

LOCAL NOTES.

Wanted.—A ratchet-setter and a grader behind the edger at the Iowa Lumber Company's mill.

Mrs. T. Hinkle went to Thompson creek Wednesday by Wendt's stage to visit for a week with her daughter Mrs. Fred Ruch.

Warren Smith a boy whose home is at Hilts in Siskiyou county, has enrolled at the Jacksonville High School. While attending school he is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDaniel.

Trespass notices on cloth sent by mail to any address for 75 cents a dozen.

W. M. Scheble who has a fine farm on Griffin creek is hauling alfalfa hay to Jacksonville this week for which he is getting $15 a ton. As Mr. Scheble gets from four to six tons to the acre and is not like the fruit men under a big expense for cultivating, trimming and spraying he thinks that an alfalfa field is a money maker equal to the best orchard.

Calcutta wheat bags, barley or oat bags. Shawsheen linen bag twine, in lots to suit. Numan-Taylor Co.

H. B. Austin one of the new settlers on Anderson creek was in Jacksonville Monday. Mr. Austin is preparing to engage in fruit growing and he has a small acreage now planted. Early last spring he planted a small patch of strawberries as a trial and so well have they succeeded that he expects to plant a larger patch so soon as he can arrange for irrigation. Mr. Austin states that his plants commenced bearing early in the season and they are yet bearing berries of good size and fine flavor.

Wedding stationery, the latest out, at the Sentinel office.

John Margreiter Jr., son of John Margreiter Sr. of Poormans Creek, left Wednesday for Corvallis where he will enter the State Agricultural College. Johnny is but 15 years old and this is his first trip out of Jackson county, but he has the courage and the determination to make his way and to attain success in his studies. He will take the agricultural course and make of himself a farmer and one that will know why in all work that he does and not depend upon guess and chance as do so many farmers to bring success in their farm work.

Home-cooked meals, 25 cents at Mrs. Flory's in the brick boarding house second block north of the Court House.

Geo. E. Neuber, Judge Chas. Prim and T. J. Kenney went by train last Saturday to Grants Pass, where they were joined by Dr. Reddy and the party proceeded by private conveyance to Crescent City. The object of the trip is in connection with a pending deal involving the Blue Ledge copper claims, the owners of which reside in Crescent City and vicinity. The party is expected back Saturday or Sunday of this week.

SUMMONS.

In the Justices Court in the State of Oregon for the County of Jackson, District of Jacksonville.

Chris Ulrich, Pltf. } Action to recover

C. F. Webb, Deft. }

To C. F. Webb, the above named defendant:

In the name of the state of Oregon: You are hereby summoned and required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above named court and cause within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail so to answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will appeal to said Court for the relief prayed for in said complaint, to-wit:

For a judgment against you for the sum of $28.75 and his costs and disbursements to be taxed. This summons is published once each week in the Jacksonville Sentinel for six consecutive weeks by order of W. J. Plymale, Justice of the Peace for Jacksonville District, Jackson County, Oregon, duly made at his office in said district on the 9th day of September, 1903.

Said date of first publication of this summons being September 11, 1903.

J. R. NEIL,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

JACKSONVILLE-APPLEGATE STAGE.
HENRY WENDT, Driver—Leaves Jacksonville daily except Sunday at 7 a. m., arriving at Applegate at 11 a. m. Leave Applegate at 11:15 arriving at Jacksonville at 3 p. m. Close connection made with stage to Steamboat and stage to Kubli and Davidson.

JACKSONVILLE COPPER MINES STAGE.
JOHN R. WILSON, Driver—Leaves Jacksonville at 7 a. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for Ruch, Uniontown, Purcel, Watkins and Joes Bar, returning on the following days.

Miss Amanda Helms left for Portland Wednesday on a visit to her sister Mrs. Fred Martin.

John B. Hillis, of Wimer, was in Jacksonville Wednesday on business connected with property he holds in Silverton, Oregon.

J. D. McKinnon, of Portland, was in Jacksonville Wednesday on a brief visit to his old time friend, County Recorder Peter Applegate.

Conklin's furniture store received another large invoice of goods this week among them being a fine line of floor oil-cloth, large glass mirrors and some iron bedsteads, one of them being a beautiful oxidized copper that is part of a special order for a bedroom suit.

A few experienced teachers can secure positions in Jackson County schools by addressing Superintendent P. H. Daily at Jacksonville.

E. B. Fanno, who has been mining in the Bohemia district, arrived in Jacksonville Wednesday to look over the mining possibilities of this section, of which he has a favorable opinion. Mr. Fanno is a pioneer of 1845 his father, Augustus Fanno, with his family coming from Missouri in that year and settled on a donation claim near Beaverton, and he was the first to grow onions as a field crop in Oregon and which has become such a big industry about Beaverton and some other sections of the state.

Lincoln Savage of Grants Pass, school superintendent of Josephine county was in Jacksonville Tuesday to consult with Superintendent P. H. Daily in regard to arranging dates and for talent for the annual teachers institute that each of them will hold in the respective counties. Supt. Daily will hold the institute for Jackson county in Jacksonville on Thursday, Friday and Saturday October 22, 23 and 24, and Supt. Savage will hold the Josephine county institute in Grants Pass on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 26, 27 and 28. As to talent definite answers have not been received from all who are expected to act as instructors, but there is every certainty that the program for each institute will embrace some of the best educational talent to be had and teachers will find the three days at the institute time profitably spent to them.

A half dozen ears of corn have been added to the Sentinel exhibit that for size and well filled kernels would not be out of place in an Iowa corn exhibit. The ears are from the field of S. W. Boyd of Griffin Creek and but average samples from a field of 52 acres. Mr. Boyd has a better stand and a better yield than is had in the average Southern Oregon field, where too frequently the planting is done any time in the spring and the cultivating is few and far between, two to three plowings being considered quite sufficient. Mr. Boyd planted his corn early and at the right time in the spring in rows both ways and he gave it a thorough cultivation, the dryer the weather the more often he plowed. Mr. Boyd used an ordinary planter and check-rower, such as he used in Illinois, but he has come to the conclusion that in this dry country the corn should be planted deeper than is usually the rule here. He thinks that a lister should be used for planting such as is used in Kansas and Nebraska where corn is successfully grown by that method of planting quite as successful as in the states where there is more rain fall. Mr. Boyd grows his corn among young fruit trees, he having the entire 52 acres planted to apple trees. He thus cultivates the apple trees and gets a good revenue from the land during the time that the trees are coming into bearing. Mr. Boyd will feed his corn to his stock, a band of 65 fine Berkshire hogs that will get the most of it. These hogs are now making bone and muscle in an alfalfa field, but soon he will turn them into an oak grove on the hill back of his farm where they will feed on acorns for a month or so after which they will be ready to finish on corn into porkers that would make an Illinois hog buyer proud of them. And the strong point to the farmers favor is that these alfalfa grown, acorn fattened, corn finished Rogue River hogs do not eat their heads off, as do the hogs of the East that are feed exclusively on corn.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by City Drug Store.
