DEATH VALLEY SALT.

Huge Deposits of Saline Rock in the Avawatz Mountains.

Slowly, but surely, inch by inch, in the face of drought and intense heat, man is solving the mysteries of Death valley, and one by one its hitherto unlocked treasure vaults are being thrown open to add to the wealth of the world, says the Los Angeles Times. There is gold in large and in small quantities throughout the length of the valley, particularly at Skiddoo and other neighboring camps in the Panamint; there is copper at Greenwater, enough borax to supply the entire world for many a year, and now it seems probable that the district will soon be known as a large producer of rock salt.

These salt deposits are found in the foothills of the Avawatz mountains, at the southern end of Death valley and within sixteen miles of the Tonopah and Tidewater railroad. There are four distinct bodies, known as the Death valley, King, Salt basin and Jumbo salt mines. The salt appears to lie in ledge form with well defined walls, particularly on the upper or hanging side. The deposits have been well known to prospectors for many years, but it was not until the completion of the railroad that they assumed any commercial value. Years ago some of the material was freighted to the Teocopa mine for the chlorination mill in use on the property when it was mined for its high surface values of silver.

The Death valley mine consists of eighty acres, and it is upon this ground that the larger part of the present development of the deposits has been done. The showing is 500 feet wide by 1,000 feet in length, the salt being covered with wash gravel and mud to a minimum depth of ten feet. Where the salt has been most exposed to the elements it has dissolved and mixed with the mud and gravel, forming an incrustation harder even than the rock salt. The development consists of numerous open cuts, tunnels and shafts, all penetrating the surface incrustation and showing pure salt in the faces. It is estimated that there are 250,000 tons of salt already exposed in this deposit. It is estimated that at the present time 5,000 tons of rock salt are imported into California from Liverpool and sells to jobbers at about $10 per ton.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Montreal has two scientists named Adams and Eve.

Signor Gatti-Casazza has signed the contract for his engagement as general director of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York.

Dr. Winfield S. Hall and wife of Chicago adopted three children of different parentage—the first time. It is said, that such a thing has been done in Chicago.

Daniel P. Jones of Lewes, Del., says he followed a ghost which led him to a hollow tree, supposed to be 150 years old, at the bottom of which was found a skull.

Among the aged couples in Somerset county, Me., are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bunker of Athens. Mr. Bunker is ninety years of age, and his wife is two years his senior.

Lord Cromer, whose book on "Modern Egypt" rounds out his life work in the interest of better government in that country, is sixty-seven years old. He retired from active work last May.

A daughter born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sykes of West Windsor, Vt., has eight grandparents, as the parents and grandparents of both Mr. and Mrs. Sykes are living.

Mrs. Lucy P. Proper of Pelham, N. H., aged seventy years; Mrs. C. M. Johnson of Abstead, N. H., aged sixty-two years, and her fourteen-year-old son, all born on the same day of the week, celebrated their birthdays together recently.

At a recent dinner which Congressman Gardner gave the Massachusetts delegation at his Washington home Mrs. Gardner remarked that the three Boston Democrats were all bachelors. "Oh," said Senator Lodge, her father, "that is to show their opposition to the president's policies."

There are not many men in the consular service of the United States who have traveled more extensively than J. Martin Miller, who recently resigned the consularship at Rheims, France, on the ground that the salary attached to the post was inadequate. Before entering the service Mr. Miller had a varied experience as a newspaper correspondent, and he has visited nearly every country in the world.

Plays and Players.

Henrietta Crossman is to make a series of revivals.

David Warfield is to have a new play next season.

Frank Daniels will have a new musical comedy next season.

Jerome K. Jerome and Clyde Fitch are both to write plays for Grace George.

Mrs. Fiske seems to have made a sensation among the critics with her Rebecca West in "Bismarck."

Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., is to star Bicket and Watson at the end of their present engagement in "The Follies of 1907."

A play of seminary life by Margaret Mayo, called "Commencement Days," is to be produced next season by John Cort.

It is reported that Nat C. Goodwin is again to turn his back upon the stage and devote his attention to his mining interests.

Modes of the Moment.

For linen suits which will hold first place among washable materials colored trimmings will be popular.

Instead of trying for a Lady Hamilton or a Romney effect, the latest fashion decree calls for a reproduction of the classic draperies of old Greece.

Skirts are longer. For all but the typical walking suits they are very long and sweeping, while the street suits have taken on another inch and just escape the ground.

Frocks of wash materials will be made up in the same semitailored style as rules other fabrics at present. If anything the skirts will be more elaborately trimmed, but always in such a way as to lose none of that semitailored appearance. — New York Post.

Financial Items.

The city of Montreal has entered the money market with a $5,000,000 forty year 4 per cent loan.

There are 6,699 national banks in the United States and some 11,000 state banks and trust companies.

The Canadian banks, at the request of the Dominion government, will assist in a plan to collect and deport American silver from that country.

New issues of stocks and bonds in Germany in 1907 amounted to only $400,000,000 as compared with $703,250,000 in 1906. Of these issues only $60,000,000 was industrial shares, which in 1906 amounted to $150,000,000.

Pith and Point.

A little less censure should be given the spider. Flies are so willing.

Some men claim to be free and independent when in reality they are only obstinate.

The man who can keep a secret may be wise, but he is not half as wise as the man who doesn't have any secrets to keep.

If a man quits smoking for a month and then begins again, does it prove that he could quit or that he couldn't? — Atchison Globe.
