LOCAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Houck, of Ashland are spending a few days this week in Jacksonville and while here are guests of Judge and Mrs. Hanna.

J. G. Smith, who has east of Medford one of the best kept small farms in Jackson county, was in Jacksonville Tuesday to have some horses shod by Chas. Paine.

Clyde Payne, professor in the Ashland Normal and Miss Gertrude McCallen drove down from Ashland last Sunday and visited during the day with Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Gale and other friends.

W. M. Scheble, one of the many progressive farmers of Griffin creek was in Jacksonville, Tuesday. Mr. Scheble is a strong believer in the value of farmer's institutes, having attended them in the East, and he is doing all he can for the success of the institute to be held in Jacksonville this Saturday, and he states that nearly every farm home on Griffin creek will be represented at the institute, by both the farmers and their wives.

Ira Dodge a fruit-grower of Woodville vicinity was in Jacksonville Monday on business at the court house and to make a short visit with his niece, Mrs. E. E. Washburn. Mr. Dodge is a strong advocate of the adoption at the next election of the law prohibiting hogs running at large in Jackson county. Mr. Dodge contends that the extra cost of fencing to the farmers to keep the hogs out of their field is far greater than the value of all the feed that the hogs can secure on the range except it may be to small ranches back in the foot hills. In the thickly settled portions of the county Mr. Dodge holds that to fence against the hogs on the highways cost more to the farmers than the hogs are worth. Mr. Dodge proposes to get up a petition and secure the necessary signers and asking the county court to place the hog question upon the ballot to be voted on at the general election next June.

Each strawberry season there has been a big scarcity of local grown strawberries in the Jacksonville market and the bulk of the berries sold here were from Ashland, California and the Willamette Valley. This famine was not caused by the fact that strawberries could not be grown in this vicinity but because no one would make the effort to grow them, for in no section of the Pacific Coast do strawberries grow more thrifty and are more prolific than about Jacksonville. The few growers of this vicinity have made big money from their strawberry patches and there is a prospect that the inducement will be increased until from importing strawberries Jacksonville will become an exporting point for those delicious berries. Mr. P. Applegate who has some fine berry land adjoining his home in the south part of town will add strawberry raising to the other ventures that he and his sons have in hand and this fall they have set out 4,000 plants and next fall they expect to set out as many more. The plants are of the best varieties and are making a fine growth and they will bear quite a crop of berries this spring.

Mrs. H. D. Ridinger from Willow Springs has been in Jacksonville several days this week on a visit to her mother Mrs. R. M. McDonough. Of happenings at Willow Springs Mrs. Ridinger states that a literary society was organized there some time ago with Barton McDonough president and Miss Christina MacTavish secretary. The society meets each Saturday evening in the Willow Springs school house and a large attendance is had. Fine programs are carried out, debates on the principal questions of the day being the leading features with musical and literary exercises to add variety to the evening's entertainment. The Willow Springs school being in need of apparatus the teacher Miss MacTavish got up a box social which was held at the school last Saturday evening. The house was crowded with a jolly lot of people and a delightful time was had by all. It was also a decided success financially for so spirited was the bidding for the boxes that $31.75 was placed in the credit of the school.

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her." Guaranteed by Druggist. Price 50c, and $1.00 Trial bottles free.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St.
Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by City Drug Store.
