FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1905.

It seems that in Portland the authorities are right after the "mashers" who have been getting too cute. However, they have an excuse. There are women who like to be "mashed."

Japan, having had some experience with a treaty of peace not many years ago, is not likely to be inveigled by intermediaries into giving up the fruits of her hard-won and very decisive victory this time, says the Oregonian. She remembers the part Germany and France played against her before. As a nation she smarted for years under the humiliation imposed upon her by these powers, in conjunction with Russia, at the close of her war with China. It is thus that talk of peace does not come from Tokio and that the few words that have been spoken with authority are heavy with a demand for indemnity.

The day of the revival seems to be at hand instead of past as has been declared so many times by those whom time has proven, did not know. During the past winter almost every city and town in the country has had its revival most of which have accomplished much good by bringing many converts into the influence of Christianity and causing them to lead a different and a better life. The next few years may see wonderful changes in the average daily life and moral standard in our country, which we believe, will be for the better, due largely, to the modern revival of Christianity.

Denied a divorce from the patient wife who shared the hardships of his youth, accused of excessive drunkenness and of driving his daughter to the grave by malicious accusations against her mother and his wife, Buffalo Bill, once the proud hero of frontier stories, is now a despised old reprobate, stripped of honor and naked before the gaze of the world, says the Salem Journal. Thirty years ago the wife whom he has accused of being incompatible and jealous, lived in a sod hut on the North Platte, daring the murderous Indians, nursing her infants, deprived of civilized associations and bereft of all the pleasures of a luxurious home, all because of her love for her then gallant scout and hunter, Buffalo Bill. As she has grown old in his service, she became despised, and at last he determined to cast her off in her old age, for a more dashing young woman whom he had found among his showwomen. Instead of granting his divorce, the Denver court strips the old rake naked, and points the finger of scorn at him. Let him take his medicine. Hereafter let us mention his name only in disgust. The man who casts off his wife because she has grown old is the worst yet.

Lewis and Clark Centennial.

International scope is assured to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition to be held at Portland, Oregon, from June 1st to October 15, 1905, by President Roosevelt's approval of the act of Congress making an appropriation for the Exposition, and his invitation to foreign countries to participate Portland's Exposition will represent a total outlay of over $5,000,000. Though covering 405 acres of land and natural lake, it will be compact in form, and the average person will be able to see and comprehend it all in a few days at moderate cost. The cream of the foreign and domestic exhibits to be made at St. Louis this year will be transferred to Portland at the close of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The United States exhibit will be moved entire to Portland and installed in building to be specially erected. This exhibit will be worth $800,000. In addition Portland will have many features which will not be seen at St. Louis, such as exhibit demonstrating the life, customs and industries of China, Japan, Hawaii, Siberia, Russia, Alaska, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and India.

The Lewis and Clark Centennial will be the first international exposition under Government patronage ever held on the Pacific Coast. It will be in every way a Western exposition. The railroads will make low rates from Missouri and Mississippi river points to Portland, and exceptionally low rates will be in effect between Portland and the Rocky Mountain region.
