

GOVERNMENT SPEEDS UP LOAN ACTION

'This & That'

By CLIFFORD G. MITCHELL

THANKING MY CORRESPONDENTS

The Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, writes:

"Dear Mr. Mitchell; Mr. Cole has brought to my attention the news release entitled 'Postal Telegraph Opens South Side Branch' written by you.

"I wish to extend my sincere thanks for your efforts, which I deem to be of great potential value to our service which maintains its own telegraph offices in those cities which do 95 per cent of the total telegraph business of the United States and thru affiliated and connecting lines it reaches any point in this country or abroad."

This letter is an appreciation of the article I wrote advising that the Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Company had contracted with them for a branch station in their offices at 3511 South Parkway, Chicago.

Mr. George A. Kuyper, Chairman of the Editorial Board, of the Southern Workman, Hampton, Virginia, writes: "My dear Mr. Mitchell, I have just enjoyed reading your latest release and am happy to find mention given to the Southern Workman. You state in the last paragraph of your release that 'it is of particular interest to Hampton students and friends.' I trust some time you will have space to mention the fact that although the magazine is published by Hampton Institute, it is primarily meant to be of significance to anyone who is interested in the whole field of racial progress and development of better interracial relations."

Mr. John Benj. Horton, of the newly organized Omaha Chronicle, 2307 North 24th Street, writes: "I would like very much if you would assist me with obtaining a tabularized magazine section for my paper; maybe a national advertising company would consider such a proposition. If possible, I'd like to take the proposition immediately."

Write to Mr. W. A. Scott, of the Scott Newspaper Syndicate, 210 Auburn Avenue, N. E. Atlanta, Georgia, as I think he can help you with what you want, Mr. Horton.

Thanks to Mr. S. D. Goff of the California News, Los Angeles, for sending me via Air-Mail the full details and newspaper clippings of the account of the terrible brush fire there in Griffith Park in which a number of our people perished. A colored man named Sylvan Creasy, wrote on the subject in a very descriptive manner for the white dailies in Los Angeles as he was an eye-witness and survivor of the catastrophe.

An invitation comes to attend the exercises of Chey Day at the Cheyenne Training School, Cheyenne, Pa. Of course I am unable to attend but someday I hope to be in a position to accept the many invitations I am constantly receiving to appear personally in many parts of the country.

My old friend Mrs. Mae Granger Thompson, Montgomery, Alabama, sends me a picture of their very pretty four-month old baby which now adorns that is the picture the many other pictures in my 'studio'.

The Huntington Sun, Huntington, W. Va., and the Universal Post, Burlington, N. C. make the 152nd and 153rd publications to use "Digesting The News".

The Chattanooga World; Columbus Advocate, and Universal Post brings the total using "This and That" to 32 papers.

The Spartanburg Times; Chattanooga World; Huntington Sun, and Universal Post, makes the total using "Prisons and Prisoners" of 37 publications.

And the Topeka Plaindealer; Waco Messenger, and Colorado Statesman, brings the total using my weekly feature to 39 publications.

Many thanks for all of the above co-operation.

While, as has been stated, it is desired that liberal use of the insignia be made by employer and consumers, it is to be remembered that the official NRA emblem is the property of the United States Government and may not be used or reproduced without authority of the National Recovery Administration.

The lists of all employers who sign the President's Agreement are displayed in local postoffices and it is urged that all employers who have not yet signed the agreement do so immediately and deliver them to their local postmaster.

With some minor exceptions, the terms of the President's Agreement with employers is briefly, as follows: Any employer of a factory or mechanical worker or artisan must not pay less than 40 cents an hour or work him more than 35 hours a week, except that if the employer were paying less than 40 cents for that kind of work on July 15 the employer can pay that rate now, but not less than 30 cents an hour. As to all employees—those on a weekly rate—the employer will pay not less than $15 a week in a city of over 500,000 population; or $14.50 a week in cities of between 250,000 and 500,000; or $14 a week in cities between 2,500 and 250,000 population; or $12 a week in cities of less than 2,500 population, and the employer agrees not to work this class of workers more than 40 hours a week. As to employees who were getting a higher wage, the employer must not reduce their wages because of a reduction in their hours and he should generally keep the usual pay differences as between the lower and the higher paid employes. And after August 31, he must not work children under 16 years of age. There are, of course, some other rules which apply to special cases, but the terms of the agreement as here outlined cover the large bulk of cases.

