

FULTON HITS HIS ENEMIES

Talks to Big Crowd at Medford

SCORES "IT" HENEY

Unfortunate That Every Voter in the State Cannot Hear the Senior Senator

Senator C. W. Fulton is always an eloquent orator and speaker but the intense earnestness he puts into the reply which he makes from the platform to the attacks of Prosecutor Francis J. Henev carries with it unusual force and it is an unfortunate situation that every voter in the state is not privileged to hear Oregon's senior senator in his present flying campaign covering the state as generally as he can between now and the date of the primary election.

He made his first speech in Jackson County at Medford, Monday evening, before a large and representative audience which gave him such attention as few speakers receive at political addresses. There was not much that was new to Senator Fulton's friends in his address, but an affidavit which he read and published for the first time, was of especial interest, for it completely and effectually exonerated Senator Fulton from connection with an incident which has been the basis of the most vicious charges made against him by his vilifiers.

Beginning with his election, Senator Fulton detailed the history of his term in Congress with the various efforts made to discredit him before the people. He stated that he knew that a conspiracy had been at work both in Oregon and Washington with a well-arranged plot, but he had misjudged the desperate and reckless character of the campaign waged against him which was "based entirely on falsehood and misrepresentation."

"The Smith story, from top to bottom in every fabric, was made up and is wholly false and malicious. Henev knew it was when he hired a church to tell it in. Powell's affidavit disclosed the old system of electing senators, which, thank God, we have done away with in Oregon. Senator Mitchell was my friend, but he was hounded to his grave, and I think more sinned against than sinning," he exclaimed with feeling that showed that he revered the memory of the "old man" as he referred to Mitchell.

Senator Fulton told of his having informed Governor Chamberlain of Smith's being a grafter and of his surprise at the governor making affidavit connecting Fulton with the bribery story which Fulton had only learned after the adjournment of the legislature, and grilled the governor for the return of a friendly act. He admitted the truth of the accusation that he had been loyal to friends, and said that he hoped he always would be. He paid tribute to friendship as the one thing in the world worth while.—Ashland Tidings.

Dr. Parker Quits Practice

Dr. Thos. Parker has announced to his friends that he will at once quit the practice of medicine and will shortly leave for Alaska, where he expects to engage in mining. However, he will enjoy a well earned vacation before going North, and will leave next week for the Klamath Hot Springs and for San Francisco. He will also spend a few weeks at Portland with old friends and acquaintances.

Dr. Parker came to this city a little over two years ago and began the practice of medicine under rather adverse circumstances. Notwithstanding this he built up an enviable reputation as a physician and surgeon, and he is recognized as a man well up in the medical profession. He leaves a large practice, and his friends will be grieved to learn that he has decided to take his departure. Should he find conditions unsatisfactory in Alaska and decide to again take up his professional work it is possible that he may return here upon his return from the North.

BRIEF MENTION

Clay Taylor and Bud Obenchain went to Merrill today.

R. E. Hunsaker returned Sunday night from Butte valley where he has been for about ten days looking after his freight teams.

The Holcomb Realty Company has fitted up a very neat office in the room with the Wells-Fargo Express Co.

Judge Thos. Drake returned last night from Portland where he has been for several weeks on legal business.

Miss Anna Applegate, teacher in the Fort Klamath school, is spending a week's vacation with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. O. C. Applegate.

County Court met this morning with Judge J. B. Griffith and Commissioner Fred Melhase in attendance. The only business transacted was the appointment of A. D. Miller as justice of the peace to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of T. F. Nicholas. The court is holding a short session this afternoon to transact routine business. Judge Griffith is indisposed and owing to this the court has not gone to the Upper Gap to view the bridge site.

SITUATION UNCHANGED

Through Freight Route From New Railroad Terminus Yet Undeveloped

The transportation situation has not yet been developed, and no report has been received from the parties in conference at San Francisco. Manager W. R. Davis, of the Klamath Falls Transportation Company, was unable to attend the meeting on account of illness and consequently Capt. J. M. McIntire is the only local man on the scene.

