

JACKSONVILLE SENTINEL

Vol. 1

Jacksonville, Jackson County, Oregon. Friday, July 17, 1903.

No. 10

LOCAL NOTES.

No preaching services will be held at the M. E. church next Sunday.

Herbert Hanna went to Grants Pass Wednesday evening to remain until Saturday on a visit with friends.

Slabwood for sale by the Iowa Lumber Company at their mill for 50 cents per load and at their lumber yard for $1 per load.

M. M. Gault, manager of the Medford Machine Shop, was in Jacksonville this Friday overhauling the gasoline engine at S. P. DeRobaum's pumping station.

Tents, camp stoves and camping utensils at Boyden's hardware store, Medford.

Now that Rev. S. H. Jones has returned regular services by him will be resumed at the Presbyterian church. There will be service Sunday evening at 8 o'clock to which he extends a cordial invitation to all to attend.

John Spiker, a Montana mining man who is interested in the Applegate copper district, came in from Watkins Tuesday to remain about a week in Jacksonville when he will again return to his claims on Squaw creek.

Prospectors, campers, timberland cruisers will find our stock of staple and fancy groceries quite complete, and prices always the lowest at Nunan's, Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel VanDyke and children of Phoenix passed through Jacksonville Friday morning on their way to Little Applegate where they will spend a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kleinhammer.

Mrs. C. Grater of Hilt, Cal., visited Jacksonville on business Thursday and Friday of this week. Mrs. Grater is in charge of the boarding house of the Hilt Lumber company, which is conducted by the Mee Bros., six miles from Coles, Cal.

W. L. Williams a former Jacksonville boy is here on a short business trip connected with the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Morat. Mr. Williams now resides in San Francisco, where he holds the position of librarian in the Mechanics library in that city.

Wedding stationery, the latest out, at the Sentinel office.

The Iowa Lumber Company is now in a position to bid on filling a contract for a building of any kind. They can supply on short notice the best quality of seasoned dressed lumber, mouldings, turned work, casings, door and window frames, lath and dimension timbers of any size. Car loads a specialty.

Clifton McArthur of Portland arrived in Jacksonville Thursday to spend a couple of days with his cousin, Mrs. John S. Orth, after which he will go to Sterling to visit at the home of his uncle, Hon. H. E. Ankeny. Mr. McArthur is one of the bright young journalists of the state and is on the Oregonian staff.

Chas. Dunford, who is the hustling drayman for Jacksonville, has had so much work offered, especially outside hauling to the country and to Medford that he has decided to put on another team, which will be handled by his son, Charles. Monday Mr. Dunford went to Medford and bought a fine heavy wagon through D. T. Lawton of Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Company. He has one extra horse and he will buy another one at once and be fitted up for all the hauling that comes his way.

Business with the Jacksonville Livery Stable has shown the same increase that business in all other lines in Jacksonville has experienced and while Geo. N. Lewis the proprietor has a very complete line of rigs yet he found need for more and he has lately added another buggy, hack and a heavy wagon to his outfit. Mr. Lewis has one of the best equipped livery stable in Southern Oregon, and his driving teams can be depended on as goers and to get there in less than a time and a half, and not keep one on the road at a freight team pace.

Joseph Blatt is quite sick at his home on south Oregon street with dropsy and Thursday his distress became so great that Dr. Robinson drew from him about a gallon and a half of fluid, which greatly relieved him. As Mr. Blatt is 78 years old his age is rather against his recovery, but Dr. Robinson thinks it is possible that he may gain his health. Mr. Blatt is one of the pioneers of Oregon and has been a miner by trade and had all the ups and downs of a miners life, but he had been fairly successful and has a competency laid up. He has no family.

