President Roosevelt May
Hunt in Klamath Mountains

Klamath Falls, Oregon, Tuesday, July 28, 1908.

MUST OBSERVE LAWS

Land Office Renders Decisions

Adverse to Settlers

COMMUTATION PROOFS REJECTED

Mere Residing on Claim Is Not

Completing with Homestead

Laws—Lands Must Be Cultivated

and Substantial

Improvements Made on Same

---

The evening herald.

Page 3, Center.

Editors are Coming
Boosters Arrive for Another
Excursion to Klamath

ENTERTAIN WRITERS

of picturesque

press association of state is desiring of visiting this section and chamber of commerce is already planning side trips for visitors.

Through the efforts of the Klamath Boosters, who recently visited Klamath county, it is to be expected that the county will be visited by the Oregon Press Association. The time for the excavation has not been set, but it will probably be the latter part of August.

On this excursion, if present indications hold good, there will be at least one hundred of the most important journalists of the state of Oregon, J. D. Delphine, the editor of the morning Oregonian, published in Portland, has been a regular visitor to the county. He is the president of the Press Association and will do everything to get a large number of the reporters to visit the scenic spots.
The local Portland papers have all agreed to send representatives and among the correspondents will be the best literary men of the state.
The excursion will be of great value to this section from a publicity standpoint. It is held that the popularity of the Klamath county will go to all sections of the United States.

Arrangements for the excursion are making progress. Numerous companies of Boosters have taken up the matter of raising up 750. The colony is being set up in the park for the entertainment of the excursionists after their arrival here.

The plan is to have them remain in the county about ten days. The trip will be to Crater Lake, to the remains of the Upper Klamath and to most of the other fishing places. It is also possible to take the excursion through the agricultural districts of this section so that they may be able to observe the novelties of this great valley.

This excursion will be one of the most profitable that this country ever had and the Chamber of Commerce of Klamath is most interested in the success of the few days to come. In the meantime soon as possible.

Thas is What's That?

You Want a new Suit
Then don't fail to look at our endless line of the latest Shadow and Colors in the Latest Men's Suits

in the Store. The Perfect Garment for every change of dress.

Full Line of "Big Thighed" and
"Regular" Hata.

Walk-Over Shoes.

The Best Place
To Trade....

K.K. Store.