Mayor Says He Will Recommend Large Sum for Next Year's Work

Supervising Engineer Henny, of the Reclamation Service, probably expressed himself more clearly before the Chamber of Commerce last evening, in regard to his attitude toward the Klamath Project, than he has at any time during his stay here. He said that he was very much interested in this particular project and was most anxious to make a recommendation for a large appropriation for next year's work. He said that when he first met this summer to determine what work to be undertaken next year he would probably be asked by the Chief Engineer, what would be the smallest amount of money the Klamath Project could get along with. He promised that his report would be that Klamath could not get along with a small amount but would need to have the largest amount possible. He further stated that he wanted the support and co-operation of the Chamber and the land owners under the project to secure a larger percentage of the money under the Upper Project. According to his statements the showing made by the land owners who were able to secure water last year, was not as favorable as it ought to have been, and the fact would have considerable influence before the department in determining future appropriations. However, Mr. Henny stated that if the land owners subscribed sufficient money in the Upper Project and made a showing where the ditch was already completed, he felt confident that he would be able to secure plenty of money to rush the work, but even if this showing was not made he was determined to do all in his power to get as large an appropriation as possible. Mr. Henny's remarks were most favorably received by the Chamber, as it was evident that he is disposed to favor this project and after his address he was most warmly thanked by president Dell and given the assurance that the Chamber as a body was ready to give any assistance he might suggest, and would further unite with the Water Users Association in urging the land owners to make a good showing this summer, so that there will be no further delay in the work.

Reward Increased

The reward for the capture of Ollie Hamilton, the Silver Lake murderer, has been nearly doubled in the past week. Lake County has added $1000 to the amount offered and the father of Mesner, whom it is thought Hamilton also murdered, has added $2000. This with the governments $4000 and Silver Lake's $425 makes a total reward of $7425.

The fact that Mesner's father has added this sum to the reward shows that it is quite generally believed that Hamilton is at least a double murderer.

Keno Items

L. O. Mills has sold his Keno property to Thos. Grubb.

John Hitchcock and W. T. Otey are moving to Odessa to run the sawmill at that place.

Sam Palgett, John Dyer and Mr. Jones went to Dorris last Sunday.

The county clerks office is a very busy place these days as there is always a rush and a jam to get out the election supplies. The county is so large that it takes a long time to deliver them to the various precincts and the sheriff is anxious to get started on the road.

WILL ADOPT NEW BY-LAWS

Organization Will Be More Effective

ATTENDANCE IS BIG

Chamber of Commerce Meeting Is Enthusiastic and Business Is Done

The Chamber of Commerce held a very enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening when the matter of reorganization was considered. The attendance was large and everyone present seemed desirous of doing something that would work good for Klamath County. To this end the Chamber is to be reorganized and a committee consisting of A. H. Naftager, R. H. Dunbar, Alex Martin, O. B. Gates and T. W. Stephens, was appointed to draft new by-laws. Under the old by-laws membership has been limited to individuals, which has been in a measure, responsible for a small attendance at some of the meetings, as usually business firms have but one representative in the Chamber and if he can not attend the meeting the firm is not represented. The new order of things will probably provide for firm membership so that several individuals may represent one membership in the organization.

The usual amount of time was devoted to a discussion of the advertising question. Several propositions were considered and a committee was appointed to design an envelope for the Chamber, and an effort will also be made to induce the business firms of the city to use this design.

E. P. Morgan and A. H. Naftager were appointed a committee on transportation. The Chamber will take it upon itself to improve the freight and passenger service into this city, and this matter will be taken up with the S. P. officials. Messrs. Naftager and Morgan will meet this afternoon to decide upon a method of procedure.

Supervising Engineer D. C. Henny and Mr. Heilman, of the reclamation service, attended the meeting and spoke briefly to the chamber. Their remarks were enthusiastically received.

The Chamber has taken on new life and indications are that it will be a power for good during the coming summer.

For Upper Lake points by launch call on C. P. Gregory & Son.