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager of the newspaper, magazine, or other publication, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that she is the Publisher of THE ADVOCATE and that the following is, to the best of her knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse side of this form, to wit:

2. That the owner is: Beatrice Franklin;

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders, owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: none;

4. That the President, Publisher Sworn to and subscribed before me this 2nd day of October, 1933

Social Doings

Mr. John Sharples passed last weekend as the guest of Messrs. Duck Jordan and Ivan Cannady at the latter's home in Irvington.

George Cannady passed the weekend in Portland as the guest of his family. He witnessed the football game between O. S. C. and Gonzaga. Mr. Cannady returned to Salem early Sunday morning.

SOCIAL
Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Maney, of Schuyler street and their two interesting young children passed the weekend of September 30th as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin at their home in Irvington.

A special dinner was served in their honor on Saturday evening by the hostess. Sea-green linen cloth, golden tapers, amber glassware and a centre piece of African Marigolds, the gift of Mrs. A. Lopez of Orchard, Washington, made an attractive table ensemble. Covers were arranged for seven.

A goodly part of the night was spent in the library of Negro literature, collected by Mrs. Franklin. Later guests and music were enjoyed. The guests returned to their home Sunday afternoon after having breakfasted with the Franklins.

The Chanticleer Breakfast Club met Friday morning with Mrs. Thelma Flowers, hostess at her home on Halcyon street.

Halloween decorations were used by Mrs. William P. Lomax in the artistic decoration of her spacious home on Interstate avenue Monday when she entertained nearly half a hundred guests in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. Assisting the hostess in decorating, receiving and entertaining were Mesdames Ruth Flowers, Crystal Strain and Elsie Maney. Cards and dancing were the diversions and the hostess served a delicious three-tiered birthday cake topped with frosting. Mr. Lomax was presented with birthday gifts by a happy group who enlivened the party with singing many old-fashioned songs. Old and young alike came and expressed their appreciation and love for the host and hostess.

A "Hostess Dinner" will be a leading social function of next week. It will be staged at Mount Olivet Baptist church and bids fair to be one of the prettiest affairs given this season.

Mr. W. H. Laffel was the guest of honor at an anniversary party given on Monday night of last week in observance of his birthday anniversary. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Grace Scott-Jackson at her residence on church street. A large number of guests attended. Cards, dancing and fine finger were enjoyed. A pretty birthday cake was presented to the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Maney, their children and Mrs. Crystal Strain were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lomax Monday. Dinner was served at eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph DeJournette were dinner hosts Sunday evening, October 1st for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Franklin. The hostess presided at a beautifully appointed dinner at a table attractively set.

Mr. and Mrs. Lomax were the guests of Mrs. Helen Street at a beautiful luncheon Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Ida Elliott and Mrs. Winnie Davis of Portland, Oregon. Those enjoying Mrs. Street's hospitality were Mesdames Carrie Warren, Eva Teal, Mae Seats and Sylvia Terry.—Los Angeles Eagle.

Mrs. Crystal Strain who is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Maney, will leave today to pass several days with her brother, Mr. Newton Gaffel in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Flowers and Miss Melba Burge and Mr. Irvin Flowers motored to North Beach where Continued on page four, Col. 1

Mr. Eugene Carden who recently passed a few days in Pendleton, brought greetings to friends here from Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, prominent Citizens of the Round-Up City.

Mrs. Crystal Strain and Mrs. William Badger were the house-guests the past week of Mrs. Elsie Maney at her residence in Schuyler street.

The Martha Washington Sewing and Home Making Club met Thursday of last week with Mrs. W. L. Reese, hostess, at the home of Mrs. Elsie Maney. A very interesting and beneficial meeting was had by the ladies. Mrs. Rose Smith was hostess to the club Thursday of this week at the same place.

Mrs. William Badger returned to her home in Gearhart, Oregon Friday morning of last week.

Mr. Holman Crawford who came here from California has entered Oregon State College at Corvallis.

Raymond Just Escaped
Being Mere Doctor

Strangest thing about the Magician Raymond is—he's a regular fellow. There are no rabbits in his hat, no snakes in his pockets, no flames coming from his nostrils. He smokes a cigar like the president of a bank, drinks a glass of soda water with the same abandon that a high school teacher would follow. Doing magic for Maurice F. Raymond is simply a means of bringing home the bacon, plus a watermelon now and then and a case or two of Mumm's extra dry. Mr. Raymond arrived in Portland yesterday and played a week's stage engagement Sunday at the Playhouse.

