Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reames will leave this Saturday to spend a month in California. They first stop at Berkeley, where they will visit with Mr. Reames' mother, Mrs. T. G. Reames, after which they will visit other parts of California.

Jacksonville is to be favored by a high class minstrel show, Mahara's Minstrels being billed for Saturday evening, March 5. This troupe has 35 people in it and a fine band and a grand street parade will be given Saturday noon.

Mrs. J. N. T. Miller who has been making her home since last fall with her son Col. R. A. Miller, at Oregon City, will return to Jacksonville in a short time to spend a month while looking after her large property interests here.

Mining blanks for sale at the Sentinel office.

Mrs. T. C. Norris was in Jacksonville Thursday to attend to some business matters Mr. Norris having been confined to the house since their removal to Medford with a severe cold. He is now much better and will soon be hustling about with his accustomed vigor.

Mrs. Minerva Armstrong, one of the early pioneers of Jacksonville coming here in company with her husband the late Robert Armstrong in the fall of 1852, who has been confined to her bed for the past six weeks is now able sit up a short time each day and her family have every hope that she will fully regain her health.

Monday a surgical operation was performed upon Miss Minnie McElroy by Drs. Gale, Cameron and Robinson. Miss McElroy has been ill for some time, but she is now gaining in strength with every prospect of a complete recovery of her health. She is being cared for by Miss Margaret Vickers, a trained nurse, who came from Chicago last fall.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of Monday the Jessie Shirley Company were greeted with a good audience. The company is above the average of those on the country circuit and the audience were highly pleased with the evening's entertainment and should Miss Shirley again play in Jacksonville she will be greeted with a full house.

The Republican congressional central committee for the First District held a meeting in Portland Tuesday and fixed Wednesday, April 13, as the date for holding the congressional convention for this district, and Salem as the place for holding it. Jackson county was given 12 delegates. Hon. H. E. Ankney represented Jackson county, Henry Kubli, the number for this county not being able to be present.

Canned fruits at cost at the Boss.

District Attorney A. E. Reames is expected home from Portland this Saturday or Sunday where he has been for the past week on a business trip and incidentally to swap political pointers with the leaders of his party. Mr. Reames attended the meeting of the Democratic state central committee Monday, holding the proxy of J. J. Houck, of Gold Hill, who is the state central committee for Jackson county.

Two sacks of peanuts for a nickle at the Boss.

Deputy Sheriff Crawford has made up lists of taxpayers for all the outside precincts, giving the name, value of property and amount of tax of each person and Sheriff Rader has had them posted at the postoffices in the country precincts. In Medford and Ashland the lists have been posted at the banks. This is a convenience much appreciated by the taxpayers as it will enable them to know the amount of their tax without a trip to the county seat or corresponding with the sheriff.

All candies 10 per cent cheaper for 30 days at the Boss.

The Olwell Orchard.

Hon. John D. Olwell, one of the members of the House from Jackson county in the last legislature, was in Jacksonville Thursday. Mr. Olwell declared that his visit to the county seat had no political motive to it, business at the court house requiring his presence in Jacksonville. Mr. Olwell denied any future political aspirations, the title of Honorable, which he won by a good majority in the last election, quite sufficing his ambition for political honors. But he was quite willing to talk on fruit, and being one of the largest growers and best posted fruit men in the Rogue River Valley and his talks on that subject are always of interest. Mr. Olwell, with his father, P. M. Olwell, and brothers, Joseph and Frank, are the owners of the famous Olwell orchard, Central Point, which embraces 160 acres of bearing trees. This orchard has been planted a number of years, and is all to apples and in accordance with the ideas then prevalent, the trees were planted close together, being but 25 feet apart. On the black, rich soil on which the trees are growing it has even found that they have grown so large that their branches now meet and the fruit is no longer so large and highly colored as it was and for which the Olwell orchard has been noted. To restore their orchard to its former vigor, Messrs. Olwell have taken out this winter every other row of trees, taking the rows diagonal, which leaves the remaining trees 50 feet apart. This space allows the sun to reach all parts of the trees and also gives ample room for spraying, cultivating and to enable the trees to have full growth to their roots. While this decreases the number of trees in the orchard one half, yet its productiveness will not be lessened for the trees will bear more fruit and of a quality that will bring the top price in the market. Most of the Olwell orchard is to Newtons and Spitzenbergs, but a part was planted to Ben Davis and other varieties not so valuable as the first named and in this part of the orchard pear trees are planted where the extra trees have been dug up and so soon as the pears begin to bear the apple trees will be dug out. During the past year the Olwell orchard has been enlarged by 50 acres, making it one of the largest on the Pacific Coast.

Itch Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c, and $1.00 bottle. Sold by City Drug Store.
