Henry Kubli was a Monday evening visitor to Jacksonville coming over from his Applegate ranch for a repair to his mowing machine. Mr. Kubli has one of the big alfalfa meadows of the Applegate and unlimited quantities of water for irrigation purposes which gives a productiveness that makes certain three crops of hay a year. Mr. Kubli has already harvested one crop of hay and he is putting up the second crop and in September he will have the third crop to harvest.

The semi-annual statement of State Treasurer Moore shows that the annual apportionment of school funds on August 1st, will be the largest in the history of the state. The apportionment last year exceeded that of any previous year, but the money to be distributed this year will be fully six percent greater. The total amount of money in the state treasury on July 1, was $1,278,137.42, of which $717,995.38 was in the irreducible school fund and in the common school interest fund. A year ago the interest contained $189,414.84. During July large payments of interest will be made, thus swelling the amount to be apportioned August 1st.

Mr. and S. T. Combs from Habart Oklahoma, arrived in Jacksonville Monday evening on a visit with C. P. Briggs. Mrs. Combs and Mr. Briggs are brother and sister and it has been 20 years since they have met before this time. Mr. and Mrs. Combs left Tuesday evening for Gervais, Marion county, where they attend a family reunion after which they will start on their homeward trip, going via the Sound where they will make a stop at Everett to visit Mrs. Briggs, who is there on a visit with her mother. Mr. Combs is treasurer of Kiowa county, Oklahoma, and his duties are such that he can make but a brief stop on this Coast, but what he has seen of Southern Oregon is well pleased with. He reports crops good and time, prosperous in Oklahoma.
