KLAMATH FALLS, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 16, 1908

THE CORRUPT PRACTICE LAW

Voters of Oregon at the next election can not do anything but vote. People of Oregon at the same time can do nothing but watch the voters vote under pain of dire and diverse penalties.

The friend who invites his friend in to have a drink or a cigar will be guilty of the crime of treating and so will the man who gets the treat. Both will be subject to a penalty.

The corrupt practice act which the people of Oregon adopted on the first Monday in June is the cause of it all.

It is provided that all candidates for office in the state shall file typewritten statements and portrait cut with the secretary of state if the office is a state office or with the county clerk or the city auditor if the office is a county or a city one. Those opposing the candidates may also send written arguments setting out why the candidate should not be elected, provided that a copy of the statement is sent to the candidate. It is provided in the law that nothing of a slanderous or libelous nature should be printed.

It is made unlawful for any person or organization to ask candidates for any contribution of any kind. The candidates can not be asked to buy tickets to a ball or entertainment or to join any club. No corporation or stockholder of any corporation can contribute to the campaign fund of either party.

It is also made unlawful for any candidate, or person to wear badges or buttons near the polls on election day.

Any man who is caught trying to influence a vote on election day is liable to a fine of from $25 to $100 and for the second offense to imprisonment in the county jail.

All campaign literature must bear the name of the author and that of the printer who printed it.

It is provided that a candidate shall not have his name on the ballot unless he files his itemized statement of expenses a certain length of time before the election. Neither shall he be given his certificate of election unless he files his statement following the general election. It is also provided that any district attorney who fails to prosecute for violation of the law shall be subject to forfeiture of his office.

The main interest in the Republican convention being held in Chicago today is centered on the platform to be adopted. The Pacific coast delegates to the Republican convention will insist that a plank be put in the platform, pledging the party to increase the fortifications on the Pacific coast and build a greater navy.

Leaders of the party were notified of this demand and were given to understand that the subject is uppermost in the minds of the people of the Pacific coast states.

Senator Fulton, after laughingly denying the authenticity of the report that he will be a candidate for the vice-presidency said: "My first choice is Fairbanks. If he refuses my second choice is Dolliver; if he refuses my next choice is Crane. He hasn't refused and I believe Crane would carry every state east of Mississippi river."

Millionaire Balloonist Charles A. Coey with his professional balloonist will start from Chicago on July 4 on a balloon trip to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Coey has recently completed an 800 mile trip, during which all speed records were broken.
