

LOCAL NOTES.

Saturday, August 26. — Regular meeting of Rogue River Fruitgrowers Union at J. A. Perry's office, Medford.

Slabwood in stove lengths $1.00 per load at saw mill—Iowa Lumber Co.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller spent Wednesday and Thursday in Ashland on a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Henry Kubli and Mrs. E. B. Watson went to Wagner Springs Tuesday to spend a week at that resort.

If you have any Timber land you want to sell—See T. C. Norris.

Wm. M. Colvig left Monday for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he goes to attend the National Fraternal Congress. Mr. Colvig will be absent about two weeks.

John Renault, who formerly resided in Montana, but who is now a loyal resident of Jacksonville, sent two boxes of plums to R. A. Esty, an old-time friend at Garnett, Montana, as a proof of what Oregon can do in the fruit line. They went by express last Wednesday.

Hay Wanted—A car load of baled hay wanted at once by the Iowa Lumber Co. Jacksonville, Ore.

Miss Inez Kitchin of Ashland was in Jacksonville Monday and Tuesday attending to the disposal of the personal property of her late grand-uncle, Jesse Huggins, whose death took place at Medford last Friday, and who was buried in the Jacksonville cemetery, Saturday.

Miss Francis Barnes, who since leaving Jacksonville two weeks ago, has been a guest first at the home Mrs. M. M. Cooksey at Central Point and then at the home of Mrs. Horace Pelton at Sams Valley, went to Coleson Wednesday accompanied by Mrs. Pelton, where they will spend a week.

T. C. Norris returned Tuesday from Big Butte where he had been looking after his homestead which he has in that locality. Mr. Norris brought with him a number of potatoes grown upon his place that were the equal to the best grown in Oregon. There is no doubt that when the timber is removed and a good road built that the Butte creek valley will be the potato district of Jackson county, for the deep clay soil is especially adapted to raising large crops of potatoes that are of better quality than any grown on the lowlands.

O. A. Nuckolls, after spending several days in Jacksonville left Saturday for his home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mr. Nuckolls is a wealthy farmer and wishing to get into a milder climate than that of Iowa has been looking over the Pacific Coast with a view of selecting a location. He has been traveling for the past six weeks and he found no section that suited him so well as the Rogue River Valley and it is more than probable that he will be a Jacksonville resident before the close of the year. Mr. Nuckolls was a former schoolmate of Mrs. A. D. Flory back in Iowa and while here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Flory.

Anything needed in the furniture line can be had at C. W. Conklin's. I especially solicit orders for fine goods. Can save you money.

Dr. A. T. Kaupp of Diller, Nebraska, left Jacksonville Tuesday for San Francisco, after spending several days here on a visit to his brother-in-law, Dr. R. G. Gale. Dr. Kaupp is a young man whose appearance indicates that he has the qualities that will put him well to the front in his profession and being ambitious he is seeking a broader field and is looking over the Pacific Coast with a view of finding a location more to his liking than he has in the East. He was greatly pleased with Jacksonville and had there not been two physicians in the place he would have located here.

C. P. Briggs, pharmacist at the City Drug store, returned Wednesday from a weeks trip to the Willamette Valley, where he visited relatives at Gervais and other points. Mrs. Briggs, who has been spending the past two months with her parents at Everett, Wash., met Mr. Briggs at Gervais and accompanied him home. She had a delightful time and while greatly enjoying the summer weather of the Puget Sound country, was glad to get back to the land where the winter months are not one long period of sunless days and water-laden skies. Mr. Briggs reports crops good and prosperity abroad in all the Willamette land.

I found nothing better for liver derangement and constipation than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.—L. F. Andrews, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by City Drug Store.

