BOOK REVIEW

"UNTO THEE I GRANT"

Revised by Sri Ramatherio (Pub. and distributed by the Rosicrucian Brotherhood, Rosicrucian Park, San Jose, California)

Reviewed for the Advocate By Clifford C. Mitchell

"Unto Thee I Grant" is a translation of a most remarkable book of philosophy on the laws of life. In the preface we learn that the original document was discovered nearly two hundred years ago in an ancient temple in the interior of China and through cooperation of English and Chinese scholars, scientists and translators, we are given in modern language a philosophy of life written many centuries ago by an unknown writer of great wisdom.

This little book, so full of philosophical teachings, is divided into two parts. Part one consists of seven books, a very graphic preface and a few preliminary instructions that serve as a guide for the reader to follow. Part two consists of five books including a liberal translation of the book's contents with the principles of the Rosicrucians.

Book one treats of the subject of "The Obligations that relate to Man considered as an Individual", divided into eight chapters. Book two, "The Passions", in five chapters. Book three, "Woman", Book four, "Concubinity: Or Natural Relations", in four chapters. Book five, "Providence: Or the accidental differences of Men", in four chapters. Book six, "The Social Duties", in five chapters. Book seven, treats on the subject of "Religion".

The remaining five books cover thoroughly the following subjects: "Man considered in general", "Man considered in regard to his infirmities, and their effects"; "Of the affections of man, which are hurtful to himself and others"; "Of the advantages man may acquire over his fellow creatures", and "The Manifestations of Karma".

FOX PARAMOUNT CHEVALIER ON SCREEN AT PARAMOUNT

Critics who have seen "LOVE ME TONIGHT", Chevallier's latest starring photoplay, are agreed upon one thing, that this picture is by far the finest that the French star ever has done. On top of that most of them agree that Jeanette MacDonald, his lovely heroine of "One Hour With You" and "The Love Parade", never was more beautiful, more charming, more brilliant as a comedienne and singer than in this whimsical story of a Persian tailor turned baron for a day.

On the Stage is Fanchon & Marco's "STITCH IN TIME" idea, featuring Joe & Jane McKenna, gay brother and sister comedy team; Tommy McAuliffe, sensational armless golfer; the Five de Carlos, startling barrel jumpers; Ben Omar, Arabian whirlwind dancer; the versatile dancers known to fame as the Carla Torney girls, Del Milne and his Paramounters as usual provide the musical requirements of the week.

RKO ORPHEUM A true and amazing story. Imagine a white woman, shipwrecked on a cannibal island... becoming the love mate of a primitive cave-man and refusing to be rescued by men of her own race!

WANTS THE ADVOCATE

Tuskegee, Ala., Aug. 23—My dear Editor: I find, in looking over the file of exchange newspapers for the Negro Year Book, that we are not receiving THE ADVOCATE which has been sent as an exchange since the first Negro Year Book was published in 1912. As you also know we count THE ADVOCATE one of our most valued exchanges and depend on it for information concerning events relating to the Negro.

A copy of the 1931-32 edition of the Negro Year Book was mailed you and I trust it came to hand. It will greatly appreciate it if you will again place the Negro Year Book on the exchange list.

Thanking you in advance for this courtesy and awaiting your reply, I am,

Very sincerely yours, MONROE N. WORK, Editor Negro Year Book

Helpful hints BY NANCY LEE

It seems that more people are having misunderstandings and quarrels than ever before, or is it more noticeable at this time? Probably all the evil characteristics are coming out and people are showing themselves up.

We are taught that when two persons disagree both are in the wrong. The one who wins the argument cannot always be right and the other side can only back down gracefully or otherwise, convinced or unconvinced, for the sake of peace because his opponent has the most forceful personality to put it over. The developed soul never offers his opinion until invited to do so; gives it modestly and retires from the floor, but not his opinionated brother. He sets forth his personal ideas or the ideas of some one he hero worships and in a loud voice forces his listener's attention. Modesty is one of the greatest of virtues, and should be cultivated as it is not innate.

KE'PNG - FIT - A Health Column By DeNorval Uothank, M. D.

BRINGS OUT SOME STARTLING FACTS

Winifred B. Nathan, Ph. D., Professor of Education at Atlanta University in his thesis for his degree—Health Conditions in North Harlem, 1923 to 1927. His study is chiefly a study of Negro health, giving rather telling statistics and discussing very frankly the underlying problems that must be attacked to get any appreciable improvement. While his statistics are for North Harlem proper, they are really a glowing example of conditions among Negroes in every large center of Negro population—probably on a somewhat smaller scale. Therefore his conclusions are significant for the whole Negro group. I shall attempt to review applications to the whole Negro group.

The comparative trends of Negro and white mortality rates in the United States is very interesting. While the mortality rate is surprisingly high for Negroes as compared to whites, there has been a very consistent decline in the Negro rate over a period of years. The death rate among Negroes declined from 24.4 per 1,000 population in 1910 to 17.3 in 1927. The white rate declined from 14.6 per 1,000 in 1910 to 10.8 in 1927. Thus the Negro shows a proportionate larger decline than the whites at a higher level.

That there is such a decline in the death rate among Negroes is a very hopeful sign. It indicates that probably the proper approach is being made to reduce the exorbitant rate. The job of the Negro group today is to put more efforts along these lines. The death rate is reduced proportionately as ignorance, poverty and poor and crowded living conditions are reduced.

BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH NOTES (Rev. D. G. Hill, Jr., pastor)

Sunday at 11 a. m., Rev. Hill will preach his farewell sermon and also he will preach at the evening service.

Monday, August 29, the Christian Endeavor will have a Jamboree Party in the Lecture Room of the Church. Games and refreshments will be had for members and friends of Bethel, after which, Rev. Hill will leave immediately to drive to the General Conference at Spokane.

Wednesday evening, the women had a Japanese Party on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Lenora Henderson.

Upon request, the 3-act Religious drama, "The Queen of Sheba" portrayed by Verdel Burdine and King Solomon played by Mrs. Lula Gragg, was repeated last Friday night for members of the First Congregational Church at a garden party at the home of Mrs. C. E. Stanton on Alameda Drive.

Last Sunday, the Christian Endeavor were visitors of the B. Y. P. U. of Mt. Olivet Baptist church. The program was furnished by the C. E. and Mrs. Violet Whyte. Rev. Hill's sister spoke on the "Qualities of a Christian".

The men's Day program was very impressive. Rev. Hill preaching in the morning and musical numbers and papers filled the evening's program. All members and friends are asked to join in the Financial Drive which will close Sunday. The Committee is still receiving Dollar Money.

BETHEL CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Last Sunday our Aien League was the guest of the B. Y. P. U. at Mt. Olivet Baptist Church. We spent a very enjoyable evening with them. Their president, Miss G. Williams and her co-workers made us feel at home. We hope to have them visit our meeting real soon.

Mrs. Violet Whyte, a sister of Rev. Hill, was a visitor with a last Sunday. Next Sunday will be our last Sunday of this Conference year. How many members will try to be present? Let's make it a 100 per cent attendance meeting.

The League's trying to raise its part of the Conference claims so on Monday evening we will have a Jamboree. Prizes for the best pajama suit and the best sports outfit. Come out and help us raise our claims. Anna K. Morrison, reporter.
