Maudlin sentiment has so encouraged the gangster that his activity is not confined to any community but has become a menace to the stability of lawful authority throughout the Nation. Instead of making the United States an asylum for the oppressed—through unrestricted emigration—it has become a refuge for the criminal; the hunting ground of the killers and racketeers who find short shrift in their native lands. Murders are enacted under the very noses of our peace guardians. Kidnaping and extortion has become one of the most remunerative of gangland industries. This worship of the "Golden Calf" the get rich quick—get the money! That is the lure that leads to crime. To the worshiper of money, what's the difference if it is bloodstained; what difference that it is tainted and purified. It may be dug from the graves of broken hearts; wrung from widows, made orphans penniless. It is gained and the violation of virtue. But that is the gangster's code. We can well afford to let the Chinese and Japan settle their difficulties without our interference. There is an Augean stable here at home, and it will take a strong arm and good broom to cleanse it of the filth.

Europe seems determined to get the United States in another embroilment. The League of Nations has suggested the formation of a negotiation commission to set up a new autonomous Manchurian government under Chinese sovereignty. They suggest participation, in the scheme, of Russia and the United States. As Japan has already established a government in Manchuria, now known as Manchukuo, and has proclaimed her protectorate, we can not vision her getting out without force. The League has proven impotent to deal with the question. Japan has told it where to "get off at" and gone on about her business of stabilizing the government set up. It does seem as though Europe must believe that Americans are devoid of discernment, with their refusal to pay honest debts contracted during that period of the World War when the fighting with their backs against the wall and during the period of rehabilitation after the war; it does seem the acme of presumption to even suggest any participation in their affairs. Uncle Sam can be kept busy straightening out his own affairs.

The speech of President Hoover at the Lincoln Day banquet, Feb. 13th, New York, dealt mostly with international affairs. It was a resume of what has been his attitude during the four years of his administration. The one bright spot was his declaration against cancellation of the foreign debts. It is the opinion of the leaders of the Republican party that the President looks forward to a come back four years hence. James W. Wadsworth, New York, has assumed the leadership for the rehabilitation of the G.O.P. He hopes to rally the party deserters who caused the debacle of November last by a drastic revision of party doctrines, and divesting the party of the Wall Street incubus. We hope that there will be, not a revision only but, a reversion to the principles of the party under Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt. The Republican party lost sight of the ideals for which it was ordained. It lost sight of human interest and allowed Mammon to become its fetish. It forgot the toiler and citizenry who stabilize the nation and worshipped at the altar of riches. Unless the incoming administration fails to measure up to requirements, the Republican party is due for a long vacation.

The attempted assassination of Presdent elect Roosevelt and the serious wounding of Anton Cermack, Mayor of Chicago at Miami, Florida, is one of the most deplorable acts in the many chapters of our national crimes. Up to this writing there has been no motive for the deed unearthed. But behind it all there must be some sinister purpose. The government of the United States has but itself to blame for the hold that vicious criminality has fastened to it. Had this government not conducted lawlessness by its supine apathy, when some of its citizens were being tortured and murdered with the utmost ruthlessness, the gunman as well as the lyncher would be a scarce creature. As you sow, so shall you also reap. We are reaping the whirlwind of crime because we sowed to the wind carelessly.

Senator Cordell Hull, Tenn., has proposed an amendment to the Federal Constitution for the abolition of the insurance of tax exempt securities. Much of the wealth of the nation is tied up in non-taxable securities, thus escaping that burden which falls to the lot of the average citizen. The man who has millions can well afford to invest in securities of that kind which pay a low, but sure interest on the investment. It is about time that our legislature were taking note of the class of the nation's citizenry which constitutes its vertebrae. Without the prosperity of the masses the nation will deteriorate, and history tells us that what become of nations that allow wealth to raise a barrier between and create classing classes.

THERE SHOULD BE ANEQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION OF THE TAX BURDEN. ALL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS AND BIG CORPORATIONS SHOULD BEAR THEIR SHARE EQUALLY WITH OTHER SOURCES OF STATE REVENUE. THE STATE LEGISLATURES NOW IN SESSION SHOULD MAKE THIS ONE OF THE PRIMARY ENACTMENTS. CALIFORNIA AMONG THE REST! DIGESTING THE NEWS

BARBERSHOP, cor. 23rd & Madison

The Misses Erna Tanner, Georgana Spencer, and Jonny Pierre of Tacoma were visitors in Seattle Sunday.

