KLAMATH FALLS, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 23, 1908

WIFE SHOULD HAVE HALF

Should a wife have an absolute right to one half of the community property after the death of her husband where she had assisted through years of hardship and toil in the accumulation of that property? State Senator S. C. Beach believes that she should and with that belief will introduce a bill in the next legislature seeking to change the existing law as it stands.

At present a wife has no protection under the law, or practically none. Senator Beach has been driven to the serious consideration of the subject by instances of this fact which have come under his observation. In one case a couple had grown old in Portland and were well known to the senator. For years they had struggled and saved until they had accumulated a goodly competence, and this was done in large part through the wise management and forethought of the wife.

The husband died and left a will which divided the property among his brothers and sisters, leaving the aged wife with a bare pittance. As a result of the injustice and the worry of it the woman lost her reason and is now confined in a California asylum.

Other instances perhaps not so pathetic, but still unjust, have been observed by the senator, and as a result he expects to introduce the bill and make a hard fight for it during the 1909 session of the legislature. For some reason the chief opposition to the bill comes from the lawyers of the state, many of them who urge the peculiar objection, for them, that the passage of the bill would cause much litigation. The senator, however, will make an effort to secure its passage and enactment into law.

A strange thing recently happened in Iowa. A plowman turned up a silver watch of old and costly pattern and after admiring it wound and set it, but despite repeated shaking the watch would not run. In all former cases of this character you may recall the watch has started running as slick as grease on a duck's back and was a good timepiece ever afterward.

When a boy begins to wash his neck and ears without being told to do so, you may depend upon it that he is in love for the first time.

Sometimes in after life a woman wonders why she didn't believe the man she married when he told her he was not worthy of her.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Klamath, Bertha R. Conner, Plaintiff vs Daniel R. Conner, Defendant.

To Daniel R. Conner the above named defendant: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 23 day of July 1908, being the last day of the time in the order of the publication of this summons, the first publication thereof being on the 11 day of June 1908; and if you fail so to appear and answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in the complaint herein to wit: For a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant; for the care and custody of Lorene J. Conner and the costs and disbursements of this suit; and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is served by publication thereof in the Evening Herald by order of the Honorable J. B. Griffith County Judge of Klamath County, Oregon, made, dated and filed in this suit at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on the 11 of June 1908. Which said order is required that summons in this suit be published once a week, for a period of six successive and consecutive weeks from the 11 of June 1908.

H. W. KESLER, Attorney for Plaintiff
