Cinnabar Items.

Yreka people are coming in and Cinnabar is lively.

Robert Armstrong and Harry Luy left Friday. The camp regrets to see them leave.

Messrs. Coughill and Humason are at work on their Cinnabar property and have a fine showing.

Mr. Nunan, Jacksonville's genial merchant, is looking well and gaining in weight. He expects to stay another month.

Mr. Garrison, proprietor of Cinnabar Hotel, is the same genial, good old soul as of yore and does his very best to make it pleasant for his guests.

Mr. Carrick and family of Yreka and Miss Richardson of San Francisco are camped here and add very much to the social life of the camp.

Frank Edwards, one of the owners of a good piece of property near the Blue Ledge on Jo Creek, has been spending a vacation at the Springs living on the luxuries of the camp.

R. H. S. Donaldson-Selby, the Duke of the upper camp, stands high in the estimation of the fair sex here and does not venture far from camp. His friends will be glad to hear that the medical quality of Prof. Job Garrison's springs has started a fine growth of hair on that spot that seemed to need so much irrigation.

Arthur Baxter, the proprietor of the No Percentage Drug Co. of San Francisco, has distinguished himself at Cinnabar Springs as a great hunter. Seated by the camp fire one night, he said to his companions: "I have a date with a monster buck in the morning." True to his word the buck met him on the Cinnabar trail about half a mile from camp and tried to run over him when his gun exploded accidentally and hit the deer in the eye. After standing over the monster for a few minutes he decided to retrace the trail for help. Another foolish yearling attempted to stop his course when with an excited yell and a wild look of alarm he pointed the gun in the direction of the deer, shut his eyes, pulled the trigger of his gun and the deer fell dead at his feet. With great alarm he fled to camp for assistance. The proudest "High Muck A Muck" of the Cinnabar Camp, Mr. Baxter went out fishing one day and brought into camp the neatest string of fish yet caught but when he arrived at the Cinnabar resort about a hundred yards from camp he wanted to camp for the night. San Francisco papers please copy.
