FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1905.

The large number of divorce cases on the bar docket in this county this term of the Circuit Court is simply appalling and yet it is a true criterion of the tendency of the times in that regard. There are many reasons given for the wonderful increase of divorce and of the increase of unfaithfulness in marriage which often leads to the most shocking crimes some of which we read in the daily press dispatches every day in the year. The double murder and suicide of the murderer near Drain a short time ago was the direct result of the willful indiscretion of a wife and mother. Such things are happening every day but have become so common an occurrence that but little heed is given it except in the immediate vicinity where the people are well known. Nor is it always a case of a wife's indiscretion although these more often lead to murder and suicide than do the sins of the unfaithful husband, who is, we believe, more frequently the transgressor than is the wife. "The discouraging feature" says an exchange, "is that in most of the cases women are the offenders." This, we believe, is a great mistake although a very common one. The fact is that more ado is made over the cases where wives have proven unfaithful. Cases are numerous of unfaithful husbands being forgiven by their wives after which the couples live together happily for many years. Not so when the wife proves unfaithful. There is "something doing" immediately and the whole world hears the scandal.

purchase for him such a desk for use in said office as would meet with his requirements, and would suggest that the county court consult with the Treasurer as to the kind of a desk required. We found the officials in that office courteous and obliging in every way.

In the County School Superintendent's office we found the records neatly kept and would recommend that the county court purchase for use in that office a suitable office chair as believe the same to be required.

We found the jail neatly kept, and as comfortable as such a place could be. We would recommend that some water closets for use by female prisoners be put in the jail. We also suggest that the stovepipe in the jail be repaired.

We this morning examined the county poor house, being there while the inmates were taking their breakfast. We personally talked with all of them and examined the buildings in which they lived, thoroughly from the cellar to the garret. We examined the beds in which they slept and observed the clothing which they wore. We found everything in as good condition as could be expected for the price which the County pays. The food appeared to be clean and wholesome, and the inmates seemed to be clean. Upon inquiry of them we found that there was no complaints except from one inmate. We are of the opinion that if the establishment is conducted at all times as we found it, that there is no cause for complaint.

We desire to say upon our own responsibility, and really against the wish of the District Attorney, and his deputy, Clarence L. Reames, that both the District Attorney and his deputy have given us their entire time during our investigations. We have found that they were in all instances fair to all parties accused of crime, and at all times, refrained from expressing any opinion, as to what the action of the Grand Jury should be. We have found them courteous and obliging and desire to commend them for their efficient work in the handling of witnesses and in expediting the work of the Grand Jury.

In explanation of the time consumed by the Grand Jury, we would say that we have labored diligently from sometimes as early as half past eight in the morning until five or six in the evening. We have used our utmost endeavors to economize in the matter of witness fees, and in some instances where the circumstances justified, have required sometimes one and sometimes both of the parties where they were able, to produce their witnesses at their own expense. Having now completed our labors, we would respectfully ask that we be discharged.

By the unanimous vote of the Grand Jury, the foreman is directed to sign this report as the act of the Grand Jury.

J. H. WHIPPLE,

Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Lewis and Clark Centennial.

International scope is assured to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition to be held at Portland, Oregon, from June 1st to October 15, 1905, by President Roosevelt's approval of the act of Congress making an appropriation for the Exposition, and his invitation to foreign countries to participate Portland's Exposition will represent a total outlay of over $5,000,000. Though covering 405 acres of land and natural lake, it will be compact in form, and the average person will be able to see and comprehend it all in a few days at moderate cost. The cream of the foreign and domestic exhibits to be made at St. Louis this year will be transferred to Portland at the close of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The United States exhibit will be moved entire to Portland and installed in building to be specially erected. This exhibit will be worth $800,000. In addition Portland will have many features which will not be seen at St. Louis, such as exhibit demonstrating the life, customs and industries of China, Japan, Hawaii, Siberia, Russia, Alaska, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and India.

The Lewis and Clark Centennial will be the first international exposition under Government patronage ever held on the Pacific Coast. It will be in every way a Western exposition. The railroads will make low rates from Missouri and Mississippi river points to Portland, and exceptionally low rates will be in effect between Portland and the Rocky Mountain region.