At this time it is impossible to state what kind of an arrangement the Southern Pacific will make for the delivery of freight in this city. One thing only is certain and that is that a through service will be established and that the S. P. will be directly responsible for the delivery of freight at the storehouse or warehouse. The merchants want a through service from the terminus of the California Northeastern, and they do not want their freight handled often than is necessary. In order to avoid handling the freight several times the Klamath Falls Transportation Co. intends loading the freighting outfit on barges at Teeters Landing and bringing them through to the city in one day. If this plan is carried out Klamath Falls will have a splendid freight service as soon as the road reaches Dorris.

If the freight should be brought through to this city by team it will make only a trifle over one day to land it at the store door or warehouse, which would make the service very good either way, by handling the freight only twice.

The Southern Pacific will make arrangements with one of the companies to haul the freight from the end of the railroad to this city and the company getting the contract will be virtually in the employ of the Southern Pacific.

"HEIT" WILL ENTER RACE

His Many Friends Will Force Him to Be a Candidate for the Mayoralty

The mention by the Herald of G. Heitkemper for Mayor has had the result of almost forcing him into the race, for he has been urged on all sides to allow his name to be used. He has not, however, consented to enter the race and will not unless he is convinced that the people of the city want him to be a candidate for the office. As he says he has no political aspirations and would sooner attend to his business than to take on the onerous task of caring for the interests of the city, but he will lay aside his personal feelings in the matter if it appears to him that it is the wish of the majority of the people that he become a candidate.

The question of who will be the next Mayor has been a much discussed subject for the past few days and in connection therewith Mr. Heitkemper's name has been favorably mentioned. If he should consent to enter the field he would undoubtedly make a strong race and from present indications would be certain of election.

The name of T. F. Nicholas has been most favorably mentioned in connection with the office of City Recorder and Police Judge, but he states most emphatically that he will not be a candidate and will not serve if elected. Mr. Nicholas is eminently well qualified for the position and it will be a matter of much regret to his friends that he so positively refuses to be a candidate.

TEACHERS ARE CHOSEN

Prof. Butcher, of Oklahoma, Is Elected Principal of the High School

The corps of instructors for the County High School for the ensuing year has been selected by the county board. There will be but one change and that is in the principalship. Prof. John T. Butcher, a graduate of the university at Lawrence, Kansas, has been elected to this position. He comes very highly recommended as an educator and formerly taught in the university of Oklahoma. The last year he has spent in school at the Kansas university from which he is a graduate.

The High School teachers as elected are Prof. Butcher, Prof. Faught and Howard and Miss Bessie Applegate. It is a corps of excellent instructors and gives assurance that the High School will have a very successful year.

Enterprise Galore

It is pleasure to note the enterprise of our neighboring town, Lakeview. They are beginning to do things in that little city. Some one mentioned a flouring mill, and immediately a company was organized and already the machinery has been ordered for a thoroughly modern mill. The directors of the new company say they will have the mill in running order in time to grind this year's wheat crop.

The county is also going to do extensive advertising and the commercial body recently organized is an active factor in doing this. Lakeview seems to be wide awake and if the county seat is removed from there it will be because a lively fight could not prevent it.

Bud Obenchain arrived Saturday night from Rogue river valley where he had spent several weeks with relatives.

MURDERER IS CAUGHT

Lake County Authorities Just Think They Have Captured Notorious Hamilton

According to the Lake County Examiner it is very probable that Hamilton is now languishing in Lake County jail. The fellow told about in the Examiner, which is printed herewith, may be another Hamilton but it is not likely that he is the man wanted at Silver Lake. Following is the account of the important capture:

"A man came into Plush Tuesday who answered the description of Alec Hamilton, but who gave another name. He said he was not Hamilton but refused to give any account of himself, further than to say that he had been at Silver Lake and left there about a week ago. The man was arrested there and Sheriff Dent and Deputy C. D. Arthur went there and took charge of him. They brought him to Lakeview Wednesday."

