The residents of the copper district on the Upper Applegate are making an effort to get a postoffice established at Joes Bar. Joes Bar is the terminus of the Jacksonville and Upper Applegate stage line and is the trade point all the settlement on Applegate slope of the Siskiyou mountains and a postoffice would be a great convenience to that section. There is a probability that should a postoffice be established at Joes Bar that the office at Watkins will be discontinued as most of the patrons of that office reside along the mail route and could get their mail delivered in boxes by the mail carrier.

Mrs. Adda B. Colvig, grand chief of honor, of the Oregon Grand Lodge of Degree of Honor, with Jesse Thrasher as driver, drove out to Eagle Point Thursday to make an official visit to Cypress Lodge No. 12 the lodge instituted by Mrs. Colvig and Mrs. Theo. Cameron at Eagle Point last Thursday. Mrs. Colvig assisted the lodge in initiating two members and gave the officers and members a thorough drill in the workings of the order. This lodge now has 19 members and has most flattering prospects for a large membership.

The Odd Fellows were honored at their meeting Monday night by a visit from Hon. Joseph Micelli of Roseburg, grand master of the Oregon Grand Lodge. In honor of the occasion the Rebekahs met with the Odd Fellows and there was a large attendance from both lodges. The Grand Master exemplified the works of the order and gave the officers and members a most instructive drill. At the close of the work he gave an address that was replete with facts pertaining to the order. He has visited the greater part of the state and has found the order in a very prosperous condition with prospects for a greater growth next year. There are now 175 lodges in the state having a membership of over 11,000. The Oddfellows Home at Woodstock, Portland, is now finished and is as well appointed a public building as there is in Oregon. There are now 12 persons in the Home. Grand Master Micelli complemented the Jacksonville lodge on the interest the members took in the order and their ardor for its work. The following members were present from other lodges: E. E. Phipps, C. L. Paine, Ashland; S. H. Cook, L. C. Basye, Jno. Pernoll, Applegate; J. L. Simmons and W. H. Simmons, Sterling; J. H. Thorndyke, Medford; Henry Maury, Central Point; R. Cook, Footh Creek; Jas. Young, Grants Pass; J. McIntyre, W. B. Coffman, Arthur Smith, G. A. Tyson, Forest Creek; A. T. Smith, J. L. Hammersley, Gold Hill. A bounteous supper was provided by Mrs. Chris. Ulrich and a most enjoyable hour was spent discussing the dainty viands set forth.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

IT is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:

"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."
