LOCAL NOTES.

J. W. Hickel, Jacksonville's jeweler is securing considerable work and he is so incouraged that he thinks he will make a success of his venture here.

Elder M. Brownrigg, who has had charge of the Christian church at Phoenix has accepted a call to the Christian church at Silverton, Oregon, and last week he moved to that place and began work in his new field.

Soap from 5c up at the City Drug Store.

Terry Bryne from Watkins was in Jacksonville Thursday greeting his old-time friends. He is a miner of 42 years experience in various parts of the West and he thinks the Applegate copper district will yet prove to be one of the richest in the United States.

James Elliott and Phil Gleve went to Little Applegate Wednesday on a fishing trip of several days. Uncle Jimmie is Senior Oracle of the Ancient and Honorable Prevaricators and during his absence that oldest of Jacksonville societies is having a recess from its daily sessions.

P. T. Deish, one of the stenographers in Reams & Reames law office and book-keeper for the Jacksonville Gas Company has been taking a lay-off from his duties for a couple of days this week, to enable him to give more attention to the cutting of a wisdom tooth. While considered by his friends to be a pretty bright young man, yet he says that if he gets added wisdom in proportion to the uproar that this one tooth has created in his mental faculties that when he gets his three other wisdom teeth he will have all the wisdom of a Solomon, or an alderman.

The Medford Enquirer has ceased publication, leaving but three papers in that town, the Democratic Times, the Southern Oregonian and the Mail. Horace Mann, the editor, while conducting the Enquirer as a Democratic organ, got him self out of line with the majority of the Democrats of Jackson county, and to add to his difficulties he made an unwarranted, anarchistic attack upon President Roosevelt, bringing upon himself the wrath of all classes of citizens with the result that he lost so much patronage that he was forced to suspend his paper. Mr. Mann has gone to California to seek a new location, his wife remaining with her relatives on Griffin creek for the time being. There is a probability that the plant will be bought up by some Democrats and re-established under another name.

Highest market price in cash paid for wool. We have wool bags, fleece twine, sheep dip for sale. Nunan, Jacksonville.

James M. Matney of Central Point was in Jacksonville Thursday to sign up his pension vouchers before Judge Silas J. Day, U. S. Commissioner. Mr. Matney received this week his first remittance on his pension as an Indian War Veteran and he also received a service allowance of $64.87. Mr. Matney was 1st Sergt. in Company G, Capt. Miles M. Alcom, 2nd Oregon Mounted Infantry, being mustered in on October 10, 1855, and served in the Rogue River Indian War until the following year when he secured a leave of absence and returned to his home on account of urgent private business. Judge Day also served in Capt. Alcom's command serving as orderly sergeant, and Wednesday received his pension and service vouchers from the government disbursing officer at San Francisco. Mr. Matney though almost 82 years old is quite hearty and strong and drove his own team from Central Point to Jacksonville. He expects to leave next Monday for Klamath Falls on a two weeks visit with his son, John H. Matney, who has a stock ranch near that place. He will be accompanied by Chas. Adams and family who go there to reside.

Miller at the Postoffice hardware store carries all kinds of miners tools and supplies and his supplies and prices are right.