Cannot Loan Beer

An exchange states from authority that a saloonkeeper must neither borrow nor lend beer in quantities equal to or exceeding five gallons, either in kegs or bottles. It is the practice among saloonkeepers in small towns remote from wholesale houses to loan each other beer until new stock can be secured, when the beer is paid back. This practice is forbidden by the government. A saloonkeeper who borrows or loans beer in quantities, either in bottles or in kegs, of five gallons or more lays himself liable for the penalty of failing to take out a wholesaler's license. A retail dealer, so says the authority, can only borrow in such quantities as he can sell. He cannot sell five gallons or over without a wholesaler's license.

A Strong Company

Houston's Opera house was crowded Saturday night when the Mong Company presented the play David Garrick. A number of additional seats had been provided for the occasion, but many of those who came late could find standing room only. The play throughout was well received by the audience, and every member of the company gave a good account of themselves. Mr. Mong as David Garrick was up to his high standard and portrayed this difficult character well indeed. Mrs. Mong as Ada Ingot did not disappoint the audience, but pleased her many admirers immensely. Paul Harvey, who is well known to the theatre going people of this city, was given an enthusiastic welcome by the audience as was also Mrs. Harvey. They are both decided favorites with the people of this city. G. Drisgill, C. Bernard and Miss Lewis were all good in their parts, and the play as a whole was generally pronounced exceptionally strong. Mr. Mong has an excellent company and the people will not be disappointed by attending the performances.

One of the best hits of the night was the specialty "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey. The other specialties were very good and were heartily applauded by the audience.

Registration Closes

Registration for the primary election closes at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Clark Chastain says the registration will be approximately 1400, or perhaps 200 more than last year. He is very busy getting out the election supplies which will be delivered by the sheriff this week.

J. P. Bonham and E. W. Muller, proprietors of the Singer Sewing Machine Agency, wish to inform the public that they have removed their entire stock of Edison phonographs and records which have been on display and for sale at Winters' jewelry store, to the S. K. Noel building on Main St., between Seventh and Eighth, where they will be pleased to serve you and respectfully ask for a share of your patronage.

Five candidates for office attended the dance at Fort Klamath last Friday night. Two of them danced, and the others wanted to but could not, D. V. Kuykendall, F. H. Mills and Bert Withrow. Judge L. F. Willis and W. A. Delzel were the candidates who attended the dance and mixed with the voters of Wood river valley.

MEET AGAIN ON JUNE 5TH

Water Users' Take Adjournment

OFFICERS OF BOARD

Attendance Too Small to Pass Amendment Changing Meeting Time

The Water Users found it impossible to finish their work at the afternoon session and an adjourned meeting was held in the evening. The attendance was not as large as in the afternoon and owing to the small number of shares represented it was impossible to take action on the amendment to change the time of holding the regular annual meeting. The matter was laid over until the next meeting. The evening session was short and after it was found that the proposed amendment could not be considered the only motion acted on was by A. H. Naftzger, expressing the Association's appreciation of the officers and directors. The motion was carried by a unanimous vote. The meeting was adjourned until June 5 and it is the understanding that a farmers' institute be held at that time and the matter will be taken up with the State Agricultural Board at once. It is thought that the attendance at the adjourned meeting will be quite large as it will be to the interest of every member to attend the farmers' institute, and as the session is not a busy one the farmers will turn out in large numbers. An attempt will be made to have a profitable institute so as to get the people of this county more interested in the production of the various kinds of crops which can be grown successfully.

The new Board met Saturday night and at once proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. There was no contest for any of the offices and the following were elected: President, Alex Martin Jr.; vice president, Jacob Rusek; secretary, C. P. Chastain; treasurer, G. W. White; attorney, R. S. Smith.

Hanks-Caldwell

Relatives and friends of the groom in this city have been advised of the marriage of Mr. Jess Hanks to Miss Edith Caldwell at Roseburg on March 21st. The groom is well known in this city, it having been his home for many years. The bride is a popular young lady of Roseburg. They have taken up their home at Canyonville Oregon.
