INVESTIGATES ALA. LYNCHINGS

(Continued from page one) Ffith Avenue, New York City. The vall was decided upon at a meeting of the Committee held at the studio of Horace Gregory, poet, in New York, It was signed by Mr. Gregory, Kyle Crichton, editor of Scribner's Magazine; Edward Dahlberg, the novelist beaten by German Nazis in Berlin last summer. Isidor Schneider, poet; Fred Marsh, writer, and Alfred H. Hirsch, secretary f the National Committee.

The call notes that "Terror against the Negro reigns in Alabama." And that: "This promise to be particularly sharply brought out in Decatur where the Scottsboro trials are to take place beginnig November 27."

Excerpts from affidavits made by nvestigators who visited Morgan County where Decatur is situated, and nterviewed 500 persons, are also inluded. Many of those interviewedand whose names and addresses are cited-threatened 'those Scottsboro boys and those Jew Lawyers (attorneys for the International Labor Defense are meant)" with lynching.

A statement issued from the ofice of the National Committee says in

"The anounced refusal of Attroney General Knight and of Judge Callahan to provide protection in Decatur increases a thousandful the danger of ynching. There is no question of the terror which exists. If Judge Callahan nsists on regarding the Scottsboro rial as "an ordinary criminal case," he observers who are in Decatur may For the first time in the Marx Brothby the only bulwark against violence ers' screen career one of the films has and death." a definite story.
