Klamath Farmers and Stockmen Look Forward to the Institute

Discussions are that the farmers Institute will be largely attended. A large number of the farmers residing in the Klamath precinct were in the city today for election and most of them stated that they would make a special effort to attend the session. From all parts of the county come the reports that large delegations will be sent. The meeting of the Water Users' Association on Friday afternoon will be devoted largely to a discussion of matters pertaining to the best interests of the reclamation system. The amendment to the by-laws to change the time of holding the regular annual meeting will be the most important matter to come up for consideration as far as is known. However, other things of importance may come up and it will be well for every member of the association to be on hand. No regular program will be arranged for the institute before hand. The present plans provide for Dr. Whitcomb's illustrated lecture Friday night and the next day the program will be arranged to suit those who are to take part in it. There is every assurance that the institute will be a success and all that is needed is the full attendance of the farmers and stock raisers of this county in order to get a great deal of benefit from the meeting. The Klamath country is now in the experimental stage and the wisdom and knowledge of men of vast experience will prove beneficial in the development of the entire county.

Makle-Hughes

Mr. Albert Makle and Miss Katherine Hughes were united in marriage at Redland, California, on May 3rd. The bride is well known in this county where she taught school for a time. She has many friends in this county who extend congratulations and best wishes.

Market For Butter

Joe H. Driscoll was in the city Sunday on his way home from Sacramento where he went to make arrangements for the sale of Bonanza creamery butter. He said that he had no trouble in getting a market for all of the butter that the plant can turn out and hereafter regular shipments will be made. While at Sacramento he wired an order for all the butter that was on hand and it was at once sent on. The business of the creamery is still growing and several thousand pounds of butter will be exported every week.

Serve Free Lunch

A number of ladies interested in temperance served free lunch in the Court house square during the day and many of the voters partook of the refreshments. Some gained the impression that the lunch was being served by the Woman's Club of the Public Library, but they had no connection with the matter and it was entirely the doing of the ladies interested in the temperance movement.

Much Railroad Activity

All of the Dorris people who are in the city say there is much doing in railroad circles in their town. A start has been made to build the road over the Hole-in-the-Ground hill and for some distance out of Dorris rails and ties have already been laid. Material is being shipped into the new town for the further extension of the railroad and also for the telegraph line.

Work is still in progress on the "Shoo-Fly" grade and the deep cut at the top of the hill is causing considerable trouble as it is solid rock formation through which it is being made. It will be but a few more weeks until the rock work will be finished and then the road can be extended across the hill and the heavy machinery brought over for work on this side of the big hill.

The poles for the telegraph line are being set across the hill which has caused the well grounded belief that the line will be extended to this city long before the California Northeastern railroad is completed into Klamath Falls.

BOTH SIDES ACTIVE

Prohis and Anti-Prohis Hold Largely Attended Meetings

Survey is Completed

E. B. Henry is in the city from the Klamath Indian Reservation where he has completed the survey for the reclamation of approximately 80,000 acres of marsh land. He is now awaiting the arrival of one of the engineers in the employ of the Indian Department and as soon as he arrives the work will be turned over to him.

It is not known when the reclamation of this land will be undertaken, and it is very probable that nothing will be done until the allotments are completed and the land reverts back to the Government. The land when drained will be valuable for grazing and for meadow. The altitude is too high to make it valuable for agricultural purposes.

Mr. Henry will leave for Curry County as soon as he turns his reports and plans over to the federal engineer. He has several government surveying contracts in that section of the state.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Every seat in the large assembly hall at the High School was occupied yesterday morning, the occasion being the delivery of the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Geo. T. Pratt, of the Presbyterian church. Never was more good advice given to young men and women, who are about to enter upon the struggles of life, couched in fewer words than there was in the sermon delivered to the graduating class of this year. It was evident that the words of Rev. Pratt were sinking deep into the minds of the graduates and that all who heard his clear and concise remarks were impressed with what he was saying.

Special music was provided for the occasion and Miss Nickerson sang a solo in her usual charming voice.

Obituary

Mrs. Barbara Scholoser died Sunday morning in this city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Davenport, aged 77 years. She was a native of Germany and came to this country in 1874, settling in Minneapolis where she resided until last Fall when she came to this city to visit with her daughter. She was ill for several weeks before she died. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Catholic church of which she was a member.

K. of P. Attention

All members of the Knights of Pythias lodge should attend the meeting tonight as there is important business for consideration.