Miss Maxine Gomery entertained a number of her friends with a party in honor of her birthday recently. The hostess looked stunning in a brown evening gown with red accessories.

The A.B.C. Club will hold their meeting at the home of Miss Pauline White this week. Plans are now completed for the services to be held at Grace Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. Miss Annie Chatters will be Mistress of Ceremonies. The speaker for the evening will be Mr. Robert Gilmore, formerly of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Joe Smith is rapidly recovering from injuries sustained in an accident which occurred last week. After a week's confinement in Harborview hospital, he has been removed to his home and will be glad to have his friends call on him there.

In honor of her birthday Mrs. Wanda Gallett entertained with a lovely card party at her home.

Mr. Cornelius Young of Portland, Oregon spent the week end in Seattle. He was the house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Johnston. While in Seattle he was the guest at a card party given by Miss Yvonne Chatters.

Keep a day open to attend the Falcon Club's Mock Trial. Further announcements made next week.

One of the outstanding events which occurred in Tacoma recently was a program presented by a chorus of sixty voices, under the direction of Mrs. F. Elmore. The chorus sang for the Roreign Legion's program at Lincoln High School Auditorium Saturday night February 4, 1933. Solos were rendered by Mrs. L. Smith and Miss Margaret Rucker. The accompanist was Miss Willetta Houston.

Everybody is cordially welcome to attend the dance at the Tennis Club Friday night. A lovely time was enjoyed by all who attended the dance last week. Music was furnished by Bill Roberts Rythm Racketeers.

Bill Roberts Rythm Racketeers will play for the dance to be given February 21, at Broadway Hall. A large crowd is expected. The young mens Progressive Club is sponsoring the affair.

Rev. Johnston and his choir held services at the Grace Presbyterian Church last Sunday due to the absence of the Grace Presbyterian minister. Evening services were conducted by the Young Men's Progressive Club. Master of Ceremonies, Tony York. Next Sunday morning services will be held by Rev. Davis and his choir of the Mount Zion Church. (Baptist)

Mrs. A. Fields, resident of Seattle for many years, passed away at Harborview hospital Monday. Mrs. Fields had been ill for a long time. As we go to press, arrangements for funeral services were not completed.

Mrs. Armida Hurst entertained a group of friends at her home last week. Cards and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Mr. Roger Robinson, Negro aquatic star of Seattle, who is a member of the Y.M.C.A. swimming team, broke two records in the Tacoma pool on January 30, 1933. These records were: the fifty yard race which Mr. Robinson swam in 24.1 and the 100 yard race in 52.6 seconds. Mr. Robinson accompanies the Y. M. C. A. team to Vancouver, B. C. for the International Swimming meet on February 17.

Miss Evonne Chatters entertained a group of friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Brooks Saturday evening. The guests for the evening were: Misses Leona Fletcher, Ina Miller, Viola Owsby, Annie Chatters and Messrs. Clarence Jackson, Roland Blackwell, Harold Benning, Ed Mathews, Gene Holmes, and Cornelius Young of Portland. Cards and dancing were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Flowers, 2 N. Halsey have as their house guest, Mr. and Mrs. Starkville C. Cooper, (Marble Turner of Portland) of Los Angeles, California who motored here to pass several weeks.

Already Mrs. Cooper, who is a charming matron is being entertained. Among recent social functions in her honor were a bridge supper on Wednesday evening given by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Flowers at their home on Victoria Ave.; a bridge party on Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. James Bragg at their home in Irvington and on Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton entertained a group of friends honoring Mr. and Mrs. Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Pickett at lunch on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Roselle Smith entertained at an informal at her parents home last Friday evening after "The Showboat".

Miss Bobbie Ellis entertained several members of the younger set last Sunday night at a party observing her birthday. Guests enjoyed dancing and games until late. Delicious refreshments served by the hostess included a large birthday cake made by Mrs. Ellis and a smaller dark and white cake made by Miss Bida Pearson.

When Philip Moore came home Saturday he was quite surprised to find many of his young friends gathered there to celebrate his birthday. Guests enjoyed dancing from 9 to 12:30 Mrs. Moore served delicious refreshments to the guests at a suitable hour.

Among colored patrons noted at the closing concert of the Portland Symphony orchestra on last Monday night were Mrs. Margaret Cain and Mr. Hugh Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin.

