

LOCAL NOTES.

The Jacksonville town council meets Tuesday evening but it is doubtful if other than routine business is transacted.

Dry wood in any quantity to suit. Inquire at Orth's meat market.

Dr. J. E. Shearer has given up his Medford practice and taken up his abode in Chico California where he will resume his profession.

Mrs. Ryan has been somewhat indisposed this week by a severe cold, but she is now much better and able to attend to her duties in their store.

Hon. Miles Cantrall and Mrs. Cantrall were in Jacksonville over Thursday night guests at the home of Deputy County Treasurer Robert Dow and Mrs. Dow.

There will be service in the Presbyterian church this, Friday, evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will preach a short sermon on "Obeying the Heavenly Vision." Won't you come?

Andrew Kahler, a merchant of Centralia, Washington, arrived in Jacksonville Monday, for a visit with his brothers, Wesley Kahler and Dr. George Kahler. Mr. Kahler expects to return to his home this Saturday.

Trespass notices on cloth sent by mail to any address for $1.00 a dozen.

The New Years ball given at Orth's hall Thursday evening was a most enjoyable affair. There was just the right sized crowd, the music by Paine's orchestra was good and the dancers were out for an evening's enjoyment.

A change in Medford jewelers has taken place, E. D. Elwood having moved his stock of jewelry to Chico, California, where he has located and his store in Medford will be occupied by his brother, M. S. Elwood, who has removed his goods from Grants Pass, where he has been in business.

Slabwood in stove lengths $1.00 per load at saw mill—Iowa Lumber Co.

Ben B. Beckman, who had been spending Christmas week with his parents, Hon. and Mrs. C. C. Beckman, returned to Portland, Thursday. Mr. Beckman is one of the leading attorneys of Portland and he is another Jacksonville boy who has brought credit to his native town and won success for himself since he went out into the world.

Rev. J. D. Murphy left this Friday on a trip to San Francisco to be gone a month. During Father Murphy's absence there will be no services at the Ashland Catholic church, and none in Jacksonville and Medford except on Sunday the 17th, when Father Paul Daton, of Grants Pass will hold services in Jacksonville at 8:30 a. m. and in Medford at 10:30 on that day.

A fine assortment of picture moulding. Bring in your pictures and have them framed. The workmanship speaks for itself. At C. W. Conklin's.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cantrall, arrived in Jacksonville Friday from Eugene, where they had spent a week at the home of Mrs. Cantrall's parents Hon. and Mrs. Henry E. Ankeny. Mr. and Mrs. Cantrall will remain a few days here with Mrs. Cantrall's sister, Mrs. John S. Orth and County Clerk Orth, after which they will go to Applegate to spend a few days at the home of Mr. Cantrall's brother, Hon. Miles Cantrall. They will return the last of next week to their home near Klamath Falls where Mr. Cantrall owns a large alfalfa and grain farm.

After a long illness from consumption John B. Harris died at his home in Jacksonville Thursday afternoon. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m., Rev. F. G. Strange conducting the exercises, the interment to be in the city cemetery. Mr. Harris was 34 years of age and was a native of Lancaster county Pennsylvania. He came to Jacksonville from Pokegama, where he was a clerk in a store, about a year and a half ago and while able to work he was employed in the saw mill of the Iowa Lumber & Box Company. While here he married Miss Jennie Booth, who is all the relative he has in this state.

Barley, millfeed, corn and wheat at the Boss. Cheap as the market affords.

The adjourned term of circuit court will be convened Monday by Judge H. K. Hanna. The case of Mrs. Susan Crain vs. County for damages by reason of the location of a road through her land is for trial Monday and that will be the first case up. The jury was empaneled on the day the court adjourned two weeks ago and they were ordered by the court to examine the premises alleged to be damaged by the building of the road. This they have done. The land lies on the west base of Roxyann butte and the road the proposed road is an extension of the Medford road across the divide south of Roxyann to the Antelope county road.

Dr. G. E. Hargrave of Medford, county health officer, was in Jacksonville this Friday afternoon in consultation with Drs. Robinson and Gale in regard to some cases of a contagious disease that has appeared in town, being brought here from Gold Hill. A scare was raised that it was small-pox but the doctors could not pronounce it that disease, but that it was a Manila itch or chicken-pox. Those having it are usually not seriously sick, not even missing a meal, but a few have been confined several days to their home. As a precautionary measure the doctors have ordered quarantined those persons afflicted with it. There is no likelihood of people dying from this disease, but it is just as well to have it suppressed at once, for it is steadily spreading from Gold Hill over the Valley, there being a number of cases in Medford as well as in Jacksonville.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c, and $1.00. Sold by City Drug Store.

Clyde Nickerson, an engineer from Portland, arrived here last week and will run the launch Ewauna between here and Keno. The former time was about two and one-half hours but Mr. Nickerson is now making it in one hour and fifty minutes, without crowding.

The Klamath Lake Navigation Co. are doing a good work in overcoming some of the difficulties of travel in Klamath county and next summer when their boats are running on the upper lake, it will be a boon to the residents of Fort Klamath and the Wood river country and will also divert a good share of the trade to Klamath Falls which is now going to Medford, over the Rogue river wagon road.—Klamath Falls Republican.

A Prisoner in His Own House.

Mrs. W. H. Layha, of 1001 Agnes Ave., Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says: "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for with no noticeable results. A friend gave me part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize I am entirely cured." This remedy is for sale by City Drug Store.

The Review of Reviews.

The country's business outlook is a subject of compelling interest at the beginning of the new year. This fact is recognized by the Review of Reviews, which devotes a large part of its January number to a survey of the situation. "The New Year: Prosperity or Depression?" is the title of a group of articles in which C. Kirchoff, the editor of the Iron Age, treats of "The Outlook for Steel and Iron," R. W. Martin of "The Prospect for Railroad Earnings," Charles M. Harger of "Good Crops and Good Times in the West," and F. W. Hawthorne of "The Promise of 1904 for Trade in General." The same number has an illustrated article on "The Status of the the Southwestern Oil Industry," by Day Allen Willey; an account of the long and successful fight waged by science against the Texas cattle fever, by Professor Charles S. Potts; and the story of English walnut Culture in southern California, by Elizabeth A. Ward. The magazine is also unusually strong in its biographical articles; the character sketch of Elihu Root, the retiring Secretary of War, by Walter Wellman, is especially noteworthy, while the career of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow, the investigator of the postal frauds, is attractively presented by Clarence H. Matson, and the life and work of the late Herbert Spencer, the great English philosopher, are sketched by Professor F. J. E. Woodbridge. The threatened war between Japan and Russia claims attention in the editorial department, as does the Panama situation, while the cartoon department ably supplements the editor's paragraphs on current American politics.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE NECESSARY MAGAZINE IN THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.

The Review of Reviews is often called a necessity, in recognition of its usefulness in keeping readers "up with the times."

In Presidential election years the REVIEW OF REVIEWS is more than ever "the necessary magazine." Everybody wants to be truly and quickly informed about this or that public question that has forged to the front; to know about the new candidates and personal factors in politics, to have a complete picture at hand of the current movement of history.

In Dr. Shaw's editorials, in its authentic and timely contributions, in its brilliant character sketches, in its vivid descriptions and reviews of all the important articles of the month, and in its hundred a month of valuable portraits, witty criticism, and interesting views, the REVIEW OF REVIEWS gives the most desired news of the world's and our own progress. "The World under a Field-glass" is the way one subscriber describes it. Men in public life, like President Theodore Roosevelt, members of Congress, and the great captains of industry, who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided it is "indispensable."