The few days preceding the election have been busy ones for the prohibitionists and for the anti-prohis. Both have been conducting largely attended meetings and have been mustering their forces for decisive encounter at the polls today. The struggle for supremacy did not stop at the meetings last night, but during the entire day the representatives of both sides have been at work and nearly every voter was reminded of the fact that the liquor question was one that was up for decision.

Saturday night at the court house was held a local option rally at which J. B. Mason, Judge Griffith, Alex. Martin, Jr., Rev. Geo. T. Pratt and Rev. Conklin delivered short addresses. The meeting was largely attended and the remarks of speakers seemed to be in accord with the opinions of the audience for every point that was made was heartily applauded. Sunday night a meeting of a similar nature was held at the Methodist church and a number of the representative citizens of the town addressed the large congregation that filled the church. It was a union service of all of the Protestant churches in the city and there was not a vacant seat.

Last night at the opera house, Rev. Cantrell, in one of his able lectures championed the cause of the saloonmen. The building was filled with an enthusiastic audience and frequently the pointed remarks by the speaker brought forth rounds of applause. The issue has been put before the people in a way that every intelligent voter has had an opportunity to form an opinion after giving the matter consideration and after hearing all of the arguments pro and con. The counting of the ballots will be the decision of the people.

Big Vote Cast

There are 761 registered voters in Linkville precinct and the indications throughout the day are that nearly all of the registered voters were out besides a number who failed to get their names on the registration books. Several men were kept busy during most of the day swearing in the votes. A line was formed when the polls opened this morning and it was maintained most of the day. D. H. Ward was the first man to cast his vote.

Mails on Boat

The mail will arrive tonight on the steamer Klamath, coming in for the first time by way of Dorris. It will be later in the evening when it arrives, and if the train should be late it will arrive here too late for evening distribution.

Flume Work Progressing

The Lost river flume in connection with the reclamation work is more than half completed. The flume is a trifle over a mile in length and the cement foundations have been built for fully two-thirds of it. The rock work on all of the piers is practically finished. This part of the work is being done by the Government direct. The construction of the flume itself is in the hands of the contractors, Campbell & Hoffman. They have the poles set for some distance and are making a good showing on the job.

The woman's club has established the reputation of giving something that is worth while, and this school gives an opportunity for first class instruction under an able teacher.

H. P. Galarneau and son Harry will leave Wednesday morning for Portland. Mr. Galarneau will attend the meeting of the Grand Masonic lodge and also a meeting of the grand Chapter of the Eastern Star. They will go on to Tacoma and Seattle for a few weeks visit.

For the best rig in town call at the Mammoth Stables. H. W. Straw, Proprietor.

Summer Scene on Upper Lake

The News On the Water Front

During the entire spring there has been much activity on the Upper Lake water front. Several of the steamers have been thoroughly overhauled and new machinery has been installed. The launches have been put in shape for the season, keeping the boat builders busy for several weeks.

The steamer White Clinda is still on the ways but will be launched in a few days. She has been painted and presents a neat appearance.

The Winema will remain on the ways for some time. The machinery has been overhauled and painting will begin in a few days.

The engines for the new steamer Mazama are now on the dock and will be installed this week. The machinery for this boat is among the best manufactured and the Mazama should develop considerable speed.

The little Hornet is making regular trips to Odessa, bringing down barges of lumber from the mill at that place. She is now the only Upper Lake steamer in commission.

Admiral Noeler has completed the launch, Red Rover, and will put it in the water in a few days. He says it is by far the fastest launch on the Klamath waters. The Admiral is also working on the plans for a large tug and has made arrangements for suitable water front for the construction of the craft.

Wants Crater Lake Job

The Sacramento Bee of May 28 contains the news item that J. H. Harris, of Pilot Hill, in Placer County, is a candidate for the position of superintendent of Crater Lake National Park. This position is now being ably filled by Superintendent W. F. Arant, who holds the position by virtue of appointment at the hands of the Secretary of Interior. If a change is to be made, nothing is known of it in this city.

Done With Pokegama

Capt. J. M. McIntire and E. M. Bubb arrived in the city this evening from Pokegama after closing up most of the business of the McIntire Transportation Company. Capt. McIntire will make his headquarters in this city and Mr. Bubb will be employed in the local office. Most of the business of this company will come via Dorris hereafter.

Mrs. E. R. Reames leaves Wednesday morning for Portland where she goes to attend a meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Reames is in line for the office of Grand Worthy Matron.
