THE HALL OF FAME.

King Edward does not allow his secretaries to keep private diaries. Abner Danton of Hope, 100 years old, is said to be Maine's oldest granter and William Harper Deering of Saco, aged ninety-five, the next oldest. Paderewski's manager says the pianist has a fear of women, a form of neurasthenia. When he plays the stage entrances are guarded against women. Captain Fritchard of the new mammoth Casarider Mauritania was left an orphan early in life, and in fulfillment of his mother's last wish he took up a sailor's calling.

William P. Hall of Lancaster, Mo., is said to be the greatest horse, mule and wild animal dealer in the world. From 20,000 to 30,000 animals pass through Mr. Hall's stables in a year.

Lord Fairfax, an American who went to England to accept the title of Baron Fairfax, has returned. He is a member of a firm of bankers in New York and it is understood will resume his business career in that city.

James Durkin of Spokane, temperance lecturer and hotel keeper, has selected his tombstone, written his epitaph, hired a lawyer to write his funeral oration and made an agreement with an undertaker so as to head off an exorbitant charge on his estate.

As a speaker Alfred Deakin, the Australian premier, compares very favorably with the best orators of today. Not only is he fluent, but he also possesses that happy knack of being able to enliven the driest subject by discussing it in the most interesting words.

General William J. Palmer, aged seventy-two years, founder of Colorado Springs, whose spine was broken on Sept. 14, 1906, by a fall from a horse, has recovered so that he is able to walk a few steps. The injury was thought to be fatal. He may recover the full use of his limbs.

It is said that Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust Company of Illinois and former comptroller of the currency, will quit banking and finance to become a composer of music. He is a great lover of music and has already composed considerable that has been well received in New York and Chicago.

NEW YORK CITY.

There is food enough wasted in New York city each day to feed a half million persons.

There are now being carried out in New York city new engineering works whose total cost is about $600,000,000. This is more than three times as much as the Panama canal will cost.

New York's oldest dealer in musical instruments says that there are more violins in the city bearing the name "Antonius Stradivarius" than the great Cremona fiddle maker ever had in his little shop.

There are about 12,000 women living in hotels in New York city who are entirely relieved of all the cares and responsibilities of housekeeping and families and have their attention principally occupied with food, dress and amusement.—New York Herald.

KITCHEN HELPS.

By cutting onions, turnips and carrots across the fiber it makes them more tender when cooked.

Salt should never be added to any dishes containing milk until it has cooled. Salt curdles raw milk.

After boiling beet roots they should be thrown immediately on leaving the pan into a bowl of cold water. This facilitates the removal of the skin of the beet root.

A dainty for serving with afternoon tea is made from whole wheat bread. Butter the loaf, cut off the slices, then cut into strips about an inch wide. Cover each piece with melted chocolate and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Put aside for an hour or so to harden.

Powerful Light For North River. The Lackawanna railroad announces that "the most powerful light ever produced from a single fixture" will soon shine from the new Lackawanna station at Hoboken. It will be a cluster of forty-nine arc lamps which will be arranged in series within a single globe six feet in diameter, each arc containing sixteen filaments at 2,500 volts. It is estimated that a candlepower of 1,500,000 will be reached.—New York Sun.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

A London barber advertises for 200 men to be shaved in a music hall exhibition and says "cabmen preferred."

A new timepiece is shown in the shops in London so small that it can be worn on a finger ring over a lady's glove. It is very fashionable and costs $100.

A hotel has been started by Mrs. Bramwell Booth of the Salvation Army at Leeds for workingwomen only. The establishment is entirely staffed by women.

There is a famine of copper coins in England owing to their utilization in automatic machines and gas meters. It is estimated that 20,000,000 coins have thus been withdrawn from circulation.

EDITORIAL FLINGS.

By the way, has anybody called Doc Oiler's attention to old man Weston?—St. Joseph News-Press.

If the depletion of the army keeps on, the government will have to give trading stamps to induce men to belong.—Baltimore Sun.

During a racing season bookmakers have no difficulty in finding people who do not insist on boarding their money.—Washington Star.

"New York is economizing," says a Gotham paper. But is it prepared to allow the same privilege to visitors to New York?—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Science Studies Your Baby.

Science takes a large and comprehensive interest in modern babies and baby statistics, says the September Delinquent.

The average weight of boy babies at birth is seven pounds; girls about six and a half pounds. During the first three days the child loses weight. After it is a week old it steadily increases.

A child should increase in weight two pounds for every addition of an inch in height between three and four feet and two and one-half pounds for every inch between four and five feet.

The healthy baby triples its weight at birth in one year, doubles this in six years, quadruples this weight in thirteen years, and at twenty-one a man weighs twenty-one times his weight at birth. These are the figures resulting from the averaging of many thousand cases under investigation.

Substitute For Curtain Rod.

Inexpensive curtains add a finish to any room, and when one has not the double rods the following method will be found satisfactory: Make an inch beam at the top of the curtains. Buy some strong elastic three-quarters of an inch wide. Measure the elastic by stretching it as far as it can be stretched across the window. Cut out at one end and sew on a strong button. Insert the elastic in the hole at the other end, and then fasten a button at each end on the small brass knob of the outer curtain rod. Pin the center of the elastic to the outer curtain, and then you will find it will not sag in the least.

Rhymes For Brides.

An old rhyme of interest to brides goes like this:

Married in blue, He'll always be true; Married in brown, To live out of town; Married in yellow, Ashamed of the fellow; Married in green, Ashamed to be seen; Married in black, You'll wish yourself back; Married in gray, You'll wish yourself away; Married in pink, Your spirit will sink; Married in purple, The happiest couple; Married in white, You've married all right.

There are so many things you can do without and want.

We sometimes tell others by our actions the very things we do not wish them to know.

Being a hypocrite is bad enough, but it does not make as many people uncomfortable as brutal frankness does.

Much as children admire their parents, at the bottom of their hearts they think when they are grown they will be great improvements on them.

How easy to wish for a million dollars to give to your friends! Why not give them what you have? You could be polite and kind to them without much trouble.—Aitchison Globe.

The Cookbook.

Fry fish with skin side next the pan to prevent the pieces from curling up and breaking.

If cream is a trifle sour, it will not taste or curdle in tea or coffee if stirred in the cup with one or two teaspoonfuls of sugar before pouring the beverage.

Do you know if you would bake your cookies on the outside of the large baking pan that there would be fewer burned ones? Try it the next time you are making cakes and see what an advantage it is over placing them in the pan.

A Simple Remedy. "You are a poor salesman" cried the disgusted employer. "Then," retorted the offender, "you can remedy that by raising my salary."—Baltimore American.
