

FOURTH AT AGENCY

Extensive Preparations Being Made for a Grand Time

WHITE AND INDIAN CELEBRATION

Baseball Game Between Chemawa and Klamath Teams. Horse Races, War Dances and Annual Ball Are Among the Principal Features

The great Fourth of July celebration in Klamath County will be held on the Indian reservation near Klamath Agency, according to the arrangements now being made. The plans provide for a joint celebration by whites and Indians at Klamath Council ground near old Fort Klamath.

One of the greatest features of the day will be the baseball game now being arranged between the Indian team of Chemawa and the Klamath schools. This will be followed by horse racing and other field sports. The new steamer Mazama will be in commission and other boats will assist in conveying the visitors from this city to the grounds, and it is predicted that a big delegation from all over the country will spend the Fourth at the Agency.

Camping grounds have been arranged for the white visitors and every arrangement made for their convenience and enjoyment. The Council ground is one of the beauty spots of Klamath county, and it is an ideal spot for picnics, with its abundance of cool water, shade and green grass. Parties attending from the outside will take their lunches. The program is as follows:

July 3-8 to 9 A. M.—Indian religious exercises under direction of Rev. Grafius, missionary.

9 to 12—Miscellaneous sports, followed by dinner. In the afternoon there will be a concert held by the Klamath School Band; ball game by local nines; horse racing for prizes, no betting. In the evening there will be an exhibition of Paiute gambling, and a war dance in costume.

July 4-8 A. M.—Indian council to arrange exercises. 10-Horseback parade in war regalia, representatives of several tribes participating. 11-Grand march from old Fort Klamath to Council ground, followed by patriotic exercises at the grave. Music by Indian band and glee clubs. Declaration read by an Indian. Chaplain, Rev. Hiram White, allotting agent. Oration by Captain O. C. Applegate, ex-U. S. Indian agent and Superintendent. All exercises under the direction of Hon. Horace G. Wilson, superintendent of Klamath Agency. In the afternoon there will be a base ball game between Chemawa and Klamath school nines, followed by horse racing and other field sports. In the evening Indian songs, followed by annual Fourth of July ball.

On Sunday July 5, religious services will be conducted at the ground by the missionary and his Indian assistants. The sixth will be devoted to general field sports.

The Arant case is still occupying the attention of the Court today. A vast number of witnesses have been examined by the defense. The prosecutor will also have a good many witnesses in rebuttal. The case will probably be concluded tomorrow, as it is believed that all the testimony will be in and the arguments submitted not later than the early afternoon.

Man's Skull is Broken By Falling from Ladder

Edward Harris who was brought to town from Long Lake last evening with a broken skull, died shortly after midnight. Harris, who was 27 years of age, was working with two other men in stringing a private telephone line for J. J. Whitcomb from his place to this city and connecting with the Long Lake saw mill.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while he was standing on a ladder attaching a wire to a tree, he fell and struck on his head in the hard road. His two companions at once brought him to town where he was examined by Dr. Hamilton. It was found that his skull was fractured at the base. He remained unconscious and died at about 2:30 this morning.

The deceased has only one brother, whose whereabouts are unknown. His body will be buried in the Klamath Falls cemetery.

Saloons Can Run Until After the Fourth of July

Writ of Review is Granted the Saloonmen and Order is issued Restraining County Court from Enforcing Its Order Closing the Saloons Until after Hearing.

The saloons of Klamath County will have the privilege of doing business until after the Fourth of July, at least, according to the order of Judge Benson, granting the writ of review in the local option case. The case has been set for hearing on July 6 and the order is practically an injunction restraining the county court from enforcing its order for the closing of saloons on July 1st. It is expected that by that time the Circuit Court will have disposed of all of the cases on the docket, and the hearing of the local option case will undoubtedly attract a great deal of attention throughout the county.

This short respite will give the saloons a little more time to dispose of their surplus stock, even if the saloonmen finally lose, but it will cost each of them an extra $25 for the privilege. The fiscal year closes on July 1st, and it will be necessary for the saloons to pay the state $25 for state license. Most of them, however, believe that they can at least get this money back during these few days of business.

Woman's Club Reception

The Woman's Club gave a reception last evening in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. L. C. Rutenic, and the new president, Miss Laurinda S. Ober. A musical program was rendered by the club members and visitors, and a musical contest engaged in. At the close of the evening a dainty luncheon was served.

AFTER 150 MEMBERS

Chamber of Commerce Making Effort to Expand

THE FAMOUS BOOSTER INVITED

If the Chamber is Successful in Getting Sufficient Support From the Citizens an Effort Will be Made to Induce Tom Richardson to Come

An effort will be made to get Tom Richardson, of the Portland Commercial Club, to visit Klamath Falls this summer, and imbue the minds of the people of this city with some of his enthusiasm. The Chamber of Commerce has taken the matter up and has been encouraged by promises of support from the business men.

Secretary Dunbar states that since he mentioned the matter he has received about ten new applications for membership and others of the committee have also received a large number. It is the hope of the Directors of the Chamber to take in 150 new members and with this showing it is believed that Mr. Richardson will consent to come and assist in a big celebration.

Every man from Klamath Falls who visits Portland and becomes acquainted with the work being done by the business men of that city, returns home full of enthusiasm and with a desire to help in the good work here. It is only by going on the outside and seeing what other towns and communities are doing that the people here realize the opportunities they are wasting in securing settlers for our farming district. Other localities with less than one-third the advantages of Klamath county are spending twice as much money and doing twice as much work in the advertising line.

Tom Richardson is reported as saying, that Klamath Falls and Klamath county has twice the natural advantages to offer of any county in the state of Oregon. "Why, he says, "you have your beautiful city, your rich valleys, your lakes, timber, scenery, fishing, hunting and hundreds of inducements which no other section has. What more do you want? You have the longest main street or any city in the state, but the trouble with your people is that they do not work together."

The people here are beginning to realize that they have the best country on the coast, but they are anxious to get Mr. Richardson to come here and tell them how to pull together in order to build up the country. In talking with the business men of this city you will hear them remark that if the farms were only settled up what a great thing it would be for business, but they will blame this or that man for knocking the country and discouraging homeseekers, and so refuse to do anything themselves. It is believed that a man like Mr. Richardson would be able to start the people on the right plan of work, and once started right their is no doubt as to the result.

Fulton May Get Cabinet Position

Senator Chas. W. Fulton, of Oregon, may get a place in Taft's cabinet, in case the republican candidate is elected president. The Washington Post in speculating on prospective cabinet changes says:

"Senator Fulton has been a consistent Taft boomer, and the secretary likes him. The Pacific coast will have a seat somewhere around the cabinet table, and the chance for Senator Fulton for appointment as Attorney General or Secretary of Labor and Commerce are as good as any man who has been named."

Upper Lake Notes

The steamer, Eagle, Captain Corbett, arrived in port after a ten days cruise on the big lake. The Eagle circumscribed the entire shore and traveled over two hundred miles. Capt. Corbett says the trip was like a romance and that such a cruise is worth much time and preparation, and one long to be remembered. It is unfortunate that the Eagle is not in commission for the general public as she is of very light draft and can almost navigate the dows, and is well adapted for the shallow inlets and creeks of Great Klamath Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyncoop and Miss Wyncoop, who have been in Klamath Falls for several months past, leave in a few days for their home in Traverse City, Mich. Mr. Wyncoop will dispose of his extensive holdings there and return to the coast to settle.

If you order your clothes at the K. K. K. store, you'll get a fit and exactly what you want.

H. G. Wilson, superintendent of the Klamath Indian Agency, is in the city today from the reservation.
