Miss Theodora Birdseye of Los Angeles arrived here Sunday from Jacksonville and after visiting relatives left for Seattle Tuesday, where she has a position in the schools of that city.

Champlain Co. resumed work this week after having spent two weeks in completing their arrangements for the winter. The boilers and all of the steam fixtures connected with the dredger have, during this time, been covered with a prepared coat of asbestos one inch thick over which has been spread a thick layer of asbestos cement and the whole has been given a coat of white paint, and all has been secured by narrow brass bands. These improvements add much to the appearance and durability of the huge and intricate mass of machinery.

A. J. Chambers, a prominent resident of Ashland and owner of the famous summer resort of Buck Lake in Klamath county, was in Jacksonville over Tuesday night to attend a session of Oregon Chapter No. 4. R. A. M. Mr. Chambers' Buck Lake property embraces 2,000 acres, on which is situated Buck lake, a pretty body of water of 500 acres, the remainder of the tract being fine grazing land and handsome groves of timber that make the place a natural park of great beauty and many attractions. Mr. Chambers will add cat fish raising as a side venture at Buck Lake and he has an order for 100,000 cat fish placed with the United States Fish Commissioner and he expects the tanks containing the newly hatched fish to arrive in Ashland within the next week. The fish are in equal numbers yellow and blue catfish, the varieties that are the leading food fish of the Mississippi valley rivers. To prevent the escape of his fish Mr. Chambers has built a wier across the outlet of the lake, and as the lake is a shallow body of water with rushes and other growth about the border that will afford good feeding grounds for the catfish it is expected that they will thrive and multiply until there will be fish for the fishermen in countless numbers. As catfish will be something new to the markets of Southern Oregon and Northern California Mr. Chambers expects to have a good demand for his fish. These varieties of catfish are esteemed a favorite food fish in the Middle States and in the cool, pure water of Buck lake they should be of good quality. The meat of these fish is white and readily separated from the bones and when rolled in flour and fried a rich brown it is a toothsome dish for even an Oregonian's table.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known. For sale by City Drug Store.