G. M. Byrket and George Palmer, friends back in old Iowa of Mr. Geo. T. Fox, bookkeeper in the Jackson County Bank at Medford, arrived in Jacksonville Saturday and remained over until Monday when they returned to Medford. Mr. Byrket and Mr. Palmer are wealthy timbermen of the East, residing at Red-rock, Iowa, and are on this Coast looking for a timber investment and a location for a big sawmill and a logging railroad. They were favorably impressed with the timber resources of the Rogue river valley and may make an investment here. Of Jacksonville they had very kind words to say. The delightful weather and cool nights, the pretty homes, the pure water and the evidence of prosperity, together with the grand scenery of the hills and valley about the town gave them a most favorable impression of the place.

Capt. Kinder Boaz, who recently sold his fine farm on Applegate and moved to Jacksonville, has bought the acre tract of land on East California street belonging to C. S. Fling, the purchase price being $550. The ground is fenced and all in garden and has several fruit trees upon it. A small dwelling house and a small barn are the buildings upon it. There was a large dwelling upon it a few years ago when the property belonged to Peter Redlinger, but it was destroyed by fire. Capt. Boaz and Mrs. Boaz will move to their new home next Monday. It is the intention of the Captain to erect a commodious residence this fall. The property is in one of the most desirable parts of Jacksonville and it will make a comfortable home place for Capt. and Mrs. Boaz. Mr. Fling was a former resident of Willamette valley, but left there by reason of ill-health. Since coming to Jacksonville his health has been so good that he has determined to stay, and will purchase a small tract of land convenient to town and will engage in the garden business.

Send the Sentinel to your distant relatives and friends and let them know that the old town has awakened from its dreams and is now once more upon the map as one of the growing, hustling towns of Southern Oregon.

C. B. Bishop and A. G. Bishop, two Spokane mining men, who have been prospecting in the Applegate and other districts for the past few months, were in Jacksonville Tuesday. They did not express themselves as very favorably impressed with the present mining conditions in Southern Oregon. They think the country is full of mineral wealth and has a certainty of having many rich quartz mines, but by reason of certain conditions it will be slow in developing. In the first place they found the country hard to prospect in by reason of the great depth of the soil over most of the hills and the growth of timber, underbrush and trash on the ground. Another serious drawback is the lax mining laws that are evaded by claimholders, who do nothing and yet will allow no outsiders to take up the claims. The Bishops have mined in British Columbia and they favor the laws of that country better than those of the United States. At the end of the first year he has to make oath as to the amount of work he has done and for each subsequent assessment work oath has to be made and if a person finds that a claim holder has not as much as they alledge then the person can file a contest with the gold commissioner and through competent witnesses the matter is proven for or against the claim holder. That prevents the endless litigation that is so frequent in American districts and forces claim holders to observe the laws for if they have sworn to a false oath the penalty is very severe.

1500 pound draft horses suitable for hauling heavy freight. Apply to Matt Calhoun, Phoenix, Oregon.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best Salve on earth and will prevent fatality, when Burns, Sores, Ulcers and Piles threaten. Only 25c. at City Drug Store

FRUITGROWERS' CONVENTION
Court House Park
Jacksonville, Oregon
September 5, 1903

This convention is to be held under the auspices of the Rogue River Fruitgrowers' Union and the Jacksonville Board of Trade. Best array of talent ever had at a Southern Oregon Fruitgrowers' meeting.

The leading speakers will be:

Hon. E. L. Smith, Pres. State Board of Horticulture, and Hood River F. U.

Prof. A. B. Cordley, Entomologist State Agricultural College.

Prof. E. R. Lake, Botanist and Horticulturist, State Agricultural College.

Hon. A. H. Carson, Commissioner 3rd Dist., State Board of Horticulture.

The assurance is also given that if possible there will be present:

W. E. Coman, Gen. Pas. & Freight Agt., Southern Pacific Lines in Oregon.

H. E. Lounsbury, Traveling Freight Agt., S. P. Lines in Oregon.

At this Convention Fruitgrowers will have a rare opportunity to gain much valuable knowledge as to methods and benefits to be had from a Fruitgrowers' Union; how to recognize and fight fruit pests; how to select trees and grow and care for an orchard and market fruit; the successes and failures of orchards as influenced by soils and locations; freight rates and transportation problems, and facts on many other points of special interest to the orchardist.
