The school Board has taken out the black boards from two of the school rooms and have put in their place the hyloplats, which will be a great improvement over the old boards. Any school district in need of black boards can secure the old boards at a reasonable figure.

Down About Woodville.

Clifford Schindler is visiting at the Kaley farm near Central Point for a few days.

Wayne Gibson returned last week after an absence of several months in Portland.

Will Belcher who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Hair, returned to Grants Pass Sunday.

C. A. Clark and family will leave next week for Cottage Grove, where Mr. Clark has rented a farm for the coming year.

A telephone line is being erected from the Dredger Co.'s plant on Foots Creek to the main line about two and a half miles east of Woodville.

A large number of people from Woodville and vicinity attended Ringling Bros. circus last Saturday and report having enjoyed themselves very much.

Messrs. Howard and Davis, from Howard's station on the Ashland Klamath Falls stage road, were at the county seat Monday to confer with Supt. P. H. Daily about dividing the Wagner Springs school district. The district is very large and there are about a dozen scholars living near Howard's station which is over seven miles to the school house and the greater part of the distance is up the Green Springs hill making it impossible in stormy weather to go to school even on horseback.

Those living in that part of the district wish to be set off into a district so that their children can have school privileges. The matter will be brought before the district boundary board in proper form at its next meeting.

FRUITGROWERS' CONVENTION

Court House Park Jacksonville, Oregon September 5, 1903

This convention is to be held under the auspices of the Rogue River Fruitgrowers' Union and the Jacksonville Board of Trade. Best array of talent ever had at a Southern Oregon Fruitgrowers' meeting.

The leading speakers will be

Hon. E. L. Smith, Pres. State Board of Horticulture, and Hood River F. U.

Prof. A. B. Cordley, Entomologist State Agricultural College.

Prof. E. R. Lake, Botanist and Horticulturist, State Agricultural College.

Hon. A. H. Carson, Commissioner 3rd Dist., State Board of Horticulture.

The assurance is also given that if possible there will be present:

W. E. Coman, Gen. Pas. & Freight Agt., Southern Pacific Lines in Oregon.

H. E. Lounsbury, Traveling Freight Agt., S. P. Lines in Oregon.

At this Convention Fruitgrowers will have a rare opportunity to gain much valuable knowledge as to methods and benefits to be had from a Fruitgrowers' Union; how to recognize and fight fruit pests; how to select trees and grow and care for an orchard and market fruit; the successes and failures of orchards as influenced by soils and locations; freight rates and transportation problems, and facts on many other points of special interest to the orchardist.

FRUITGROWERS