Word has been received from Judge Hanna that he will probably adjourn circuit court at Grants Pass on Saturday of this week. The docket is very short and the few criminal cases up for hearing were quickly disposed of by District Attorney A. E. Reames, who by getting his evidences in so convincingly got each of the three accused persons to plead guilty, and Judge Hanna at once passed sentences upon them; John Knapp for pointing a gun at another person was given a fine of $20 and cost; M. M. Richard for house-breaking was given two years in the penitentiary and A. B. Law for stealing a bicycle one year in the penitentiary. Both Judge Hanna and District Attorney Reames are expected home this Saturday.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 10 I. O. O. F., will hold an installation of officers this Saturday evening. The work will be under the charge of District Deputy F. M. Wilson of Medford and those to be installed are John Huffer, Jr., N. G., Eugene Thompson, V. G.; Silas J. Day, treasurer, and S. P. DeRobaum, secretary. Following the installation a light lunch will be served. Monday evening the Rebekahs will hold their installation, which will be conducted by Mrs. Mammie Dox, district deputy. The officers to be installed will be Mrs. Alice Ulrich, noble grand; Mrs. Frances Wilson, vice grand; Miss Emma Helms, financial secretary and Mrs. Mammie Dox recording secretary. The Rebekahs too will have a lunch following their installation work.

Clarence Hafer superintendent of the sawmill of the Iowa Lumber Company, will leave Sunday for a three weeks trip to his home at Council Bluffs, Iowa. Mr. Hafer will go by way of San Francisco, where he will stop for a couple of days on business for his company. During his absence his brother, Edgar Hafer, superintendent of the company's planing mill, will have charge of the entire plant of the company. On August 1st there will be a meeting at the company's headquarters in Council Bluffs of the stockholders of the Iowa Lumber Company, at which time it will be decided as to what will be done in regard to putting in a new sawmill here. While nothing definite is known as to the plans of the company yet it is almost certain that their new mill will be built in Jacksonville and along side the railroad track.

The eleventh annual assembly of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua Association began Wednesday at Ashland and will be in session until Friday of next week. Those attending from Jacksonville report the assembly fully up to the former years in fact in some respects it is the best yet held by the Association. Were transportation facilities better there would be a large attendance from Jacksonville and vicinity. The railroad time for the afternoon north bound train leaves Ashland before the afternoon session closes, while to attend the evening session one has to remain in Ashland until 4 o'clock the next morning before a train goes north. To drive to Ashland in a vehicle is more of a task than most people care to undertake for the 36 miles of the round trip through the stifling dust of a Jackson County road is enough to choke the enthusiasm of the most ardent Chautauquen. Were the roads more macadamized so that there would be no dust, or were there trains at seasonable hours, there would be a large number of Jacksonville people attend the Chautauqua each day.

Rev. S. H. Jones and his bride arrived in Jacksonville Tuesday from the wedding tour in California. They went as far south as Los Angeles and had a most delightful trip. Thursday evening a reception was given Rev. and Mrs. Jones in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church that was very largely attended by members of Rev. Jones' church and by the citizens in general of Jacksonville. It was a most happy event and shows the appreciation in which Rev. Jones is held in this town as well as the cordial and hospitable feeling, with which strangers are made welcome to Jacksonville. The Sentinel, without meaning to flatter, can say that Mrs. Jones made a most favorable impression by her grace and attainments and Rev. Jones is held by his Jacksonville friends to be a very fortunate man in securing her for a life companion. A reception committee composed of Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Mrs. Gus Newbury, Mrs. John F. Miller and Miss Sutton saw that Mrs. Jones was made known to those attending, and they also made it a point to see that there was not a dull moment during the entire evening for all present and right well did they succeed for it was truly a time of mirth and good feeling. Fruit was served by Leona Ulrich, Mary Colvig and Clara Elmer and the young ladies were kept busy the entire evening for their punch was delicious and refreshing.

Jacksonville will be well represented at the Grand Lodges of Workmen and the Degree of Honor which meet in Portland next Tuesday. The delegation from here which will leave Sunday will be made up of Mr. and Mrs. Colvig, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reames, Mrs. Arthur Haney and Adam Schmidt. Mrs. Haney goes as delegate to the Degree of Honor grand lodge and Mr. Schmidt and Reames as delegate to the A. O. U. W. grand lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Colvig are each officers in the grand lodges of the two orders, Mr. Colvig being chairman of the judiciary committee of the Workmen and Mrs. Colvig being grand chief of ceremonies in the Degree of Honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Robinson returned Monday from their bridal trip and that evening they were given a serenade by their friends to whom icecream and cigars were served. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will be at home at the Taylor House.

A new 3 1/2 x 11 Bain wagon, never used but to haul eight loads of lumber, and paint not even scratched. Sold at a bargain. Stored at Jacksonville Livery Stable. Inquire of GEO. LEWIS.
