P. S. Swayne was in Jacksonville Wednesday evening for medicine for his little daughter Hazel, who was suffering from an attack of fever, but Dr. Robinson thought the case not serious. C. G. Swatzfager accompanied by his sister, Miss Fannie was in Jacksonville over Wednesday night, returning Thursday morning with a load of supplies to his farm on Thompson creek.

R. Benedict, one of the best known pioneers of Applegette, and his son Fred, were in Jacksonville Wednesday for a load of supplies.

The Redmen of Jacksonville made preparations Saturday for a great council with their Past Grand Sachem for Oregon J. H. Howard of Oregon, who is making a tour of Southern Oregon, and they prepared a feast as part of their welcome. Mr. Howard was unable to be present and the local tribe after the close of the regular council work repaired to the Odd Fellows banquet hall and had a very enjoyable time and a splendid supper. The supper was all one could ask and was a compliment to the culinary skill of Mrs. Coulter and Mrs. Puhl, the ladies getting it up. Mr. Howard was in Grants Pass on that date, where he was detained by the details incident to instituting a new tribe of Redmen, which he organized Monday night with 34 braves. This Friday night he goes back to Grants Pass and will be accompanied by a number of Jacksonville braves, when they will run a large number of Palefaces through the gauntlet and into the Grants Pass tribe. Mr. Howard was in Jacksonville for a short time Wednesday but he is spending most of this week in Medford, where he expects to organize a tribe. He will also organize one in Ashland. Mr. Howard is an able worker for his order and through his efforts the Redmen are having a rapid increase in membership in Oregon.

As last Sunday was Rev. Strange's date for holding services in Jacksonville and this Sabbath being his day for being at Phoenix, the Easter services for the Presbyterian church were held last Sabbath, at which time Rev. Strange gave a fine discourse suitable to the occasion and a special musical service was rendered by the choir, the song service being given an added feature of interest by a well rendered duet by Dr. and Mrs. Gale.

G. F. Billings was the victim of a painful accident Sunday evening, about 6 o'clock. In descending from the haymow in his barn he jumped a short distance to the ground, one of his feet striking a nail in the end of a board. The nail went through his rubber boot and into the ball of his foot, making a wound which bled freely. Barring complications the wound is not dangerous, but will keep Mr. Billings indoors for a few days.—Tidings.
