EARLY RISING.

It is Not Good For Those Who Have to Work Hard All Day.
 There is no adequate support for the impression that the early morning hours are in any way more wholesome or healthy than later periods of the day. Except in summer time, they are apt to be damp, foggy, chilly and among the least desirable hours of daylight. It is quite true that during the summer there is a sense of exhilaration about being abroad in these early morning hours, but this evaporates with the dew and is apt to be succeeded by a corresponding depression and loss of working power later in the day. I have been observing my friends and patients for the past twenty years in this respect and am inclined to the opinion that not a little of the depression and nervousness which so commonly develop in hot weather is due to excessive exposure to light, from habits of early rising, inherited from agricultural ancestors, not counterbalanced by three to four hours' rest in darkened rooms in the middle of the day.
 Secondly, that the exhilaration experienced during the early morning hours is an expensive luxury, which has to be paid for later in the day. In fact, I have found that, as a general rule, to put it very roughly, the business or professional man who rises an hour before 7:30 or 8 o'clock goes to bed or loses his working power an hour and a half earlier in the evening. Each individual has in the beginning of his day about so much working power stored up in his brain and muscle cells. If he uses this up with great rapidity in the early morning hours he naturally exhausts his stock the sooner in the afternoon or evening.
 It is largely a matter of when a man wishes to be at his best. If his occupation is of such a character that he can clear off the brunt of his work in the early morning hours, then let him rise early. If, on the other hand, he requires full vigor and readiness of mind and body in the latter part of the day or at night, then he must rise later to get it. Even in pure muscle work it is false economy to work too long hours.--American Magazine.

Signs of Long Life.

In view of the diversified testimony of present day centenarians on the subject of longevity and its causes, it is interesting to get a little light on the subject from Queen Elizabeth's time.
 "Bacon took a deep interest in longevity and its earmarks," says a physician, "and Bacon's signs of long life and of short life are as true today as they ever were. You won't live long, Bacon pointed out, if you have soft, fine hair, a fine skin, quick growth, large head, early corpulence, short neck, small mouth, brittle and separated teeth and fat ears. Your life, barring accidents, will be very lengthy if you have slow growth, coarse hair, a rough skin, deep wrinkles in the forehead, firm flesh, a large mouth, wide nostrils, strong teeth set close together and a hard, grisly ear."

The Claw of the Devil.

In the middle ages people recognized witches and possessed persons by seeking on their bodies for what was called the claws of the devil. It was a more or less extensive part of the skin in which the subject was insensible to any touch or prick. The expert intru- sionist with this work would close the eyes of the subject and, armed with a sharp needle, prick here and there the different parts of the body. The sufferer was to answer with a cry to each prick, and the claw of the devil on a certain spot was recognized from the fact that he did not cry when that spot was examined.--From "The Major Symptoms of Hysteria," by Pierre Janet.

Frivolous Prayer.

In the memoirs of Countess de Boigne, who lived over a hundred years ago, appears the following: "I had a great speculative veneration for that youthful Louise de Conde, weeping for the crimes of her country at the foot of altars. I had formed a romantic idea of her, but it was necessary to avoid seeing the heroine. Common, vulgar and ignorant, she was middle class in her thoughts, in her sentiments, in her actions, words and person. One was tempted to pity God for being so constantly imperturbed by her. She called on him for help in all the most futile circumstances of her puerile existence. I have seen her offer up prayer to recover a ball of wool which had fallen under her chair."

A Nutmeg Revelation.

"Brush that white powder off the nutmegs before you begin to grate 'em," said the chef to the young apprentice.
 "But that's the bloom, ain't it?" re- monstrated the lad.
 "Bloom!" sneered the chef. "No, sir; it is oyster shell powder. The natives, as soon as they gather the nutmeg, roll it in a powder of ground oyster shells, and that protects it on its long voyage to market from the weevils. The weevils otherwise would eat it up. But the powder has served its turn now, so brush it off."--Exchange.

Before using a lemon for flavoring purposes it is a good plan to heat it by placing it on the lower shelf of the oven for a few moments. This has the effect of considerably increasing the amount of juice obtainable.
 A frying pan should not be scraped. Instead fill it with cold water to which a little soda has been added and let it stand for several hours.

An Interesting Item

The Klamath Falls Military Band needs a piano. Just a piano won't do, it must be a good one. To stand the rough usage of dance work and as a club-room instrument, and still be musical enough to meet the severe requirements of solo and vocal accompaniment work, it must be strictly high grade in every particular. Now we can't afford to pay the retail price of such an instrument, and after corresponding with several leading piano houses on the coast, ten per cent discount was the best I could get. Now I have been in the music business several years, both as a dealer and piano tuner, and I know something about the prices and values of pianos. I know that we can afford the highest grade instrument made if we can only get the benefit of wholesale prices. After considerable correspondence with manufacturers I finally have been fortunate enough to secure the agency for Klamath county for the Baldwin piano, and there isn't a better piano made than the Baldwin. It is necessary, however, for me to buy four pianos in order to get the benefit of the wholesale price.
 Now here's the point: I'm not going into the piano business, I've something else to do; but if there are four people in Klamath County who want a first grade piano at the price usually asked for a cheap stencil instrument, here is an opportunity you'll never see again in a lifetime. People don't usually sell pianos for fun, and ordinarily you'll pay the agent a profit of two hundred to five hundred dollars. I ask no profit what- ever and I shall sell only the four pianos necessary to secure the wholesale price. This is strictly a cash proposition. Manufacturers don't sell at wholesale on installments. Now if you know of any- one in Klamath County who is in a position to appreciate such an opportunity, you will confer a favor on the band by referring them to me.

 May Turn Black.
 Professor McMillan Brown, ethnologist, holds that the future Australian people will in all probability be black. The Polynesians, he said in a lecture at Sydney, came originally not from America, as has been supposed, but from Asia. They were whites and changed color, just as the future Australian may do as the centuries go on, at least in the tropical regions of the north. The violet rays of the sun will turn him black in course of time.
 Sorry He Spoke.
 "Really, Miss Primus, you ought to get married," remarked Wedderly. "You'll soon be in the spinster class if you don't hurry up and catch on."
 "Oh, don't worry about me, Mr. Wedderly," replied Miss Primus. "If I were as easy to please as your wife I would have been married long ago."--London Telegraph.