A group of prominent matrons met on Washington's Birthday, February 22nd at the residence of Mrs. Elsie Maney on Schuyler street and organized themselves into what is to be known as a Martha Washington Sewing and Home Making Club. Mrs. Maney was chosen as the adviser of the club and Mrs. Ruth Flowers, its secretary. The club will meet weekly and the next meeting will be with Mrs. Mattie Washington on Welder street. Approximately ten ladies comprise the membership of the club.

Many prominent people in national, state and local life have been born in the month of February and not the least of these is Mrs. Frank Adams. Mrs. Adams' natal day is February 22nd the same as that of the "Father of Our Country". This bit of information leaked out and some of Mrs. Adams' friends headed by Mesdames Lucille Morgan, Pollyann Reed and Beatrice Franklin called together a group of twelve who assembled at the Adams' home about nine P. M. on Wednesday and completely took the couple by surprise. The jolly group took refreshments with them and enjoyed the evening playing at three tables of bridge. Among the gifts presented to Mrs. Adams was an exquisite piece of lingerie by The sponsors of the delightful affair.

"The Ghost of Hilo", a beautiful Hawaiian operetta will be presented by the Saint Phillips Girls Friendly Society on March 31st at the Saint David's Parish Hall on Twelfth and East Morrison streets. Mrs. Thelma Unthank is the club adviser and she is training the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jamison and John Beverley, the Third, were the dinner guests on Monday, of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin. On Tuesday, Miss Margaret Mosley called and passed the evening pleasantly playing whist.

ECONOMICAL WINTER DESSERTS

Desserts are often looked upon as not essential in the low-cost diet. However, squeezing extra calories into a meal can be done easily by serving a substantial dessert. When desserts are made with milk, butter and eggs they contain not only energy but the necessary protective elements—the vitamins and minerals, which make them highly nutritious foods.

Fruits, either dried or canned, can be used in combination with milk and eggs and will add variety, as well as food value. Fruits are actually cheap at present and are a good investment, because they too are protective foods. Of the dried fruits, prunes, apricots and peaches are the most widely used.

Left-over breads of all kinds have numberless possibilities and can be transformed into delicious puddings and cakes. Bread crumbs are really a quickly available form of flour that is seasoned, cooked and ready for use. Desserts made with rice or tapioca, fruit cakes and fruit whips all add protective value, as well as energy value to the low-cost meals.

The following desserts are just new versions of old stand-bys that always find favor:

4 egg yolks, 3 cups milk, 2 cups cooked rice, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 4 egg whites, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat egg yolks thoroughly, add milk and stir until well blended. Then add rice, sugar, salt and rind. Turn into buttered baking dish or into individual buttered molds. Place molds in a pan of hot water, then put into a moderate oven and bake until firm or for about 25 minutes. Cover with a meringue made of the egg whites and six tablespoons of sugar. Brown in a slow oven (200F) for about fifteen minutes.

Velvet Bread Pudding

2 cups fine bread crumbs, (whole spoons butter, two-thirds cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup some good flour—wheat or graham preferred), 2 table-spoons fruit jam, 1/2 cup whipping cream

Melt the butter and add the crumbs and sugar and mix thoroughly. Line a baking pan or individual molds with heavy paraffined or greased paper, and pack the crumbs in solidly. Place in a moderate oven (375F) for twenty minutes. Turn out onto a serving dish. It should hold together in a cake form. Eat hot or cold, and just before serving spread each serving with the jam, then cover with the cream whipped until stiff. Yield: Six coverings.

Baked Maple Custard

2 large eggs, 1/4 teaspoon salt, one-third cup maple sugar or maple syrup, 2 cups milk, scalded, 1/2 teaspoon maple flavoring. Beat eggs lightly. Grind maple sugar through the food chopper and add to the eggs. Add salt, and then milk, stirring during the addition. Cook over hot water until mixture will form a coating on a silver spoon. Remove from the stove, add flavoring, and set aside to cool. Serve with a spoonful of whipped cream on the top. Yield: 4 servings.

Apricot Crusty Pudding

Soak 1 cup cleaned, dried apricots in 4 cups cold water overnight. Then cook slowly with 1 1/2 cup sugar for 5 minutes. Drain, reserving the syrup for sauce. Measure and sift together 1 1/2 cup flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add 1 well beaten egg, 1/4 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter and the apricots. Mix thoroughly and pour into a shallow pan greased. Bake in hot oven of 400F. for 25 minutes until done. Serve hot, cut in squares, with whole milk or cream.
