.

There is a sweater lining in every cloud, so cheer up Brother, cheer up.

WRITER SAYS EDITOR WINS GLORIOUS DEFEAT

Hon. Beatrice Cannady-Franklin Portland, Oregon

Dear B— 8055 Hoorah for Beatrice! Conservative and Republican with a conservative following—you have achieved the most glorious defeat in Oregon's History. Accept my honest-goodness congratulations and entreaty to continue the work you have so nobly begun.

With kindest personal regards, I am Cordially yours

"NANCY LEE"

An elderly lady tells me her grandchildren are disrespectful and unkind to her and she wishes me to write some advice to the younger generation along that line.

The span of years between youth and old age is the cause of their differences; neither one can see the other's point of view. Youth is willful, intolerant, and selfish, and old age having completed the circle of life returns to the time of its youth and becomes willful, intolerant, and selfish again.

People with destructive characteristics do not get along together, consequently youth and old age demonstrating "the same" qualities are naturally inharmonious. When young people learn to be considerate, kind, and unselfish toward others, there won't be a return of these undesirable characteristics when they reach old age. There is a great deal of love and respect will both be loving, agreeable, and self-sacrificing toward each other.

LOUIS GIVES ELKS GRAND TREAT

LOS ANGELES, Cal. June 1—Louis Armstrong, "king of the trumpet" and his 14 piece recording band played at the Elks' hall room on Central Ave. Monday night.

This performance is said to be the first appearance of Louis before all colored affairs. The palatial hall was completely filled for the occasion.

MADOLYN SHIPMAN, sister to Mrs. DeNorval Unthank, graduates from Howard University with her B. S. degree. She plans to be a teacher in physical education.

SAY HE MADE THREATS

A report in the Oregon Daily Journal states that Clarence Short, Negro, was arrested on charge of disorderly conduct Wednesday night at 6th and Flanders street, when Patrolman O'Flaherty heard him threatening George Foster, G. A. Eulitts and A. F. Calerson. The white men said Short had attempted to pick Foster's pockets.

STATE TREASURE WRITES

The editor is in receipt of a letter from Rufus Holman, State Treasurer, enclosing a political ticket put out by the local branch of the N. A. A. C. P. Among other things Mr. Holman has the following to say: "Let me express my regrets at the result of the primary election as far as you are concerned. I want you to know that I have always admired you very highly and I feel that your efforts particularly in behalf of the colored people."

MR. JACKSON AMIABLE HOST

Clifford Jackson was the host at an informal social gathering Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Unthank and Mrs. Bill Robinson, of New York City. The affair was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. De Norval Unthank on Union Ave.

Besides the guests of honor, additional guests included, Mr. Price of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. Unthank and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin. Mrs. Franklin assisted Mrs. Unthank in serving. Mr. Robinson entertained the guests with interesting, mirth-provoking stories.
