

LOCAL NOTES.

Judge H. K. Hanna spent Monday afternoon in Ashland on a business trip.

Miss Anna Magreiter returned Sunday to Grants Pass, after a two weeks visit with the home folks.

LOST—On Jacksonville - Steamboat road a revolver. Finder leave at Helms saloon, Jacksonville, and get $5 reward.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Campbell are happy in the addition of a bright baby girl that was added to their home Tuesday morning.

M. Calhoun, the well known Phoenix real estate dealer and the Socialist candidate for county commissioner, was in Jacksonville Thursday on real estate business and incidentally to look over the political situation.

Prof. A. P. Armstrong, principal of the Portland Business College, came up from Portland Thursday and remained until Sunday to look after business matters connected with Laurelash farm of which he is the owner.

William Healey, A. G. Swanson and Hermann Kummer, who have been doing placer mining near Purser have leased some placer ground of Robert Cameron located on Little Applegate just above the ford on the Applegate road, and they will begin work on it next week.

Judge S. J. Day received a renewal of his notarial commission Tuesday from Governor Chamberlain. The judge is also a United State Commissioner, which enables him to transact all kinds of business connected with the filing and proving up on government land.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McPherson and their daughter Lulu, of Griffin Creek left Wednesday on a trip to the East. They will go first to St. Louis and take in the Worlds Fair after which they will visit relatives in Iowa and Nebraska. They expect to be gone a month or more.

Thos. McAndrews, a well known pioneer farmer who has a fine ranch east of Medford, was in Jacksonville Tuesday. Mr. McAndrews is a strong advocate of good roads and gives a hard report of the condition of the roads in his neighborhood during last winter, he tells that the mud became so deep that a steer endeavoring to travel the road became mired and died before it was found.

F. A. Carpenter, manager of Laurash farm for Prof. A. P. Armstrong was in Jacksonville Thursday. Mr. Carpenter is a strong advocate of the proposed law to be voted on at the June election for preventing swine from running at large, but would have preferred that the law include all kinds of stock as he says that there is so little outside range in the valley that it would be cheaper for farmers to fence pastures for their stock than to fence their fields. He says that all of his neighbors will vote for the hog law.

George Henry who is teaching the Watkins school appears to find life quite enjoyable in the upper Applegate country, for his school has proved so successful that he has been offered the second term and on Saturdays he has delightful fishing trips along the many fine trout streams that abound in that region and that he is as successful as a fisherman as he is a teacher is proven by the strings of fish that he catches. Last week he sent into his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Epperson, a string of trout that were beauties and in size all that a follower of Isaac Walton could wish for.

W. R. Hawk and his son Henry will leave this week for their former home at Elgin, Oregon, where they go to get a harness and shoe shop outfit which they have at that place and which they will bring to Jacksonville and open up a shop in the building soon to be vacated by Learned's confectionary store, which goes to the Norris building. Both Mr. Hawk and his son are firstclass harness and shoe makers and they will be quite certain to make their venture in Jacksonville a success. Mr. Hawk has conducted the shoe shop in connection with T. C. Norris' second-hand store since last fall and has given satisfaction to his patrons.

Ex-Judge Clinton Textor of Medford, Wisconsin, who has been residing on the upper Applegate since last fall was in Jacksonville on his way to Wisconsin, where he will remain until September to attend to some business matters. Judge Textor through overwork and the anxiety caused him by the death of his wife, found his health failing and after repeated failures to regain his strength through other means, he concluded to try outdoor life in Rogue River Valley, with the result that he is now quite as rugged as in the years gone by and so well pleased is he with Southern Oregon that he will close out his business interests in the East and return to Jackson county this fall. He has two boys in school in Milwaukee, Wis., and he will bring them with him and may place them in the Jacksonville high school.

A. B. Saltmarsh was in Jacksonville Wednesday from his ranch on Little Applegate. Mr. Saltmarsh each summer operates a packtrain to Cinnabar Springs from his place and he expects to be able to make the first trip for this season in about two weeks, as the snow is rapidly melting off the Siskiyou mountains, but his first trips will be by way of Squaw Lake and the Low Gap. He does not expect the trail over the main divide to open to travel before the middle of June. The Cinnabar Springs are gaining a high reputation as a health resort, their mineral springs and mud baths affording many people relief and Mr. Saltmarsh expects a greater travel to that famous resort this summer than in any previous year. In taking out parties Mr. Saltmarsh meets them in Jacksonville with his hack and takes them to his place and from there on the trip is made on horseback, covering the distance in one day.

Prof. and Mrs. Gus. H. Samuels closed an eight months term of school in the Independence district on Griffin creek last Friday. The exercises were held in the beautiful oak grove adjoining the grounds on J. P. True's place and a pleasing program of literary and musical selections were rendered by the scholars assisted by local talent. There was a large attendance of the patrons of the school and the event was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. This is Prof. Samuel's second term in that district and he has been engaged for the ensuing term as also Mrs. Samuels who will again have charge of the lower grades. This school now has an enrollment of 75 scholars and the population of the settlement is so rapidly increasing that the school within another year will be so large as to require a third teacher. The school is now graded Prof. Samuels having accomplished this much needed work with the beginning of this last school year. Prof. Samuels is making for himself a record as one of the ablest and the most progressive of the young teachers of Jackson county and the time is not distant when he will attain a high position in his profession.

A Dandy for Burns.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ills., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns. Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c, $1.00 bottle. Sold by City Drug Store. Remember Hull the Artist is in town.
