Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and aid the digestion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by City Drug store.

The Best of Magazines.

For serious, helpful discussion of topics of the time it has come to be the habit of the well-read Americans to turn to the monthly issues of the Review of Reviews. In the October number of that interesting periodical he will find even more than the usual amount of well-digested material bearing on the live issues of the day. Dr. Edward T. Devine's illustrated review of the achievement of the Low administrations in promoting the welfare of the masses in New York is at once a masterly argument for the continuance of the reform city government in power and a message of encouragement to municipal reformers everywhere who are striving for social betterment in their various communities. Another question that vitally concerns the American public is the education of our rural population. In the October Review this subject is ably presented in two articles,—one by Professor Willet M. Hayes, of the University of Minnesota, on "Our Farmer Youth and the Public Schools," and a brief illustrated record of actual experiments in "Learning by Doing" for the Farmer Boy," by Superintendent Kern, of Illinois. The much-talked-of socialistic legislation of New Zealand, as viewed in its actual operation by an observant American business man, is described by Dr. L. C. Warner in a paper crammed full of pertinent facts freshly garnered, while some interesting comments on the relation of trade-unionism to the principles of democracy are contributed by "A Tired Australian." A clear setting forth of the arguments for trade reciprocity between the United States and Canada, written with reference to Mr Chamberlain's British Zollverein project, is given by Mr. Eugene G. Hay. In the field of foreign affairs, "An American Born in Turkey" contributes an especially well-informed study of "The Macedonian Struggle," and there are brief sketches of "Lord Salisbury as a Statesman" and "Personal Characteristics of Pope Pius X.," while the editor, in "The Progress of the World," deals with such topics as Mr. Chamberlain's resignation, the Alaska Boundary Tribunal, Columbia's rejection of the Panama Canal treaty, and the recent political progress of Mexico. In no other periodical are so many matters of current history so fully and intelligently treated.

Miss Emma Ulrich has arrived from Crescent City where she has spent the last three months with friends. Miss Ulrich had a delightful time while by the sea but her trip home was a very trying one for she had to come in an open stage from Crescent City to Grants Pass and a driving rain was on most of the time for the day and a half that she was on the road. Miss Florence Bolt of Gold Hill, who went to Crescent City with Miss Ulrich, has decided to stay there at least for this winter, she having a position in the court house doing abstract work for L. F. Cooper, the well known attorney and abstractor of that city.

If you want to rent a farm or have land to rent see T. C. Norris, Jacksonville.

The law passed by the last legislature to regulate the employment of child labor, and for the attendance of children at school, provides that no child, under 14 years of age shall be employed on any work, or farm, for any wages or other compensation to whomsoever payable, during the hours when the schools of the town, district, or city in which he or she resides are in session. Attendance at school shall be compulsory upon a child during the whole of the school term in the city or town in which the child resides. Attendance at school shall be compulsory upon a child under fifteen years of age who is not employed in any lawful work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haskell of near Central Point, were in Jacksonville, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Haskell are from Western Washington where dairying is one of the chief industries and they there learned the business, but the excessively wet winters caused them to seek a dairy country that had a more agreeable climate. In the Rogue River Valley they are convinced that they have found the country they were seeking for the climate suits them and as a dairy section they find it quite equal to Washington. Mr. Haskell now has a small dairy and will increase it as fast as he can secure the cows. Mr. Haskell has carefully investigated the subject and he finds that one year with another dairying here in Southern Oregon pays quite as well as fruit raising or any other industry. Butter is always saleable and at good prices and cows and veal calves are cash at any time and at a profitable price.
