Happenings Hereabouts.

Geo. F. Brady, who owns some copper claims in the Blue Ledge region, and who spent some weeks there at the time Patrick Clark was investigating this property, spent a day this week with Jacksonville friends. Mr. Brady was en route to California.

J. V. Eccleton, a pioneer prospector and miner of the Elliott creek mining district, has been in town this week getting supplies and renewing old acquaintances. This is Mr. Eccleton's first visit to Jacksonville for 11 years and he was much impressed by the improvement that has taken place in that time.

Use those fancy oilcloth rugs under your heating stove, $.75 and $1.00, at C. W. Conklin's.

The Ashland Preserving Company, which has been operating an extensive cannery in that city the present season, will close operations for the year this week. The season has been longer than usual and there have been more people employed than ever before, the average number of operatives being between 40 and 50. Manager Charles Pierce reports that during the four months' run the plant has canned 15 tons of Bartlett pears, 21 tons of peaches, 10 tons of string beans and seven tons of blackberries.

E. G. Spalding, who is operating a placer mine on Forest Creek came to town this week to meet J. R. Goble and T. E. Sturgeon both of New York, who are also interested in the property. The latter gentlemen arrived Wednesday and that afternoon all three were driven out to the property, where they will spend several days in examining the progress of the work already done and in making plans for future operations.

While looking for presents don't overlook these handsome rugs. Over 40 different designs. C. W. Conklin's.

A. Johnson, a business man of Kansas City, Missouri, who is on a western tour of pleasure and business combined and who is in this section of Oregon, looking into the industrial openings and home advantages, spent several days in Jacksonville this week. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the climatic and other features of Southern Oregon and will probably return to the Rogue river valley to reside. He said Missourians must be "shown" so took a couple of pears from the Sentinel's collection for exhibition purposes in his home city.

Frederick Friedeger, accompanied by his son William, was a visitor in Jacksonville Wednesday. The gentlemen were in the city simply to get acquainted with the town and country, they having but recently come to the valley from the state of Ohio. William Friedeger came out last spring and has been employed part of the time since in the Voorhees fruit ranch near Phoenix. He was so favorably impressed with Oregon that he sent for his father and they have purchased the Merley 40 acre ranch near Medford. The ranch already has quite a good orchard, but the new owners will continue to enlarge the orchard.

The County rock crusher has suspended operation for this season. It has been working recently at Phoenix and a large portion of the rock worked up during the last run will be used on the roads in that vicinity. County Judge Prim says that the crusher is not an unalloyed success, as it has cost nearly $30 a day to operate it and the amount of work accomplished has been far from what was expected of it. The crusher was bought supposedly under a guarantee that it would grind up from 10 to 18 tons of rock an hour into pieces of from 1 inch to 2 1/2 inches diameter. It is said that during the run this summer it has been able to crush but little better than 10 tons of the 2 1/2 inch rock per hour, the minimum limit and even then has given trouble.

Christian Arnold Dies.

Christian Arnold, a native of Baden, Germany, aged 60 years, died at Salem, Saturday, Nov. 7, 1903. The funeral services were held at the residence of Mrs. E. Hockenvos, in Medford, last Tuesday forenoon, Rev. W. F. Shields of the Presbyterian church of that place officiating, and the interment was in the Jacksonville cemetery. Mr. Arnold was a well-known citizen of Jackson county, having resided near Medford for a number of years and was highly respected by a wide circle of acquaintances. About two weeks ago he unfortunately became mentally deranged and had to be sent to the hospital at Salem, where he died. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. E. Hockenvos of Medford, and a brother, Jno. Arnold, of this county, as well as his immediate family.

Dr. J. W. Meserve Dead.

Dr. J. W. Meserve, of Delena, a pioneer resident of Columbia county and father of Charles Meserve, editor of the Sentinel, died at 3:30 p. m. last Friday and was buried last Sunday afternoon. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the Beaver Valley Grange, of which deceased was a member.

Dr. Meserve was a native of Vermont and leaves a wife and ten children to mourn his death. Later word from Chas. Meserve states that his mother was prostrated and in a dangerous condition at the time of her husband's death, but has since rallied and is getting better.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Brillard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by City Drug Store.
