

JACKSONVILLE SENTINEL

Vol. I

Jacksonville, Jackson County, Oregon. Friday, September 25, 1903.

No. 20

LOCAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Von der Hellen of Wellen were in Jacksonville Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nunan.

J. Parks, the Buncom postmaster, is hauling shakes this week from Jacksonville to the Sterling mine for Henry Ankeny who is building another barn, this barn to be for his carriage horses and cows.

Earl Kane, whose parents were former residents of this place, but who now reside at Vancouver, where Mr. Kane is doing a profitable business with a harness shop, is in Jacksonville this week on a visit to his friends and schoolmates.

If you want to rent a farm or have land to rent see T. C. Norris, Jacksonville.

Mrs. Gus Newbury entertained Tuesday Mrs. Adelia Gilmore of Sacramento, who is her great aunt and Miss Bertha Rose of Phoenix, a sister. Mrs. Gilmore is spending the fall in the valley visiting with relatives in Phoenix, Medford and Jacksonville.

Frank Kirby, a well known stock buyer of San Francisco is in Southern Oregon buying beef for James McDumolt, a big wholesale dealer of that city. Mr. Kirby has bought 150 head of Wm. Ulrich and he is looking over a number of other herds in the valley.

Surprise egg whips, best on the market at Boyden's hardware store, Medford.

H. C. Shearer, who with J. H. Mattoon is doing the logging for both the Jackson County and the Iowa Lumber Company's mills, has moved his family from the Jackson County mill where they have resided during the summer to Jacksonville and they will occupy the Voyle house on South Oregon street.

George Love who has been in business in Tauana, Alaska, for the past two years and who came back a short time ago on a business trip has decided to spend the winter in Southern Oregon and he has sent for Mrs. Love, who has been in Alaska with him and she will be here in about three or four weeks. Mr. Love will probably return to Alaska in the spring.

Sheriff J. M. Rader went to the Dead Indian range Wednesday to assist his brother John to bring in 130 head of beef cattle, which they will put in a pasture on the Rawlins place near Central Point. Rader Brothers had 40 head of other beef cattle that they intended to bring it, but the price of beef being too low to meet their figures they turned them back on the range and will hold them over until another season.

The kindergarten music school is getting to be quite popular in the East as in it little folks are given a start in the study of music at a time when it will not interfere with their school studies and it prepares them for a thorough understanding of music with little effort on their part or loss of time. Mrs. Susan Neil will organize a children's class in music if she can secure a sufficient number of pupils to make it an object.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Myers will move from Jacksonville to their farm a mile east of Central Point about the middle of October. While their departure from Jacksonville is regretted by the many friends that they have made in the year that they have been residents of the town yet as they are going to what can be made one of the most home-like places in the Valley and a fruit farm that will be more profitable than any ordinary town venture, so only the best wishes is theirs.

Calling cards, the latest in style and printed so neatly as to resemble copperplate work at the Sentinel office.

Rev. Edwin B. Lockhart preached his farewell sermon for this conference year Sunday evening in the M. E. church, which was well filled with an appreciative congregation. So well has his work pleased his parishioners and the citizens in general of Jacksonville that a petition has been quite generally signed asking that he be returned by the conference, which meets in Salem on September 30th, to this circuit for the coming year. Rev. Lockhart is an industrious, capable young man who makes friends readily and who has the education and the ability to preach a sermon worth listening to and his rise in the ministry is a fact that is certain and will be an honor that he will have fully earned and deserves.

Superintendent P. H. Daily was taken suddenly ill the last of last week and for several days he was quite sick but he is now gaining steadily with every prospect of soon regaining his health.

W. P. Wetsel, who bought this spring the E. Farra place at Willow Springs will plant 20 acres to orchard this winter and increase each year until he has 100 acres to fruit trees.

T. C. Norris returned Thursday from a three day's trip to Big Butte where he had been to show Thos. McClander, a prospective settler, the rich land of that section.

Mamma Schmidt left Tuesday for Dunsuir where she will spend a week with her daughter, Mrs. L. Savage, after which she will go on to San Francisco to spend a week with friends. During Mrs. Schmidt's absence the Schmidt boarding house is presided over by her daughter Mrs. B. F. Hanney, with Papa Schmidt as officer of the day.

George Hamilton moved his family back to Jacksonville last Sunday from Woodville where he has been hauling lumber from the Evans creek mills to Woodville. Mr. Hamilton is now helping S. C. Swaggerty and Basil Gregory on a contract of hauling lumber from the Iowa Lumber Company's mill to the Ray dam on Rogue river.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James left Friday for Tacoma where they will reside for this winter, but there is a likelihood that they will return to Jackson county next spring. Mr. James is a millman by trade and has been employed in the saw mills in this vicinity for some months past and as the mills will soon shut down for the winter he goes North where he can get steady work at good wages.

The mill of the Iowa Lumber Company is now making an average of 25,000 feet a day, an output that has not been had previously since the mill was started over a year ago. Another fact that is of special interest to the stockholders is that the output for last month was 150,000 feet greater than any previous month and with a much less expense account and the output and the expense account for this month promises to be even more satisfactory to the stockholders. President C. Hafer and Treasurer E. E. Hart, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa, will arrive in Jacksonville the middle of next week. Their coming is in connection with possible changes in their plant here that if carried will be of great advantage to Jacksonville and vicinity.

J. S. Herrin, a pioneer of Rogue River valley and who had a donation claim six miles east of Jacksonville, but who for 20 years past has been a resident of the upper valley, four miles north of Ashland, was in the countyseat Friday. Mr. Herrin has one of the finest bands of sheep on the Pacific coast. He is breeding the Rambouillet, a celebrated French wool and mutton sheep. These sheep average 200 pounds in size and as wool producers have no superiors. From two bucks Mr. Herrin sheared this last spring 86 pounds, the heaviest clip being 46 pounds, a record not equalled in this county and excelled by few sheep in the United States. He has many ewes that shear 18 pounds each year and raise a lamb. The wool is fine in quality and brings the top prices. Mr. Herrin has 2000 head of these sheep and he has never fed a pound of hay or grain in any winter. In the summer he runs his sheep on the mountains on the head of Applegate and when the snow drives them out in the fall he takes them to the high hills east of this valley until again compelled to move when he takes them to the lower levels where he has pastures that have been held in reserve for them. In the winters when snow covers the pastures he puts them on brush land and they browse twigs and such grass as they can dig out of the snow. He says that he has a smaller per cent loss of sheep or of lambs than do the sheepmen who feed whenever snow is on the ranges. He has all his fall and winter ranges fenced and is thus able to hold the feed until wanted and he lets the sheep on only a small part at a time instead of running on the whole of it and then starving.