"I narrowly escaped being a doctor," Mr. Raymond explained. "I should have been one, perhaps, for both of my grandfathers, my father and a line of uncles were doctors. But one uncle was also an amateur magician. He was attempting to practice medicine, but patients paid their bills so rarely that he had to take his little box of tricks on the stage."

And here Mr. Raymond said that magicians are born, not taught in after years. But he didn't use the old expression; this is how he put it: "For at least six months before my advent into the world my mother acted as my uncle's chief critic, helped him prepare his musical program, made table covers and other things for his shows. He would present these performances at churches, in homes, at schools and in homes, mother helping him as much as she could. When I was born and before I was 15 minutes old, my uncle placed a deck of cards in one of my tiny hands and a magic wand in the other. Years later he is said to have regretted those strange doings."

But the Great Raymond, this being the professional name of Maurice F., didn't start right out saving women in two on the stage, making rabbits fall from a sunbonnet, and producing a bucket of water out of a small lady's purse. It took years before he made a tour of the United States with the magic uncle who quit pills for the playhouse. On the way home from the tour this kinsman married in Chicago and gave his nephew two trunks of magic equipment.

"I returned to school that fall," the visitor said, "and on Friday afternoon, when the other pupils would recite 'The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck,' or sing 'Coming Through the Rye,' I would give a trick out of my uncle's trunk. By the end of the school year I had a sizeable collection of them. At 15 I was a good amateur magician. That year my grandfather took me to London on a visit. A banquet gave me my chance. I was asked to do something, and I gave them my best tricks. They were good, too."

"Fred Slater, an American, was then manager of the old Empire music hall. He heard of my stuff and coaxed my grandfather to allow me to go on for two weeks. This stretched into five weeks—and I've been at it ever since."

LIBERTY THEATER SHOW STARTING FRIDAY OCT. 13TH
"Too Much Harmony", Paramount's lavish musical production featuring the same array of stars as "College Humor", comes to the Liberty theater today, along with the second of the eight-act vaudeville bills from the Bert Lacey national circuit.

Featuring Bing Crosby, and the comedy team of Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher, along with Lilyan Tashman, Ned Sparks, Harry Green, Judith Allen, and a bevy of Hollywood's most beautiful girls, "Too Much Harmony" is said to be a top-notch entertainment from the standpoint of beauty, songs, comedy and romance.

The story centers around the activities of a musical comedy troupe, with Bing Crosby cast as the romantic star, and Judith Allen, as the "Elna" with whom he eventually falls in love.

Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher, as the small-town vaudeville team who go to the big city to "make good" provide much of the comedy element.

Outstanding in the film are two chorus numbers, "Buckin' the Wind" and "Black Moonlight", said to be decidedly unique in the beauty and cleverness of their presentation.

The new vaudeville bill brings another stellar array of talent, with the Blossom Sisters in song and laugh travesty bits; Wally and Verdy, probably the fastest and "craziest" dancers on the stage today, displaying something new in dancing; Joe Jackson, Jr., son of the famed Joe Jackson, tramp comic, offering his own brand of comedy; Ward, Pinky and Terry, featured two seasons ago in the Earl Carroll Vanties, in pantomimic comedy from that evening; Seymour and Corneob, "Hollywood" Hit"; Will Aubrey, "Bard of the Byways"; and the Pina family, sensational tumbling troupe imported from Mexico city, completes the new program.

Cecil Jordan, middleweight, of Los Angeles, California, colored, met Jack Crim, middleweight of Klamath Falls, Friday night at the Bachelor's Club at St. Johns. Main Street, of Atlanta met Huddle Zeller of Vancouver Barracks. Both heavyweights.

SEE JOE WATERMAN'S CARD NEXT TUESDAY NITE
FFlight fans are looking forward to next Tuesday's night fight card with a great deal of enthusiasm, when Joe Waterman will strap on a boxing glove at the Auditorium featuring Ah Wing Lee who vs Billy Wallace. Lee is a favorite here and a large crowd is expected to attend the show.

Several interesting curtain-raisers will also be on the program. Popular admission prices prevail.
