THE USE OF ASPHALT.

The long drawn-out and somewhat interesting controversy between the in another. They feel the importance United States and Venezuella, in of a successful race and do not take which the great Trinidad asphalt conperhaps created the impression that a little worse than the Chinese. The this country is wholly dependent on the famous bitumen lake for its supply of asphalt.

It is true tost we buy abroad large quantities of this paving material, and that more than half of the imports now come from the Island of Trinidad, but our own production greatly exceeds the total imports, and although the increase in our consumption of the material is rapid the growth of the proportion of home production over importations is even more marked.

Although asphalt is used chiefly in street paving, it is also applied to Saturday, (and from the 10th to the many other purposes, such as for 26th day of December and during waterproofing metals, papers and fabrics, for preserving wood, in briquetting, and in concrete construc-

JAPS AND CHINESE.

San Francisco, and in fact nearly all of California, has a race problem. The Chinese and Japanese are very numerous on the coast and they have 27-2wk proved a serious and at times dangerous element. As between the two races the Chinese are best liked. The Japs are heartily detested. The people say that the Japs will lie and heat and are not to be trusted in a business way. The Japs are ambitious to become business men and have taken possession of one of the finest residence districts in the city. They did this after the fire. A few citisens who thought their residences would never be worth anything again were glad to lease them to the Japanese. Then when it was found that the city was to be rebuilt and resume its former importance the people who things too numerous to mention. lived near the Japanese rented their ses to other Japanese because they did not want to live next to the Jape. One after another of the old 28-1wk residents moved out on this account

Besides, they feel that they belong to one of the first nations of the earth. Every Japanese knows what Japan has accomplished in the last few years. They all know that Japan has beaten China in one war and Russia kindly to the idea which prevails on has figured prominently, has here that they are no better and even people of the Pacific Coast are not disposed to show any difference between the men of Mongolian blood. They do not like the signs of equality which the Japs show and they want to keep the Japs on the same plane as the Chinese.
